Operating Under High-Risk Conditions in Temporary Organizations Matthijs Moorkamp, 2018-11-13 Organizations increasingly use temporary designs Many temporary organizations are assembled by mixing and matching building blocks from static bureaucratic parent organizations into a temporary configuration At the same time such mixed and matched temporary organizations often operate under difficult and dangerous circumstances During operations these temporary organizations can experience numerous internal problems ranging from friendly fire in a military context to budget and time issues in construction projects and problematic coordination in a crisis management context This book develops insight into the relationship between a mixing and matching temporary design strategy and operational problems To so do military and crisis management contexts are systematically studied from a sociotechnical design perspective that emphasizes self organization to develop organizational controllability Operating Under High Risk Conditions in Temporary Organizations demonstrates that a mixing and matching design strategy can be related to system failure Furthermore it is shown that a process of self design emerged in which operators attempted to create ad hoc networks for meaningful safe and controllable operations The analyses result in a model that shows mechanisms between characteristics of organizational design and controllability of operations Not only does this model have relevance to the military and crisis management contexts relevance is also demonstrated for a broader family of temporary organizations and application of sociotechnical network design theory Families in Business Kathleen Randerson, Hermann Frank, Clay Dibrell, Esra Memili, 2022-11-28 This book offers a contemporary understanding of families in business and serves as a springboard for ongoing evolution of families their composition transformations and activities The first chapter in this volume highlights the different approaches to family and concludes that identifying and understanding the entity family in business is the cornerstone to understanding behaviours of family businesses The concept of family in business as a socially constructed entity allows for not only a broader scope of the concept to include individuals who share a faith chapter 2 but also multi generational families and chosen families Narratives or stories are means for families in business to mark the boundary of the family in business chapter 3 because not all members of the family are necessarily members of the family in business Families and their businesses influence each other chapter 4 and engender the family influence on the firm familiness and firm influence of the family enterpriseness The last two chapters are dedicated to transgenerational family businesses with a focus on learning between generations chapter 5 highlights the importance of unlearning to learn new knowledge and different ways of conducting business and the final chapter focuses on what knowledge is actually transferred relative to initial plans The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Entrepreneurship Regional Development Organizational Behaviour and the Physical Environment Oluremi B.

A World Scientific Encyclopedia Of Business Storytelling, Set 1: Corporate And Business Strategies Of Business Storytelling (A 5-volume Set) , 2023-08-17 This set of multi reference works is meant to be read together as the five volumes interlace one another like the laces of a shoe in the famous painting by Vincent van Gogh Who will wear the shoes is a question long debated in art history and philosophy If we take these five volumes from different points of view on the theory and practice of business storytelling then we have a crisscrossing a new and impressive dialogue for the reader This set is presented as a new way to lace up the laces of business storytelling Volume 1 aims to recount narratives in a variety of ways so that the precepts of entrepreneurial storytelling can be made accessible to a variety of audiences academic practitioner student and community member Entrepreneurship has a long history and tradition but there are disputed ways of doing business storytelling in entrepreneurship that the next four volumes articulate Volume 2 provides insights into stories fostering the idea of business and not necessarily business itself It focuses specifically on history contributing to the current debates within management and organizational history around the idea of the historic turn It reflects on the idea of business and beyond could there be more to history and business storytelling than what has previously been accepted in the field This book sets out to explore a diverse array of alternative modes and multiple ways of storying organizations The editors intentionally sought to involve an international network of authors with diverse storytelling accounts of history as a way of helping build out this new storytelling paradigm in a diverse and inclusive ethic As a result this volume showcases a broad spectrum of critical storytelling from geographically diverse authors working in universities small businesses and public service throughout Brazil Canada Finland the United Kingdom and the United States To reflect these dynamics and for the stories in this volume to fit together chapters were organized into three themes stories of processing history tales of history as method and narratives of history through a business opportunity Volume 3 features stories that reflect the exacerbated inequalities of race gender and income across the world These inequalities and power relations remain continuously contested particularly in these trying times despite being captive to a particular economic ideology built on the premise of exploitation and subjugation The stories told in this volume tell against the orthodoxy the colonizer and the seemingly powerful They are organized as stories of resistance emancipation and transformation They invite us to rethink the multiple ways to restructure power relations between the colonizer and the colonized and open up spaces for the marginalized underprivileged voices Volume 4 is designed to create a new business storytelling paradigm that critically approaches business narratives that have historically privileged a corporate agenda It explores the various ways that images of the other in business are developed presented and accounted for through powerful and dominant narratives The stories in this volume collectively help readers to understand resist and provide strategies for change through various analyses of how business narratives come to develop get written are legitimized are challenged and get changed over time Volume 5 brings together the practices specific to the socioeconomic approach to management SEAM SEAM is a method of change management developed through research interventions carried out in more than 2 000 companies and organizations since 1975 This method is systemic it considers the whole company and tends to simultaneously increase social and economic performance by focusing mainly on the development of human skills and behaviors making it possible to reduce dysfunctions and recycle hidden costs into added value

Creativity in Research Nicola Ulibarri, Amanda E. Cravens, Anja Svetina Nabergoj, Adam Royalty, 2019-08 Provides concrete guidance grounded in scientific literature for researchers to build creative confidence in their work

The People's Hotel Katherine Sobering, 2022-08-08 In 2001 Argentina experienced a massive economic crisis businesses went bankrupt unemployment spiked and nearly half the population fell below the poverty line In the midst of the crisis Buenos Aires's iconic twenty story Hotel Bauen quietly closed its doors forcing longtime hospitality workers out of their jobs Rather than leaving the luxury hotel vacant a group of former employees occupied the property and kept it open In The People's Hotel Katherine Sobering recounts the history of the Hotel Bauen detailing its transformation from a privately owned business into a worker cooperative one where decisions were made democratically jobs were rotated and all members were paid equally Combining ethnographic and archival research with her own experiences as a volunteer worker at the hotel Sobering examines how the Bauen Cooperative grew and against all odds successfully kept the hotel open for nearly two decades Highlighting successes and innovations alongside the many challenges that these workers faced Sobering presents a vivid portrait of efforts to address inequality and reorganize work in a capitalist economy

Single Mothers in Thailand Herbarry Cheung, 2024-09-09 This book investigates a range of major sociological debates and policy studies related to gender family marriage health intersectionality and social exclusion of single mothers in Thailand It does so by analyzing ethnographic data gained from participant observation at NGOs and a psychiatric hospital in depth interviews with single mothers and social workers and a review of government policy documents and reports from 2020 and 2021 The conceptual framework of the study draws on gender as a social construct and intersectionality as critical social theory Using this framework the book aims to offer new scholarly insights by looking at single mothers as a category of multiple and overlapping oppressions marginalization and exclusion which intersect not only with gender class and ethnicity but also with other significant categories such as hometown neighborhood religion and health conditions all significant but under researched subjects in the Thai context Moreover the book also provides policy recommendations to the Thai government to improve its social policies for single mothers and achieve gender equality in Thailand
