

The book cover features a composite background image. The top half shows a large, craggy rock formation under a clear blue sky. The bottom half shows a dense cluster of traditional, light-colored stone buildings with dark window openings, typical of a Mediterranean or North African town. A horizontal white band separates the two images, containing the title and author information.

Reconstructing Italy Stephanie Zeier Pilat, 2016-04-08

Reconstructing Italy traces the postwar transformation of the Italian nation through an analysis of the Ina Casa plan for working class housing established in 1949 to address the employment and housing crises Government sponsored housing programs undertaken after WWII have often been criticized as experiments that created more social problems than they solved The neighborhoods of Ina Casa stand out in contrast to their contemporaries both in terms of design and outcome Unlike modernist high rise housing projects of the period Ina Casa neighborhoods are picturesque and human scaled and incorporate local construction materials and methods resulting in a rich aesthetic diversity And unlike many other government forays into housing undertaken during this period the Ina Casa plan was on the whole successful the neighborhoods are still lively and cohesive communities today This book examines what made Ina Casa a success among so many failed housing experiments focusing on the tenuous balance struck between the legislation governing Ina Casa the architects who led the Ina Casa administration the theory of design that guided architects working on the plan and an analysis of the results the neighborhoods and homes constructed Drawing on the writings of the architects government documents and including brief passages from works of neorealist literature and descriptions of neorealist films by Pier Paolo Pasolini Italo Calvino and others this book presents a portrait of the postwar struggle to define a post Fascist Italy

Political Landscapes of Capital Cities Jessica Joyce Christie, Jelena Bogdanovic, Eulogio Guzmán, 2016-08-08

Political Landscapes of Capital Cities investigates the processes of transformation of the natural landscape into the culturally constructed and ideologically defined political environments of capital cities In this spatially inclusive socially dynamic interpretation an interdisciplinary group of authors including archaeologists anthropologists and art historians uses the methodology put forth in Adam T Smith s The Political Landscape Constellations of Authority in Early Complex Polities to expose the intimate associations between human made environments and the natural landscape that accommodate the sociopolitical needs of governmental authority Political Landscapes of Capital Cities blends the historical political and cultural narratives of capital cities such as Bangkok Cusco Rome and Tehran with a careful visual analysis hinging on the methodological tools of not only architectural and urban design but also cultural historiographical and anthropological studies The collection provides further ways to conceive of how processes of urbanization monumentalization ritualization naturalization and unification affected capitals differently without losing grasp of local distinctive architectural and spatial features The essays also articulate the many complex political and ideological agendas of a diverse set of sovereign entities that planned constructed displayed and performed their societal ideals in the spaces of their capitals ultimately confirming that political authority is profoundly spatial Contributors Jelena Bogdanovi Jessica Joyce Christie Talinn Grigor Eulogio Guzm n Gregor Kalas Stephanie Pilat Melody Rod ari Anne Toxey Alexei Vranich

Cognitive Modelling in Language and Discourse across Cultures Annalisa Baicchi, Erica Pinelli, 2017-08-21 This volume deals with core issues in figurative language and figurative thought It also explores areas of convergence between idealised cognitive models and language across fourteen European and non European languages Croatian English German Greek Italian Japanese Persian Polish Russian Old Saxon Sicilian Spanish Swedish and Turkish The collection foregrounds the relationship that holds between literalness and figurativeness in meaning construction it emphasises the role of conceptual metonymy and metaphor as the main cognitive tools at work in inferential activity and as generators of discourse ties and it also depicts the import of cognitive models in the production and interpretation of multimodal communication In addition a number of more specific topics are addressed from different perspectives such as language variation and cultural models the argumentative role of metaphor in discourse and the role of empirical work in cognitive linguistics

The Bungalow in Twentieth-Century India Madhavi Desai, Miki Desai, 2016-12-05 The primary era of this study the twentieth century symbolizes the peak of the colonial rule and its total decline as well as the rise of the new nation state of India The processes that have been labeled westernization and modernization radically changed middle class Indian life during the century This book describes and explains the various technological political and social developments that shaped one building type the bungalow contemporaneous to the development of modern Indian history during the period of British rule and its subsequent aftermath Drawing on their own physical and photographic documentation and building on previous work by Anthony King and the Desais the authors show the evolution of the bungalow s architecture from a one storey building with a verandah to the assortment of house forms and their regional variants that are derived from the bungalow Moreover the study correlates changes in society with architectural consequences in the plans and aesthetics of the bungalow It also examines more

VV., 2022-11-30 T00:00:00+01:00 82 4 Architecture Reperformed the Politics of Reconstruction Tino Mager, 2015-10-28 This book deals with the phenomenon of meticulous reconstruction in architecture It argues that the politics of reconstruction go far beyond aesthetic considerations Taking architecture as a major source of history and regional identity the impact of large scale reconstruction is deeply intertwined with political and social factors By bringing together eight case studies from Eastern Europe France Spain China Japan Israel and Brazil it provides valuable insights into this topic The chapters analyse the political background of the reconstructions and identify the protagonists The Political Unconscious of Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2016-02-24 Thirty years have passed since eminent cultural and literary critic Fredric Jameson wrote his classic work The Political Unconscious Narrative as a Socially Symbolic Act in which he insisted that there is nothing that is not social and historical indeed that everything is in the last analysis political Bringing together a team of leading scholars including Slavoj Žižek, Joan Ockman, Jane Rendell and Kojin Karatani, this book critically examines the important contribution made by Jameson to the radical critique of architecture over this period, highlighting its continued importance to contemporary architecture discourse. Jameson's notion of the political unconscious represents one of the most powerful notions in the link between aesthetics and politics in contemporary discourse. Taking this along with other key concepts from Jameson as the basis for its chapters, this anthology asks questions such as: Is architecture a place to stage class struggle? How can architecture act against the conditions that affirmatively produce it? What does the critical and the negative mean in the discourse of architecture? and How do we prevent architecture from participating in the reproduction of the cultural logic of late capitalism? This book breaks new ground in architectural criticism and offers insights into the interrelationships between politics, culture, space and architecture, and in doing so it acts as a counter-balance to the current trend in architectural research where a general aestheticization dominates the discourse. Complexity and

Contradiction in Architecture Robert Venturi, 1977 Foreword by Arthur Drexler Introduction by Vincent Scully

Architecture RePerformed: The Politics of Reconstruction Tino Mager, 2016-03-09 First emerging at the beginning of the twentieth century, architectural reconstruction has increasingly become an instrument to visually revive a long bygone past. This book deals with the phenomenon of meticulous reconstruction in architecture. It argues that the politics of reconstruction go far beyond aesthetic considerations. Taking architecture as a major source of history and regional identity, the impact of large-scale reconstruction is deeply intertwined with political and social factors. Furthermore, memories and associations correlated with lost buildings of a bygone era are heavily influenced by their re-appearance, something which often contradicts historical events. Reconstruction has become an established way of building and dealing with the past, yet so far there is no comprehensive scientific study on it. By bringing together eight case studies from Eastern Europe, France, Spain, China, Japan, Israel and Brazil, it provides valuable insights into this topic. The chapters analyse the political background of the reconstructions and identify the protagonists. In doing so, this volume adds to our understanding of the impact of reconstruction on memory and oblivion, as well as the critical power of reconstruction regarding contemporary architecture and urbanism. Architecture Against the Post-Political Nadir Lahiji, 2014-05-23

Written by a team of renowned contributors and carefully edited to address the themes laid out by the editors in their introduction, the book includes theoretical issues concerning the questions of aesthetics and politics and addresses city and urban strategies within the general critique of the post-political. By focusing on specific case studies from Warsaw, Barcelona, Dubai, Tokyo and many more, the book consolidates the contributions of a diverse group of academics, architects and critics from Europe, the Middle East and America. This collection fills the gap in the existing literature on the relation between politics and aesthetics and its implications for the theoretical discourse of architecture today. In summary, this book provides a response to the predominant de-politicization in academic discourse and is an attempt to re-claim the abandoned critical project in architecture. The Politics of Making Mark Swenarton,Igea Troiani,Helena Webster,2013-04-15 A unique collection of contemporary writings this book explores the politics involved in the making and experiencing of architecture and cities from a cross cultural and global perspective Taking a broad view of the word politics the essays address a range of questions including What is the relationship between politics and the making of space What role has theory played in reinforcing or resisting political power What are the political difficulties associated with working relationships Do the products of our making construct our identity or liberate us A timely volume focusing on an interdisciplinary debate on the politics of making this is valuable reading for all students professionals and academics interested or working in architectural theory Politics and Architecture ,1991
