and I might do in our kitchens when a favourite tune comes on It s more than a social history it s a set of interconnected histories of the overlooked places where dancing happens Why do we dance together What does dancing tell us about ourselves individually and collectively And what can it do for us Whether it be at home 80s club nights Irish dancehalls or reggae dances jungle raves or volunteer run spaces and youth centres Emma Warren has sought the answers to these questions her entire life Dancing doesn t just refract the music and culture within which it evolves it also generates new music and culture When we speak only of the music we lose part of the story the part that finds us dancing as children on the toes of adults the half that triggers communication across borders and languages the part that finds us worried that we ll never be able to dance again and the part that finds us wondering why we were ever nervous in the first place At the intersection of memoir social and cultural history Dance Your Way Home is an intimate foray onto the dancefloor wherever and whenever it may be that speaks to the heart of what it is that makes us move Reading and Interpreting the Works of Alice Walker Lisa A. Crayton, 2016-12-15 Growing up poor in a small town in Georgia Alice Walker became aware of the effects of prejudice and segregation at a young age She would later call on these early experiences when writing her most famous novel The Color Purple But the themes of Walker's prose and poetry extend far beyond race including women's issues religion relationships and culture This text explores the many themes of her work as well as her use of characterization literary devices and plot Through biographical information quotes from the author excerpts from texts and critical analysis readers will obtain a strong appreciation for the life and works of this controversial and esteemed author The Splash of Words Mark Oakley, 2016-08-08 Whether you love poetry or haven't read it since school The Splash of Words will help you rediscover poetry's power to startle challenge and reframe your vision It includes a selection of poems each accompanied by a reflection exploring why poetry is vital to faith Sexual Disorientations Kent L. Brintnall, Joseph A. Marchal, Stephen D. Moore, 2017-11-07 Sexual Disorientations brings some of the most recent and significant works of queer theory into conversation with the overlapping fields of biblical theological and religious studies to explore the deep theological resonances of questions about the social and cultural construction of time memory and futurity Apocalyptic eschatological and apophatic languages frameworks and orientations pervade both queer theorizing and theologizing about time affect history and desire The volume fosters a more explicit engagement between theories of queer temporality and affectivity and religious texts and discourses Multiculturalism in Higher Education C. Spencer Platt, Adriel A. Hilton, Christopher Newman, Brandi Hinnant-Crawford, 2020-03-01 As the educational landscape of America continues to evolve and diversify college faculty and administrators must be cutting edge in their approaches to create a variety of educational experiences with a greater level of multicultural cognizance Unlike in previous generations higher education in the 21st Century is no longer a luxury reserved for the elite and wealthy but is an increasing necessity for access to labor markets Community colleges and universities are working hard to respond to the demands of the labor market by attempting to provide skills for jobs that may not yet exist Colleges and universities should aim to make all of their students feel welcome and a part of the campus being committed to celebrating differences Additionally filling faculty seats with varied races cultures perspectives and identities will aid in providing mentors and role models everyone can relate to These are some of the vital steps toward building a campus community that helps students develop a sense of belonging that allows them to persist and thrive in college The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education on college and university campuses The authors bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education This volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues ranging from the racial and ethnic diversity of the student and faculty bodies and important topics like disability issues to different educational contexts such as community colleges HBCUs and HSI institutions A Masterpiece of World Literature : From Classical to Present Era Dr. Rishikesh Tewari,2025-05-14 This magnum opus A MASTERPIECE OF WORLD LITERATURE From Classical To Present Era is a seminal work that encapsulates the vast expanse of literary theory and criticism traversing the realms of American Australian and Indian literature This comprehensive tome delves into the complexities of colonial and post colonial literatures while also exploring the ancient and new literatures in English Furthermore it ventures into the domain of comparative literature offering a nuanced understanding of the diverse literary traditions that have shaped the world s cultural heritage A distinctive feature of this book is its focus on Contemporary Indian Literature in English Translation providing a platform for the voices of Indian writers to be heard globally Additionally it examines the significance of English studies in India highlighting the impact of linguistic and cultural diversity on literary expression By weaving together these disparate threads this masterpiece presents a rich tapestry of world literature serving as an invaluable resource for scholars students and literature enthusiasts alike Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World Mary Zeiss Stange,Carol K. Bloesch, M. Cooper

Minister, 2018-10-18 This is the first book to provide an introduction to contemporary cultural approaches to the study of religion. This book makes sophisticated ideas accessible at an introductory level and examines the analytic tools of scholars in religious studies as well as in related disciplines that have shaped the field including anthropology, history, literature, and critical studies in race, sexuality, and gender. Each chapter is written by a leading scholar and includes the biographical and historical context of each theorist, their approaches, and key writings. Analysis and evaluation of each theory suggested further reading.

Part One: Comparative Approaches considers how major features such as taboo, texts, myths, and ritual work across religious traditions by exploring the work of Mary Douglas, Phyllis Klee, Wendy Doniger, and Catherine Bell.

Part Two: Examining Particularities analyzes the comparative approach through the work of Alice Walker, Charles Long, and Caroline Walker Bynum, who all suggest that the specifics of race, body, place, and time must be considered.

Part Three: Expanding Boundaries examines Gloria Anzaldúa's language of religion as well as the work of Judith Butler on performative queer theories of religion and concludes with Saba Mahmood, whose work considers postcolonial religious encounters, secularism, and the relationship between East and West.

Reflecting the cultural turn and challenging the existing canon, this is the anthology instructors have been waiting for. For primary texts by the theorists discussed, please consult The Bloomsbury Reader in Cultural Approaches to the Study of Religion, edited by Sarah J. Bloesch and Meredith Minister.
