Cameras at War John Wade, 2020-07-30 A comprehensive history of the development and use of cameras in recording British military conflicts from the 1850s to the 1950s Books about war and the pictures that came out of conflict usually concentrate on the picture content But behind every picture there is a camera and that s what this book is about Profusely illustrated throughout with pictures of the cameras rather than the pictures they took it looks at one hundred years of conflict from the Crimean War to the Korean War It begins in the days when a photographer needed to be more of a scientist than an artist such were the difficulties of shooting and processing any photograph It ends with the cameras whose compact dimensions versatility and ease of use meant that photographers could largely forget the science and concentrate on the art Some cameras simply recorded events Others defined and changed the way those events proceeded These were the cameras that went to war and this is their story Praise for Cameras at War An amazing collection of superb photographs beginning with some from the Crimean War coupled with a brilliant narrative that emphasizes the use of photography to record conflict Where would we be without such evidentiary mementoes Books Monthly UK Frank Hurley: A Photographer's Life Alasdair McGregor, 2019-02-01 Photographer filmmaker writer adventurer Controversial passionate audacious Frank Hurley was an extraordinary Australian possibly most famous for his Antarctic photographs captured alongside expeditioners Sir Douglas Mawson and Sir Ernest Shackleton From the early twentieth century until his death in 1962 Hurley created a stunning visual archive that chronicled the major events of the twentieth century and Australia s achievements both home and overseas This book and the Hurley Collection in the National Library of Australia make clear this outstanding contribution and the lengths to which the man would go in order to convey the gravity of events For Hurley image making and exploration went hand in hand and he sought out experiences as a pioneer documentary film maker official photographer
