"B" "C" and "M" Group Models

October 1966
Revised July 1967

THE LUBRICATION SYSTEM

The engine lubrication system is of the dry sump type operated by a double pump, situated in the bottom of the crankcase on the right-hand side. The pump draws the supply and return pipes to the tank and the rocker feed and drain pipes in the B Group. The oil drawn from the oil tank to the supply side of the pump first passes through a coarse mesh filter. This filter is not fitted to M Group machines as a jet filter is incorporated in the oil return pipe.

Models 1154 and 1155

From the supply side of the pump the oil passes through a ball valve A, and is transferred to the side manifold, big end roller feed and M Models the transfer made via a needle fitted in the roller cover, which provides a constant oil supply to the big end roller feed.

B.S.A. Service Sheet No. 603 (continued)

After lubricating the big end and circulating throughout the engine in the form of oil mist, the oil drains down, through a filter to the bottom of the crankcase from which it is drawn by the return pump past ball valve C and delivered up the return pipe to the tank.

DIAGRAM OF THE LUBRICATION SYSTEM C GROUP MODELS

On C.M.V. Models the rocker gear is lubricated by oil mist from the crankcase passing through the push and return.

On "B" group machines oil is fed through a union situated in the pipe between the return pump and the tank, to the rocker spindles, and after lubricating the rockers and enclosed valves, is returned to the crankcase through an external oil pipe attached to the base of the inlet valve spring housing (see Fig. 305). An internal oilway connects the two valve spring wells.

Incorrect seating of the ball valve, A will allow oil to transfer from the tank to the engine, whilst the machine is stationary. In this event, uncover the plug over the ball valve C should get stuck in its seating. Clean the ball and its seating with correct, remove the...
