From 1897 to 1917 the red light district of Storyville commercialized and even thrived on New Orleans s longstanding reputation for sin and sexual excess This notorious neighborhood located just outside of the French Quarter hosted a diverse cast of characters who reflected the cultural milieu and complex social structure of turn of the century New Orleans a city infamous for both prostitution and interracial intimacy In particular Lulu White a mixed race prostitute and madam created an image of herself and marketed it profitably to sell sex with light skinned women to white men of means In Spectacular Wickedness Emily Epstein Landau examines the social history of this famed district within the cultural context of developing racial sexual and gender ideologies and practices Storyville s founding was envisioned as a reform measure an effort by the city s business elite to curb and contain prostitution namely to segregate it In 1890 the Louisiana legislature passed the Separate Car Act which when challenged by New Orleans s Creoles of color led to the landmark Plessy v Ferguson decision in 1896 constitutionally sanctioning the enactment of separate but equal laws The concurrent partitioning of both prostitutes and blacks worked only to reinforce Storyville s libidinous license and turned sex across the color line into a more lucrative commodity By looking at prostitution through the lens of patriarchy and demonstrating how gendered racial ideologies proved crucial to the remaking of southern society in the aftermath of the Civil War Landau reveals how Storyville s salacious and eccentric subculture played a significant role in the way New Orleans constructed itself during the New South era

Discorrelated Images Shane Denson,2020-09-18 In Discorrelated Images Shane Denson examines how computer generated digital images displace and transform the traditional spatial and temporal relationships that viewers had with conventional analog forms of cinema Denson analyzes works ranging from the Transformers series and Blade Runner 2049 to videogames and multimedia installations to show how what he calls discorrelated images images that do not correlate with the abilities and limits of human perception produce new subjectivities affects and potentials for perception and action Denson s theorization suggests that new media theory and its focus on technological development must now be inseparable from film and cinema theory There s more at stake in understanding discorrelated images Denson contends than just a reshaping of cinema the development of new technical imaging processes and the evolution of film and media studies discorrelated images herald a transformation of subjectivity itself and are essential to our ability to comprehend nonhuman agency      HBO's Girls and the Awkward Politics of Gender, Race, and Privilege Elwood Watson,Jennifer

Provocateurs and Provocations Maria San Filippo,2021-02-02 Twenty first century media has increasingly turned to provocative sexual content to generate buzz and stand out within a glut of programming New distribution technologies enable and amplify these provocations and encourage the branding of media creators as provocateurs known for challenging sexual conventions and representational norms While such strategies may at times be no more than a profitable lure the most probing and powerful instances of sexual provocation serve to illuminate question and transform our understanding of sex and sexuality In Provocateurs and Provocations award winning author Maria San Filippo looks at the provocative in films television series web series and videos entertainment industry publicity materials and social media discourses and explores its potential to create alternative even radical ways of screening sex Throughout this edgy volume San Filippo reassesses troubling texts and divisive figures examining controversial strategies from real sex scenes to scandalous marketing campaigns to full frontal nudity to reveal the critical role that sexual provocation plays as an authorial signature and promotional strategy within the contemporary media landscape Women and Sex Tourism Landscapes

Erin Sanders-McDonagh,2016-08-12 Sexual spaces normally inhabited by mostly female sex workers are understood as masculine spaces and positioned for and around male consumers However red light zones and public sex performances in both Thailand and Holland are being explored and visually consumed by female tourists in significant numbers Their presence in red light districts and sexual venues is at odds with the ways in which sexual spaces have normally been positioned Woman and Sex Tourism Landscapes explores female tourists interactions with highly sexualized spaces and places in two very different contexts the Netherlands and Thailand Addressing this incongruence this text explores the ways in which these spaces are constructed and examines the different relations that govern the management of and female tourist interactions with these liminal sexual zones Ethnographic data collected in both countries suggests that far from being male centred spaces the red light districts and associated sexual entertainment venues are very much open to female tourists Drawing on this research the author argues that some women are indeed interested in exploring sexualized zones challenging assumptions about women s involvements with sexual space Thinking specifically about the visual nature of women s sexualized experiences the analysis draws on a range of different theoretical understandings that address power privilege and the gaze An important contribution to a range of debates this book will appeal to students and researchers in tourism geography sociology gender studies and cultural theory

The Stuff of Spectatorship Caetlin Benson-Allott,2021-04-06 Film and television create worlds but they are also of a world a world that is made up of stuff to which humans attach meaning Think of the last time you watched a movie the chair you sat in the snacks you ate the people around you maybe the beer or joint you consumed to help you unwind all this stuff shaped your experience of media and its influence on you The material culture around film and television changes how we make sense of their content not to mention the very concepts of the mediums Focusing on material cultures of film and television reception The Stuff of Spectatorship argues that the things we share space with and consume as we consume television and film influence the meaning we gather from them This book examines the roles that six different material cultures have played in film and television culture since the 1970s including video marketing branded merchandise drugs and alcohol and even gun violence and shows how objects considered peripheral to film and television culture are in fact central to its past and future Politics of Gaze Yasmin Ibrahim,2019-06-25 Going beyond the cursory reasons behind why we capture images on the move Politics of Gaze explores our contemporary practices around visual imaging and brings original conceptualisations about why we constantly capture ourselves and our environments through digital technologies Our technologically mediated everyday visibility has moral and ethical implications for the ways in which we construct our worlds understand world events represent ourselves commodify our environments and transact these with the wider world Through these acts we constantly negotiate our sense of aesthetics our notions of what is private and public our depictions of the everyday and issues of security and conflict whilst constructing moral codes for a technologically mediated society This book argues that we have crafted a Glasshouse society where the forms of gaze are open ended promising us empowerment while making us endlessly vulnerable Politics of Gaze is a vital resource for New Media studies and related fields such as photography technology studies visual communications journalism and sociology Approaches to Teaching the Works of David Foster Wallace Stephen J. Burn,Mary K. representations exemplified by the dysfunctional families of The Simpsons Family Guy and American Dad He also explores the show's representations of masculinity through three generations of men and its ambiguous depiction of strong women whose demands for equality are met by apparent concessions that actually amount to a regressive restoration of female domesticity

Looking Past the Screen Jon Lewis, Eric Smoodin, 2007-10-22 A collection of essays illustrating new methods and theories of film history

Musicals at the Margins Julie Lobalzo Wright, Martha Shearer, 2021-04-22 But is it a musical This question is regularly asked of films television shows and other media objects that sit uncomfortably in the category despite evident musical connections Musicals at the Margins argues that instead of seeking to resolve such questions we should leave them unanswered and unsettled proposing that there is value in examining the unstable edges of genre This collection explores the marginal musical in a diverse range of historical and global contexts It encompasses a range of different forms of marginality including boundary texts films media that are sort of not quite musicals musical sequences marginalized sequences in musicals musical sequences in non musicals music films musicals of the margins musicals produced from social cultural geographical and geopolitical margins and musicals across media television and new media Ultimately these essays argue that marginal genre texts tell us a great deal about the musical specifically and genre more broadly
