Learning to Cooperate, Cooperating to Learn R. Hertz-Lazarowitz, S. Kagan, S. Sharan, R. Slavin, C. Webb, 2013-11-11
This book was written and edited as a project of the International Association for the Study of Cooperation in Education IASCE. It grew directly out of the second conference of the IASCE held at Brigham Young University Provo Utah in July 1982. The chapters in the book were originally presented in some form at the Provo conference though most have been considerably revised since that time. This is the second book sponsored by the IASCE the first Cooperation in Education Provo Utah Brigham Young University Press 1980 edited by Shlomo Sharan Paul Hare Clark Webb and Rachel Hertz Lazarowitz was based on the proceedings of the first conference of the IASCE in Tel Aviv Israel in 1979. The IASCE is a group of educators interested in studying developing or applying cooperative methods at various levels of the process of education. It includes researchers teacher educators teachers and school administrators from more than a dozen countries. Landscape of Hope and Despair Julie Peteet, 2011-06-03. Nearly half of the world's eight million Palestinians are registered refugees having faced partition and exile. Landscape of Hope and Despair examines this refugee experience in Lebanon through the medium of spatial practices and identity set against the backdrop of prolonged violence. Julie Peteet explores how Palestinians have dealt with their experience as refugees by focusing attention on how a distinctive Palestinian identity has emerged from and been informed by fifty years of refugee history. Concentrating ethnographic scrutiny on a site specific experience allows the author to shed light on the mutually constitutive character of place and cultural identification. Palestinian refugee camps are contradictory places sites of grim despair but also of hope and creativity. Within these cramped spaces refugees have crafted new worlds of meaning and visions of the possible in politics. In the process their historical predicament was a point of departure for social action and thus became radically transformed. Beginning with the calamity of 1948 Landscape of Hope and Despair traces the dialectic of place and cultural identification through the initial despair of the 1950s and early 1960s to the tumultuous days of the resistance and the violence of the Lebanese civil war and its aftermath. Most significantly this study invokes space place and identity to construct an alternative to the received national narratives of Palestinian society and history. The moving stories told here form a larger picture of these refugees as a people struggling to recreate their sense of place and identity and add meaning to their surroundings through the use of culture and memory.

Imaginary Betrayals Karen Cunningham, 2013-05-29. In 1352 King Edward III had expanded the legal definition of treason to include the act of imagining the death of the king opening up the category of constructive treason in which even a subject's thoughts might become the basis for prosecution. By the sixteenth century treason was perceived as an increasingly serious threat and policed with a new urgency. Referring to the extensive early modern literature on the subject of treason Imaginary

Betrays reveals how and to what extent ideas of proof and grounds for conviction were subject to prosecutorial construction during the Tudor period Karen Cunningham looks at contemporary records of three prominent cases in order to demonstrate the degree to which the imagination was used to prove treason the 1542 attainder of Katherine Howard fifth wife of Henry VIII charged with having had sexual relations with two men before her marriage the 1586 case of Anthony Babington and twelve confederates accused of plotting with the Spanish to invade England and assassinate Elizabeth and the prosecution in the same year of Mary Queen of Scots indicted for conspiring with Babington to engineer her own accession to the throne Linking the inventiveness of the accusations and decisions in these cases to the production of contemporary playtexts by Udall Shakespeare Marlowe and Kyd Imaginary Betrays demonstrates how the emerging flexible discourses of treason participate in defining both individual subjectivity and the legitimate Tudor state Concerned with competing representations of self and nationhood Imaginary Betrays explores the implications of legal and literary representations in which female sexuality male friendship or private letters are converted into the signs of treacherous imaginations

Gringolandia Stephen D. Morris, 2005 Mexico's views of the United States have been characterized as stridently anti American but recent policy changes in Mexico culminating with the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA mark a fundamental transformation in the relationship This thoughtful and original work answers questions about the impact of these policy shifts on Mexican nationalism and perceptions of the United States Have popular and elite views changed Has the government's anti American rhetoric become anachronistic What has been the effect on Mexican national identity As the only developing country to have entered into a free trade agreement with a developed country Mexico offers a unique and invaluable case study of the impact of globalization on a nation and its national identity Exploring Mexico's experience also allows us to consider how other countries perceive the United States especially in the post 9 11 climate Analyzing the diversity of Mexican views of the United States Gringolandia contributes a rich and nuanced dimension to our understanding of contemporary Mexico and Mexicans feelings about the vital cross border relationship have long been understudied In response this book introduces the concept of infrastructure aesthetics into the study of culture The concept is drawn from infrastructure studies media theory and aesthetic theory This volume develops it further addressing the analytical challenge of working with works that blur the boundaries between art and infrastructure both historically and in the present the aesthetic problem of assessing artistic forms that operate on an infrastructural level and the politics of artistic agency on a social level beyond the work s content or message As the relation between artworks and their institutional and social settings becomes infrastructural in nature we need to move beyond the reductive division of the study of artworks into production articulation and reception This book provides its readers with an innovative conceptual toolbox designed for precisely this task as well as a forceful set of exemplary case studies applying the concepts in theory and practice

Precarious Imaginaries of Beirut Judith Naeff, 2017-12-01 This book investigates a shared experience of time and space in the post civil war city of Beirut the suspended now Based on the close analysis of a large corpus of cultural objects including visual art literature architecture and cinema the book argues that last decades have witnessed a gradual shift in understanding this temporality from being a transitional phase to a more durable experience of precariousness The theoretically rich analyses take us on a journey through Beirut s real and imagined geographies from garbage dumps to real estate advertisements and from subterranean spaces to martyr s posters For scholars of cultural analysis urban studies cultural geography and critical theory the case of post 1990 Beirut offers a fascinating case of neoliberal urban renewal which challenges existing theories For scholars of Lebanon and Beirut this study complements existing work on post civil war Lebanese cultural production rooted in trauma studies by its focus on the city s continual exposure to violence

St. Nicholas and Mary Mapes Dodge Susan R. Gannon, Suzanne Rahn, Ruth Anne Thompson, 2004-07-15 St Nicholas has been called the best children s magazine ever published particularly during the tenure of its founding editor Mary Mapes Dodge From 1873 to 1905 Dodge worked to create what she called a pleasure ground for children a magazine that would have great impact on several generations of children The list of authors who wrote for her includes Louisa May Alcott Frances Hodgson Burnett Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Rudyard Kipling Theodore Roosevelt and Mark Twain The quality of the magazine s illustration was equally high The magazine was also the launching pad for a new generation of authors and artists such as F Scott Fitzgerald E B White Jack London and Eudora Welty This anthology of critical writing on St Nicholas includes some of the most influential articles already published and newly commissioned essays on a variety of subjects including the impact of the St Nicholas league the utopian thrust of the magazine s fiction and the story of the long and productive literary partnership between Dodge and Alcott Essays also analyze Dodge s relationship with her readers her editorial practice the illustrations American family life as seen by young British readers war and military life advertising and the middle class preoccupation with change of fortune tales The work places St Nicholas in American cultural history and analyzes how it both influenced and was influenced over thirty years Essential documentary material presently unpublished or inaccessible

Movies and Methods Bill Nichols, 1985-09-06 The original Movies and Methods volume 1976 captured the dynamic evolution of film theory and criticism into an important new discipline incorporating methods from structuralism semiotics and feminist thought Now there is again ferment in the field Movies and Methods Volume II captures the developments that have given history and genre studies imaginative new models and indicates how feminist structuralist and psychoanalytic approaches to film have achieved fresh valuable insights In his thoughtful introduction Nichols provides a context for the paradoxes that confront film studies today He shows how shared methods and approaches continue to stimulate much of the best writing about film points to common problems most critics and theorists have tried to resolve and describes the internal contradictions that have restricted the usefulness of post structuralism Mini introductions place each essay in a larger context and suggest its linkages with other essays in the volume A great variety of approaches and methods characterize film writing today and the final part conveys their diversity from statistical style analysis to phenomenology and from gay criticisms to neoformalism This concluding part also shows how the rigorous use of a broad range of approaches has helped remove post structuralist criticism from its position of dominance through most of the seventies and early eighties The writings collected in this volume exhibit not only a strong sense of personal engagement but als a persistent awareness of the social importance of the cinema in our culture Movies and Methods Volume II will prove as invaluable to the serious student of cinema as its predecessor it will be an essential reference work for years to come
