Don't Go Tonika Lewis Johnson, Maria Krysan, 2024-09-05 Multiple times a day in cities across the US and beyond a simple yet powerful message is repeated by the well meaning the ignorant and the bigoted don't go avoid at all costs those Black and Brown disinvested neighborhoods that have become bywords for social disorder and urban decay This book is a collection of intimate stories and evocative photos that uncover the hidden influence of both subtle and overt don't go messages and the segregation they perpetuate in Chicago Told by everyday people to Tonika Lewis Johnson and Maria Krysan a Black artist and a White academic who met through their shared passion for anti segregation work the stories paint a rich picture of life in a segregated city One by one the storytellers upend pessimism with candid deeply personal humorous and heartbreaking tales and with novel ideas for simple actions that can serve as antidotes to both racism and place ism By inviting readers into the lives of regular people who have ignored the warning to stay away from don't go neighborhoods or who live in those very same neighborhoods the stories in Don't Go illuminate the devastating consequences of racial segregation and disinvestment as well as the inevitable rewards of coming together

Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World Lena Dominelli, 2018-02-06 Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World explores the opportunities and constraints that the dynamics of globalisation present for human development in a range of different countries and situations Arguing that globalisation is currently a system of organising social relations along neoliberal lines this timely volume examines practical examples of how people respond to significant social changes in their communities The idea of communities is deconstructed to show that globalisation has collapsed the boundaries of time space and place in ways that have exacerbated inequalities at the same time giving rise to unparalleled riches for some The book encompasses a number of case studies that speak to policymakers practitioners educators and students interested in studying globalisation and making the most of its potential for change

Love Within Hate Prof. Sydney Ugwunna, 2015-10-05 This book gives one of the most comprehensive and unique accounts of prejudice and racial discrimination in the United States of America in the early nineteen sixties to the present time Sydney who later became an American citizen lived in the United States for fifty years However as an African student in the United States he observed and experienced prejudice and discrimination The account of racial unrest in the United States is given in this book without emotions or bitterness but endeavors to be realistic about the problem of racism The book deals with root causes of racism prejudice and racial discrimination in the United States and provides some useful suggestions about solutions The book is very readable and engaging with true stories of romance and love Venerable Dr Sydney Ugwunna is now a friend of at least two of the presidents of the United States presidents Clinton and Obama and a close friend and admirer of the beloved queen of England her majesty Queen Elizabeth II The venerable Prof Sydney C Ugwunna is a prominent retired grateful priest of the Church of England

The Mamas Helena Andrews-Dyer, 2024-01-09 Can white moms and Black moms ever truly be friends Not just mom friends but like really real friends And does it matter Utterly addictive Through her sharp wit and dynamic anecdotal storytelling Helena Andrews Dyer shines a light on the cultural differences that separate Black and white mothers Tia Williams New York Times bestselling author of Seven Days in June Helena Andrews Dyer lives in a hot Washington D C neighborhood which means picturesque row houses and plenty of gentrification After having her first child she joined the local mom group the Mamas and quickly realized that being one of the only Black mothers in the mix was a mixed bag The racial cultural and socioeconomic differences were made clear almost immediately But spending time in what she calls the Polly Pocket world of postracial parenting was a welcome reprieve Then George Floyd happened A man was murdered a man who called out for his mama And suddenly the Mamas hit different Though they were alike in some ways they want their kids to be safe they think their husbands are lazy they work too much and feel guilty about it Andrews Dyer realized she had an entirely different set of problems that her neighborhood mom friends could never truly understand In The

Mamas Andrews Dyer chronicles the particular challenges she faces in a group where systemic racism can be solved with an Excel spreadsheet and where she a Black professional Ivy League educated mom is overcompensating with every move Andrews Dyer grapples with her own inner tensions like Why do I never leave the house with the baby and without my wedding ring and Why did every name we considered for our kids have to pass the r sum test Throw in a global pandemic and a nationwide movement for social justice and Andrews Dyer ultimately tries to find out if moms from different backgrounds can truly understand one another With sharp wit and refreshing honesty The Mamas explores the contradictions and community of motherhood white and Black and everything against the backdrop of the rapidly changing world Making,

Keeping, and Losing Friends Janice M. McCabe,2025-10-21 Draws attention to the importance of support networks for students as they make keep and lose friends throughout college and beyond We re all familiar with the sentiment that college is the best time of your life Along with a newfound sense of freedom students have a unique opportunity to forge lifelong friendships at a point in life when friendship is particularly important Why is it then that so many college students are falling victim to what the US Surgeon General termed an epidemic of loneliness and isolation How do different aspects of college life help or hinder students ability to form deep connections In Making Keeping and Losing Friends How Campuses Shape College Students Networks sociologist Janice M McCabe shows that the way a college is structured whether students live in dorms or commute study abroad or stay close to campus have plentiful common areas for clubs to meet or not can either encourage or hinder the making of meaningful friendships Based on interviews with 95 students on three distinct campuses a small private college Dartmouth College a large public university University of New Hampshire and a non residential community college Manchester Community College McCabe captures a wide range of experiences and discovers how features of the campuses make it easier or harder for students to make and keep friends She shows how and why across all three institutions some students thrive in deep and lasting friendships with their peers As McCabe s research reveals we need to look at the structures of students networks the institutions they attend and the importance of their identities in these places if we are to truly uncover and address the loneliness epidemic facing today s young adults Muhammad Ali and

Malcolm X Randy Roberts,Johnny Smith,2023-10-03 Discover the remarkable relationship between Muhammad Ali and Malcolm X and how their bond affected the movement for Black pride and independence in the 1960s in this nonfiction book for young readers From Civil Rights to Black Pride and Black Lives Matter there isn t one social justice movement that these two men haven t impacted SLJ starred review Freshly adapted for young readers this in depth portrait showcases the complex bond between Muhammad Ali and Malcolm X revealing how Malcolm helped mold Cassius Clay into Muhammad Ali and influenced his rise as an international symbol of Black pride and Black independence Yet when Malcolm was expelled from the Nation of Islam for criticizing the conduct of its leader Elijah Muhammad Ali turned his back on Malcolm a choice that some believe tragically contributed to the minister s assassination in February 1965 Muhammad Ali and Malcolm X is the story of how Ali redefined what it means to be a Black athlete in America informed by Malcolm X's leadership. An extraordinary portrait of love, friendship, and power, as well as deceit and betrayal, here is a window into the public and private lives of two national icons and the tumultuous period in the American Civil Rights Movement that they helped to shape.

The uncivilized races of men in all countries of the world; vol. 2 of 2 J. G. Wood, 2023-07-10 In the second volume of The Uncivilized Races of Men in All Countries of the World, J. G. Wood delves into the ethnographic study of various indigenous cultures, exploring their social structures, traditions, and interactions with the encroaching modern world. Written in the 19th century, Wood's literary style combines vivid descriptive prose with a scientific rigor typical of the Victorian curiosity about human diversity. He employs detailed observations, reflective insights, and an often romanticized narrative to portray the lives of these uncivilized peoples, challenging readers to reconsider their preconceptions about civilization and cultural hierarchy. J. G. Wood was a prominent naturalist author and educator whose passion for exploration and anthropology profoundly shaped his works. His experiences as a natural historian, combined with his deep-rooted interest in the complexities of human cultures, inspired him to produce comprehensive studies that resonate with the socio-political dynamics of his time. Wood's writings reflect the period's fascination with the exotic, yet they also resonate with the underlying tensions stemming from colonial attitudes and the quest for a deeper understanding of mankind's varied expressions. This volume is essential reading for scholars and enthusiasts of anthropology, history, and colonial studies. Wood's blend of narrative and scholarly inquiry invites readers into a complex dialogue about race, culture, and civilization. As such, it serves not only as a historical document but also as a catalyst for contemporary discussions on cultural diversity and the ethical implications of Western perceptions of the other.

Belonging and Becoming in a Multicultural World Laura Moran, 2020 Based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork in Brisbane, Australia, Belonging and Becoming in a Multicultural World provides a critical analysis of the shortcomings and underpinning contradictions of modern multicultural inclusion. It demonstrates how creating a sense of identity among young Sudanese and Karen refugees is a continual process shaped by powerful social forces.

The Grand Barbecue Doug Worgul, 2001 The Economics of Race in the United States Brendan O'Flaherty, 2015-06-08 Brendan O'Flaherty brings the tools of economic analysis— incentives, equilibrium, optimization—to bear on racial issues. From health care, housing, and education to employment, wealth, and crime, he shows how racial differences powerfully determine American lives and how progress in one area is often constrained by diminishing returns in another.

Everyday Racism Annie S. Barnes, 2000 Firsthand reports of the common forms of racism that Black people experience in everyday life.

The Uncivilized Races of Men in All Countries of the World, Vol. 2 John G. Wood, 2022-11-24 Excerpt In this volume will be found a selection of the most interesting uncivilized tribes that inhabit or once inhabited America and the vast number of islands which lie between that country and the eastern coast of Asia, including among them the great groups of Australia and New Zealand. A short notice is given of the long-perished Lake dwellers of Switzerland and the partial civilization of India China Japan and Siam is also represented Race and Ethnic Relations in the First Person Michael A. Burayidi, Alfred Kisubi, 1998-01-13 This accessible challenging discussion of race relations looks at how institutions shape individual experience and asks how we can prevent a violent splintering of American society along racial lines in the 21st century Arguing that the best way to understand race relations is through the personal accounts of individuals as they go through the life cycle this highly readable book uses real life stories to illuminate how families peer groups and workplaces influence views about other racial and ethnic groups The authors hope to inspire readers to intervene and counteract negative perceptions of racial difference through their open frank discussion of the racial divide Randomedy Nathan Andrew Roberts, 2011-05-19 An Islamo facist terrorist with shifty eyes who ends up being nothing more than a red herring A CNN anchorwoman who is too attractive to have gotten her job based solely on her questionable credentials A wizened and respected CNN anchorman whose famous beard could be its own situation room topic A nuclear physicist with precognitive abilities and fondness for being killed by buses in the first act A black man rap mogul who goes against type and actually lives to the end of the movie A flatfooted rookie cop who kills a lot of people before all is said and done A liberal congressman who never met a regulation he didn't like An aging movie star desperate for attention Two British Lords ripped from their own time and get a lesson in modern racial etiquette and fighting techniques A teenage girl on a journey of self discovery and other discovery Two sarcastic Gen Xers who die and nobody cares that they die A spaced out feminist folk singer with hairy armpits and terribly broad definitions of rape A nameless couple who fights all the time and use their kids as emotional weapons against each other Two Mafia musclemen who try their hardest to not bolster stereotypes about their culture What do these people have in common In the real world absolutely nothing In my fantasy world I've thought up so I can escape the harsh and overbearing realities of life Everything They come together except for the fighting couple they're just filler material and give me some space to backhandedly complain about the bad parents of the world I see and stop a diabolical villain from blowing up New York City Identity Capitalists Nancy Leong, 2021-02-09 Nancy Leong reveals how powerful people and institutions use diversity to their own advantage and how the rest of us can respond and do better Why do people accused of racism defend themselves by pointing to their black friends Why do men accused of sexism inevitably talk about how they love their wife and daughters Why do colleges and corporations alike photoshop people of color into their websites and promotional materials And why do companies selling everything from cereal to sneakers go out of their way to include a token woman or person of color in their advertisements In this groundbreaking book Nancy Leong coins the term identity capitalist to label the powerful insiders who eke out social and economic value from people of color women LGBTQ people the poor and other outgroups Leong deftly uncovers the rules that govern a system in which all Americans must survive the identity marketplace She contends that the national preoccupation with diversity has counterintuitively allowed identity capitalists to infiltrate the legal system educational institutions the workplace and the media Using examples from law to literature from politics to pop culture Leong takes readers on a journey through the hidden agendas and surprising incentives of various ingroup actors She also uncovers a dire dilemma for outgroup members do they play along and let their identity be used by others or do they protest and risk the wrath of the powerful Arming readers with the tools to recognize and mitigate the harms of exploitation Identity Capitalists reveals what happens when we prioritize diversity over equality

Confronting Jim Crow Robert Cohen, 2024-08-27 Since the onset of the Black Lives Matter protests in 2020 following the murder of George Floyd America has grappled with its racial history leading to the removal of statues and other markers commemorating pro slavery sympathizers and segregationists from public spaces Some of these white supremacist statues had stood on or near college and university campuses since the Jim Crow era symbolizing the reluctance of American higher education to confront its racist past In Confronting Jim Crow Robert Cohen explores the University of Georgia s long history of racism and the struggle to overcome it shedding light on white Georgia s historical amnesia concerning the university s role in sustaining the Jim Crow system By extending the historical analysis beyond the desegregation crisis of 1961 Cohen unveils UGA s deep rooted anti Black stance preceding formal desegregation efforts Through the lens of Black and white student faculty and administration perspectives this book exposes the enduring impact of Jim Crow and its lingering effects on campus integration
