The State of Wisconsin Blue Book, 2003 Eclipse of the Blue D. E. Gray, 2012-10 For the Retired Blues Crew a small group of retired LAPD police officers that meet once a month to share old war stories and enjoy each other's company accepting retirement was a hard pill to swallow Once considered savvy street warriors who risked life and limb protecting the good citizens of Los Angeles they were now the forgotten heroes whose past heroic deeds were now only remembrances visited through their colorful story telling during their once a month get togethers Like all things in life they were all expendable and the guys in the Retired Blues Crew had been replaced by a new generation of street warriors To the old dogs who were put out to pasture the new centurions were taking their places with new technology and a confidence that bordered on disrespect for those who had paved the way before them The argument that the old days of crushing crime without the benefit of all the new fangled gadgets was more rewarding than the technology of the future was a misconception of the new breed that were now in charge of protecting the citizens of Los Angeles For the select group of old story tellers they needed to add one more chapter in their lives something for the street warriors of the present to remember them by when their time finally came and they were reduced to second class citizens too old to do the job anymore This small tight knit group of old street warriors had enough and it was time to prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that they weren't too old to out smart and out wit the high tech rouges who have now taken their places Proving that computers and gadgets could never replace the wisdom and experience that the old dogs were blessed with wouldn't be an easy task but they were determined to challenge the new breed and beat them at their own game They knew whatever it was they were going to do couldn't replicate anything like the violent movies you see were people die get hurt or cars get wrecked and buildings are blown up after all they were cops or at least they were once That being said the old dogs had to pull off the perfect caper and they had to do it without claiming any of the bragging rights they so much yearned for It would have to be for no other reason than For Greater Glory In that one of their own had been diagnosed with cancer with less than six months to live they only had a small window of opportunity to get it done Since he was the architect behind the perfect crime referred to as Operation Blue Eclipse their success would depend on how well the plan was executed with no room for error If all went as planned and after all was said and done the Retired Blues Crew would truly know who the best of the best was Blue Truth Cherokee Paul McDonald, 2012-08 This is a brutally honest no holds barred memoir of a cop's time on the street it is a scorching devastating book Lawrence Block Told in short story format it chronicles a young man's journey from idealistic rookie to scarred cynical veteran American Motorcyclist, 1955-09 American Motorcyclist magazine the official journal of the American Motorcyclist Association tells the stories of the people who make motorcycling the sport that it is It's available monthly to AMA members Become a part of the largest most diverse and most enthusiastic group of riders in the country by visiting our website or calling 800 AMA JOIN Vancouver Blue Wayne Cope, 2015-04-25 Wayne Cope has TV to blame for starting him on his long career as an officer of the Vancouver Police Department He grew up watching gunslingers like James Arness and Richard Boone inspiring him to join up even before he finished college and his real life working career has turned out to be more exciting than he could have hoped In his years on the force from 1975 to 2006 Cope has seen practically everything on the ever changing streets of Vancouver he's worked as a jailer and a traffic cop talked people down from bridges worked on dog squads gone undercover in pursuit of serious criminals and worked the historical unsolved homicide unit And behind each assignment there's a story a joke or a revealing insight into the realities of police work In Vancouver Blue Cope shares pearls of wisdom and anecdotes inspired by his years on the force describing some of the most outlandish costumes for undercover drug purchases many different ways to total a brand new motorbike and the precise ratio of competent officers to idiots in any given squad He also sheds light on the behind the scenes life of VPD officers and their off duty antics Cope also provides detailed accounts of some of his most fascinating cases like the sensational Centrefold Murder and the infamous killing of the Stanley Park flamingoes For those looking for even more insight into the mind of a detective Cope has created a cipher with a theme inspired by the book offering a reward of five Canadian Silver Maple Leaf coins to the first person to break the code American Motorcyclist ,1959-11 American Motorcyclist magazine the official journal of the American Motorcyclist Associaton tells the stories of the people who make motorcycling the sport that it is It s available monthly to AMA members Become a part of the largest most diverse and most enthusiastic group of riders in the country by visiting our website or calling 800 AMA JOIN WALNECK'S CLASSIC CYCLE TRADER, AUGUST 2005 Causey Enterprises, LLC,
