The Appalachian Way in Coal Country Lois Walker West,2022-11-03 Living in a home with no electricity no indoor plumbing and an outhouse for a bathroom is a few of the true inconveniences experienced by the author as a child Her parents had lived in Kentucky long before she was born Her ancestors found their way into the Kentucky mountains from Scotland and Ireland by way of England in search of a better life The search ended when they reached the southeastern Kentucky mountains Land in that area was most likely available through land grants In the early 1930s the father inherited a parcel of the land that was once owned by the great grandfather These twenty acres or more provided the family a way to survive in this remote area The natural wooded area changed drastically when coal was found in that area of Kentucky A large part of the grandfather s land was leased to a coal mining company The development of coal mining communities covered many acres of the land This was when Allais Kentucky was added to the map After many years of working underground in a coal mine the father was diagnosed with a form of leukemia in the late 1940s He was blessed with relatives and friends in Allais when they donated the blood he needed to live He prayed to God to keep him alive until all his children were on their own God chose to take him in a car accident the day his last child was getting her marriage license The author s memories of her happy childhood are true experiences and her love of Kentucky will remain and be passed on to all her present and future generations The Big Book of Teen Reading Lists Nancy J. Diversity Through Novels and Picture Books goes beyond the usual multicultural lists and looks at the wide expanse of the diversity of cultures and lifestyles impacting children's lives in America today and identifies good books to have in library collections for them to read. Included are annotated titles with discussion questions from all of the identified cultures and subcultures and annotated teacher/librarian resources print and Web based as well as an excellent list of topical annotated journal articles. Grades 4-8. Knowles and Smith examine current research on diversity and multiculturalism. They move away from the traditional aspects of multicultural education: food, fashion, folktales, festivals, and famous people to a focus on novels and picture books and realistic fiction to show children with diversity issues that there are others in similar positions. The issue of authenticity, whether the author of the book should be of that culture or merely familiar with the culture, is discussed. Topics include Ethnicities: Asian, Latino, Hispanic, African, Black, Native American, White, European, Bi, Multiracial. Exceptionalities: Ageism, Socioeconomic Status, Sexual Orientation, Gender, and Religion. The authors provide this valuable resource for libraries, schools, and communities that wish to utilize literature to help diverse students walk in the shoes of others and to match books to children and young adults to heighten understanding and acceptance. Grades 4-8.

Conversations with Jay Parini Michael Lackey, 2014-06-27 Jay Parini b. 1948 is best known for his novel about Leo Tolstoy's last year, The Last Station, which has been translated into more than twenty-five languages and made into a Hollywood film. But he has also published numerous volumes of poetry, biographies of William Faulkner, Robert Frost, and John Steinbeck, novels, and literary and cultural criticism. This book contains the most important interviews with the former Guggenheim fellow, former Fowler Hamilton Fellow at Christ Church, Oxford, and former fellow of the Institute for Advanced Studies at the University of London. Parini's work is valuable not just because of its high quality and intellectual range. Parini's life and writings often seem like a seminar table with friends gathered talking and trading stories. He has openly written poems in conversation with writers he knew personally: Robert Penn Warren, Gore Vidal, Jorge Luis Borges, and others. He has in his own life kept an ongoing conversation with many literary friends over the years: Alastair Reid, Seamus Heaney, Anne Stevenson, Ann Beattie, Julia Alvarez, Peter Ackroyd, A. N. Wilson, and countless others. These interviews offer a more comprehensive understanding of Parini's work as a poet, scholar, public intellectual, literary critic, intellectual historian, biographer, novelist, and biographical novelist. More importantly, these interviews will contribute to our understanding of the history of ideas, the condition of knowledge, and the state of literature, all of which Parini has played an important role in shaping.

Children's Book Award Handbook Diana F. Marks, 2006-03-30 Diana Marks looks at children's and young adult book awards in depth. The history, award criteria, and a biography of the person behind each of the well-known awards is included. Also of interest are lists of the winners in each category, teaching and exploration activities, reproducible teaching aides, and a timeline of events leading up to the establishment of the award. Information about well-known awards is accompanied by information on the lesser-known Pura Belpré, Jane Addams, etc. Information is formatted in quick, easy-to-read tables and charts suitable for classroom duplication Although some of this information is available online this is a one stop handbook that contains lesser known awards and offers activities for enriching the study of each award whether well known or not Grades K 8     As Goes Bethlehem Jill A.
