Making Cultural Cities Asia Aspirational Ebook:

Making Cultural Cities in Asia June Wang, Tim Oakes, Yang Yang, 2015-12-22 This book examines the vast and largely uncharted world of cultural creative city making in Asia. It explores the establishment of policy models and practices against the backdrop of a globalizing world and considers the dynamic relationship between powerful actors and resources that impact Asian cities. Making Cultural Cities in Asia approaches this dynamic process through the lens of assemblage: how the policy models of cultural creative cities have been extracted from the flow of ideas and how re-invented versions have been assembled, territorialized and exported. This approach reveals a spectrum between globally circulating ideals on the one hand and the place-based contexts and contingencies on the other. At one end of the spectrum, this book features chapters on policy mobility in particular the political construction of the web of communication and the restructuring or rescaling of the state. At the other end, chapters examine the increasingly fragmented social forces, their changing roles in the process and their negotiations, alignments and resistances. This book will be of interest to researchers and policy makers concerned with cultural and urban studies, creative industries and Asian studies.

Arts, Culture and the Making of Global Cities Lily Kong, Ching Chia-ho, Chou Tsu-Lung, 2015-01-30 While global cities have mostly been characterized as sites of intensive and extensive economic activity, the quest for global city status also increasingly rests on the creative production and consumption of culture and the arts. Arts, Culture and the Re-Imagining Creative Cities in Twenty-First Century Asia Xin Gu, Michael Kho Lim, Justin O'Connor, 2021-12-05 This book responds to the lack of Asian representation in creative cities literature. It aims to use the creative cities paradigm as part of a wider process involving first a rapid de-industrialisation in Asia that has left a void for new development models, resulting in a popular uptake of cultural economies in Asian cities, and second the congruence and conflicts of traditional and modern cultural values leading to a necessary re-interpretation and re-imagining of cities as places for cultural production and cultural consumption. Focusing on the Asian century, it seeks to recognise and highlight the rapid rise of these cities and how they have stepped up to the challenge of transforming and regenerating themselves. The book aims to re-define what it means to be an Asian creative city and generate more dialogue and new debate around different urban issues.

Urban Growth and Development in Asia Graham P. Chapman, Ashok K. Dutt, 2019-01-15 First published in 1999, this volume begins with a panoramic survey by Nigel Harris of the drama of Asian Urbanization based on the inaugural plenary lecture he gave to the 5th Asian Urbanization Conference held in London. In the following chapters, many experts and practitioners from different countries and cities provide a stimulating portrayal of the processes and outcomes of one of the greatest shifts of population not just absolutely but proportionately as well ever to have occurred in human history. Asia includes more than half the world's population but apart from the Tiger economies and Japan, it is still overwhelmingly rural. In the last decade or so, urbanization has really begun to take off and the shift of population to the cities represents one of the greatest population movements the planet has ever seen. By 2030, more than 50% of Asia's population will be urban and between now and then more than 500 million people in Asia will have moved looking for jobs housing food and water They will be both part of a problem and most of the solution building around them the cities they will live in Urban Growth and Development in Asia Graham P. Chapman, Robert W. Bradnock, 1999 Messy Urbanism

Manish Chalan, Jeffrey Hou, 2016-06-01 Seemingly messy and chaotic the landscapes and urban life of cities in Asia possess an order and hierarchy that often challenges understanding and appreciation With contributions by a cross disciplinary group of authors Messy Urbanism: Understanding the Other Cities of Asia examines a range of cases in Asia to explore the social and institutional politics of urban informality and the contexts in which this messiness emerges or is constructed The book brings a distinct perspective to the broader patterns of informal urban orders and processes as well as their interplay with formalized systems and mechanisms It also raises questions about the production of cities cityscapes and citizenship Messy Urbanism will appeal to professionals students and scholars in the fields of urban studies architecture landscape architecture planning and policy as well as Asian studies The rubric of messy urbanism is a productive antidote to the binaries that have limited a productive discussion about urbanism in Asia This book is a significant contribution in understanding the inherent nature of the built environments in aspiring democracies an emergent urbanism that seamlessly embraces the incremental temporal and ephemeral as given conditions in the formation of Asian cities Rahul Mehrotra Architect Professor of Urban Design and Planning Harvard University This book is of a high quality with multiple examples from Hong Kong and China The authors have covered the topic admirably and I expect the book to attract a wide readership Vinit Mukhija Associate Professor and Vice Chair of Urban Planning UCLA Asian cities Malcom McKinnon, 2011

Worlding Cities Ananya Roy, Aihwa Ong, 2011-08-15 Worlding Cities is the first serious examination of Asian urbanism to highlight the connections between different Asian models and practices of urbanization It includes important contributions from a respected group of scholars across a range of generations disciplines and sites of study Describes the new theoretical framework of worlding Substantially expands and updates the themes of capital and culture Includes a unique collection of authors across generations disciplines and sites of study Demonstrates how references to Asian power success and hegemony make possible urban development and limit urban politics New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities Peter W. Daniels, K.C. Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, 2012-04-27 The East and Southeast Asia region constitutes the world's most compelling theatre of accelerated globalization and industrial restructuring Following a spectacular realization of the industrialization paradigm and a period of services led growth the early twenty first century economic landscape among leading Asian states now comprises a burgeoning New Economy spectrum of the most advanced industrial trajectories including finance the knowledge economy and the new cultural economy In an agenda setting volume New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities draws on stimulating research conducted by a new generation of urban scholars to generate critical analysis and theoretical insights on the New Economy phenomenon within Asia New industry formation and the transformation of older economic practices constitute instruments of development as well as signifiers of larger processes of change expressed in the reproduction of space in the city Asia's major cities become the key staging areas for the New Economy driven by the growing wealth of an urban middle and professional class higher education institutions city based inter regional movements and urban mega projects New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities animates this New Economy discourse by means of vibrant storylines of instructive cities and sites including cases studies situated in cities such as Tokyo Seoul Shanghai Beijing Shenzhen and Singapore Theoretical and normative issues associated with the emergence of the new cultural economy are the subject of the book's context setting chapters and each case study presents an evocative narrative of development interdependencies and exemplary outcomes on the ground New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities offers a vivid contribution to our understanding of the ongoing transformation of Asia's urban system including the critical intersections of global and local regional dynamics in processes of new industry formation and the relayering of space in the Asian metropolis The synthesis of empirical profiles normative insights and theoretical reference points enhances the book's interest for scholars and students in fields of Asian studies urban and cultural studies and urban and economic geography as well as for policy specialists and urban community planners Special Issue: Urban Cultural Strategies in East Asia Se Hoon Park, 2016

Cities in Asia by and for the People, 2018 This book examines the active role of urban citizens in constructing alternative urban spaces as tangible resistance towards capitalist production of urban spaces that continue to encroach various neighborhoods The collection of narratives presented here brings together research from ten different Asian cities and re-theorises the city from the perspective of ordinary people facing moments of crisis contestations and cooperative quests to create alternative spaces to those being produced under prevailing urban processes The chapters accent the exercise of human agency through daily practices in the production of urban space and the intention is not one of creating a romantic or utopian vision of what a city by and for the people ought to be Rather it is to place people in the centre as mediators of city making with discontents about current conditions and desires for a better life Theorizing the Southeast Asian City as Text Robbie B. H. Goh, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2003 Theorizing the Southeast Asian City as Text examines the ways in which culture ethnicity languages traditions governance policies and histories interplay in the creation of the urban experiences in contemporary Southeast Asian cities It focuses on the ways in which urban spatial forms are textual experiences subject to interpretative strategies and the influence of other discourses In addition it also analyzes the experiences of modernization in such cities but also in terms of the strategies of containment refurbishment and loss which this has occasioned Urban Growth and Development in Asia: Living in the cities Graham Chapman, Ashok K. Dutt, Robert W. Bradnock, 1999 These two volumes provide a panoramic survey of the patterns causes and consequences of urbanization in Asia The volume I examines the physical aspects of urbanization and the Volume II deals with the human and environmental impacts Together they form a ground breaking insight into the nature and prospects of Asian urbanization Adapt du r sum de l diteur The

The Impossibility Of Mapping (Urban Asia) Ute Meta Bauer, Puay Khim Ong, Roger Nelson, 2020-02-12 Following the lifework 1960s to 2010 of visionary Singaporean architect William S W Lim The Impossibility of Mapping Urban Asia is a compelling compilation of case studies and historical projects This multifaceted publication takes Lim s ideas to a future Asia a region defined by an irreducibly complex urban topography under constant flux Looking from Singapore to Southeast Asia and from this region to Asia more expansively and beyond it presents a diverse range of activities which may be productively framed through the notion of critical spatial practice The book has three interconnected points of departure Lim s lifework the interdisciplinary exhibition Incomplete Urbanism Attempts at Critical Spatial Practice at NTU Centre for Contemporary Art Singapore and the related conference The Impossibility of Mapping Urban Asia and the cross cultural and urban festival CITIES FOR PEOPLE NTU CCA Ideas Fest 2016 17 held at venues around Gillman Barracks Singapore The multiple links are emphasised in three key ways through editorial texts through design concepts and through selected projects inserted as intermissions between each of the book s sections Artists planners activists architects scholars get together in this volume to respond to Lim s critical spatial practice Research essays artworks visual and textual documentation spatio temporal maps grapple with the diversity of Southeast Asia offering unexpected responses to planning building and living cities and urban spaces but also put forward the question Who owns the city This key collection offers a path into spatial questions in Asia and beyond and serves as a teaching and research tool Post-Politics and Civil Society in Asian Cities Sonia

Lam-Knott, Creighton Connolly, Kong Chong Ho, 2019-10-23 Bringing together an interdisciplinary group of scholars Post Politics and Civil Society in Asian Cities examines how the concept of post politics has manifested across a range of Asian cities and the impact this has had on state society relationships in processes of urban governance This volume examines how the post political framework derived from the study of Western liberal democracies applies to Asian cities Appreciating that the region has undergone a distinctive trajectory of political development and is currently governed under democratic or authoritarian regimes the book articulates how post political conditions have created obstacles or opportunities for civil society to assert its voice in urban governance Chapters address the different ways in which Asian civil society groups strive to gain a stake in the development and management of cities specifically by looking at their involvement in heritage and environmental governance two inter related components in discourses about establishing liveable cities for the future By providing in depth case studies examining the varying degrees to which post political ideologies have been enacted in urban governance across Central South Southeast and East Asia this book offers a useful and timely resource for students and scholars interested in urban studies political science Asian studies geography and sociology Cultural Policy in Asia

Lorraine Lim,2012 Asian Cities Malcolm McKinnon,2011 Asian Cities challenges Western theories of globalization and urban growth with a fresh and stimulating look at cities in developing Asia It questions the status accorded globalization in explaining contemporary Asian cities arguing instead that they are being transformed by three major forces urbanization and nation building as well as globalization The first two are not dependent variables of globalization although all in the late 20th and early 21st centuries have been shaped by capitalism Directors of Urban Change in Asia Peter J. M. Nas,2005-05-24 Bringing together a group of international scholars Directors of Urban Change in Asia examines who the directors for urban change are in an eclectic mix of Asian cities The book discusses how in the majority of cases urban change has come about primarily as the result of visionary leaders on national regional and local levels It also makes clear that the less successful cities have tended to lack such leaders Sustainable Cities in Asia Federico Caprotti,Li Yu (Senior lecturer),2018 This book explores the meanings of sustainable urbanism in contemporary Asian cities looking at the main sustainability challenges faced in the region Providing discussion on the broader debates around sustainable urbanism in Asia it includes numerous case studies from urban cycling to the use of community led energy generation projects
