How to Be a Film Critic in Five Easy Lessons Christopher K. Brooks,2019-12-02 How to Be a Film Critic in Five Easy Lessons addresses the serious matter of the increasing gap between the published opinions of professional film critics and the reception of popular film by traditional movie goers especially millennial movie fans Recent reactions to the low grades emanating from Rotten Tomatoes the iconic film review aggregation site have inspired various constituencies to call for significant changes including some major studio CEOs some actors and the readers of reviews themselves A new generation and breed of film critics is needed not raised to please baby boomers or Generation X movie fans but younger viewers who make up 30% of ticket buyers This study examines all this and offers five categories of film reviewers plying their trade as models of consistency New critics have to start somewhere most often in college film classes and deciding what type of critic one wants to be begins here The Spectral West Keith McDonald,Wayne Johnson,2025-07-08 This book considers the presence of the supernatural and Gothic elements of the Western on screen These dark and sinister undertones often exist in Western narratives to draw attention to the ever present issue of death and its haunting resonance which characters encounter This book examines this through key historic moments in Western film and its contemporary incarnations The book detects imposing correlations in themes and currents between the Gothic and the Western relating to existential crisis and a loss of faith in ideologies and institutions These themes represent the tensions between the old and the new the deranged insistence on civility and order in a chaotic landscape disillusionment and the shattering of faith in the natural order and even nature and order themselves The Western just like the Gothic tale reminds us that new frontiers are mired in the past and optimism and survival are hunted down and haunted by guilt ridden past and passed anxieties and traumas
