Moments & Movements Betina Hsieh, Roland Sintos Coloma, 2025-04-21

Moments P 12 teachers and leaders and community educators and activists Using the framing of Critical Asian American Studies the chapters in this volume emphasize criticality as central to the work of educators committed to more just futures. The plus symbol in Asian American highlights the volume's efforts at diverse inclusion and openness to various groups under a broad umbrella geographic category including voices of various Pasifika, Arab, and Middle Eastern communities without eliding their distinct histories, cultures, politics, and experiences or erasing the tensions within and across the broader category of Asian American studies. The book is organized thematically into four sections that reflect key moments in an ongoing movement. This organization acknowledges that readers may be at different points in their journeys towards developing more critical perspectives or knowledge of Asian American, Arab, Middle Eastern, American, and Pasifika peoples' experiences in education. The first section, The Moment We Begin, focuses on foundational beginnings, telling stories of how the authors made important first steps in creating the change they wished to see in their educational spheres. The second section, Building an Inclusive Movement, examines how educators sustain and deepen their work within and outside of classrooms. The third section, Extending the Movement, then looks at Critical Asian American Studies outside of classrooms and schools by attending to educational leadership, families, and teacher identities, policy arenas, and educational, cultural, and community activism. Finally, in the fourth section, Envisioning New Worlds, chapters attend to what justice-focused future-oriented movements might look like for Critical Asian American Studies. All too often, critical community-grounded work can feel daunting. This collection pushes beyond prescribed borders that separate our communities and separate us into our own educational spheres, e.g., P 12, higher education, teacher education, and roles: professor, teacher, principal, student. As one of the few edited collections with such diverse perspectives, this collection provides multiple paths forward in Asian American, Arab, Middle Eastern, American, and Pasifika Studies, inspiring with its counterstories of struggle and success and challenges readers to consider their own next steps. Perfect for courses such as Asian Americans in Education, Critical Studies in Education, Multicultural Education, Sociocultural Foundations in Education, Ethnic Studies, Asian American Studies, Social Justice in Education, Critical Pedagogy, and Education, Urban Education, Race, Ethnicity, and Education, Introduction to Education, School and Society.

White Lens on Brown Skin Matthew B. Locey, 2023-02-21 From the earliest accounts of contact with Europeans, Polynesians have been perceived as sensual and sexual beings. By the late 1800s, publications, lectures, and stage plays about the Pacific became popular across Europe and often contained exotic and erotic components. This book details the fusion of truth and fiction in the representation of Pacific Islanders, focusing on the sexualization of Polynesians in American cinema and other forms of mass communications and commercial entertainment With messaging almost subliminal to American audiences the Hollywood media machine produced hundreds of tropical film titles with images of revealing grass skirts scanty sarongs female toplessness and glistening exposed male pectorals This critical filmography demonstrates how the concept of sex sells especially when applied on a large scale shaped American social views on Polynesian people and their culture Chapters document this phenomenon and an annotated filmography of sexualized tropes and several appendices conclude the book including a glossary of Polynesian terms and a film index Booking Hawaii Five-O Karen

Wilcox,1997-10-01 Hawaii s sugar industry enjoyed great success for most of the 20th century and its influence was felt across a broad spectrum economics politics the environment and society This success was made possible in part through the liberal use of Hawaii s natural resources Chief among these was water which was needed in enormous quantities to grow and process sugarcane Between 1856 and 1920 sugar planters built miles of ditches diverting water from almost every watershed in Hawaii Ditch is a humble term for these great waterways By 1920 ditches tunnels and flumes were diverting over 800 million gallons a day from streams and mountains to the canefields and their mills Sugar Water chronicles the building of Hawaii s ditches the men who conceived engineered and constructed them and the sugar plantations and water companies that ran them It explains how traditional Hawaiian water rights and practices were affected by Western ways and how sugar economics transformed Hawaii from an insular agrarian and debt ridden society into one of the most cosmopolitan and prosperous in the Pacific

Hawai'i's White Tern Susan Scott,2018-11-15 White Terns are native throughout the world s tropics and subtropics where they breed almost exclusively on remote islands that are free of predators like cats dogs rats and mongooses Historically this was also true in Hawai i but in 1961 a pair of White Terns laid an egg and raised a chick near Hanauma Bay Since then their numbers in the city of Honolulu have steadily increased and in 2007 the White Tern also known by its Hawaiian name Manu o K was designated the official bird of the City and County of Honolulu Other native seabirds nest on O ahu and its nearby islands but the graceful White Tern is the only species known to lay its eggs in the city

s nonnative trees on window ledges and on other man made structures making Honolulu unique among world cities People who live in apartment buildings and work in office towers can watch parents brooding eggs and feeding chicks An energetic fishing bird the Manu o K can fly far from land in its search for fish and squid Sailors on traditional voyaging canoes keep a close eye on them as the sun starts to go down the birds head home effectively providing the bearing of nearby islands Today White Terns are a common sight in Honolulu from downtown parks to Nu uanu and M noa valleys to bustling Waik k and the photogenic birds are gaining in popularity as their range increases In bringing together data about White Terns from here and abroad marine biologist Susan Scott has crafted a reliable informative resource filled with remarkable photographs for anyone curious about Manu o K Honolulu s official bird

Music, Lapita, and the Problem of Polynesian Origins Mervyn McLean, 2014-01-01 For more than twenty years the standard view among anthropologists has been that Polynesians evolved from a group of settlers known as Lapita people whose characteristically dentate stamped pottery has been found on numerous mostly Melanesian sites and who entered Fiji more than 3000 years ago from a starting point in the Bismarck Archipelago An alternative view that champions Micronesia as a primary area of origin for Polynesians has been in limbo as a result of the prevailing theory but is reappraised in the present book and found once again to be in contention The book takes an historical view of theories of origin and provides some account of methodologies used by scholarly disciplines which have been brought to bear on the subject including evidence from music and dance which forms the core of the book

Food Stories T. Jameson Brewer, Cleveland Hayes, 2025-03-10 Food Stories Navigating the Academy with Cultural Lessons from the Kitchen is the first volume in the series Culinary Canvas A Series on Integrating the Arts and Food into Higher Education The purpose of the series is to explore the innovative integration of arts and food into higher education Each volume aims to inspire a paradigm shift in academia advocating for a more holistic creative and inclusive approach to learning teaching researching serving and existing in the academy In the present volume Food Stories makes the case that food and the culture surrounding food is a closely held and powerful reality that shapes who we are as individuals as members of varied communities and invariably informs who we are as educators and researchers This book gives space for the authors to explore not only the impact that food and culture have had and continue to have on them as individuals how that culture and experiences impact them as members of the academy in teaching research and service but also in providing some guidance to graduate students and junior faculty In effect chapters explore navigating academic work teaching research and service through the lens of food and the transferable lessons that can be gleaned from our grandmothers mothers fathers and our own kitchens It is often the case that higher education fosters both imposter syndrome and a workaholic disposition that can be detrimental to teaching and research What this book does then is to not only explore the ways in which what may seem as non academic work such as cooking a meal can have on our work life balance but also how to incorporate the very lessons of food into who we are as educators how we teach and how we can approach the work we do more broadly Through carefully curated chapters this text presents a wide array of perspectives across food and cultural regions as well as imparting insights from the academy from authors spanning the spectrum of the career It is an important book full of valuable lessons for graduate students faculty and teachers who wish to use its content in their classrooms Perfect for courses such as Cultural Studies Culturally Responsive Pedagogy
