1. Brass is an alloy made from copper and zinc. A 0.59 kg brass candlestick has an initial temperature of 98.0°C. If  $2.11 \times 10^4$  J of energy is removed from the candlestick to lower its temperature to 6.8°C, what is the specific heat of brass?
2. Mercury has one of the lowest specific heats. This fact added to its liquid state at most atmospheric temperatures makes it effective for use in thermometers. If 257 J of energy are added to 0.450 kg of mercury, the mercury's temperature will increase by 4.09 K. What is the specific heat of mercury?
3. Bismuth's specific heat is 121 J/kg • K, the lowest of any non-radioactive metal. What is the mass of a bismuth sample if 25 J raises its temperature 5.0 K?

Chemical and Bioprocess Engineering Ricardo Simpson, Sudhir K. Sastry, 2013-12-04 The goal of this textbook is to provide first year engineering students with a firm grounding in the fundamentals of chemical and bioprocess engineering However instead of being a general overview of the two topics Fundamentals of Chemical and Bioprocess Engineering will identify and focus on specific areas in which attaining a solid competency is desired This strategy is the direct result of studies showing that broad based courses at the freshman level often leave students grappling with a lot of material which results in a low rate of retention Specifically strong emphasis will be placed on the topic of material balances with the intent that students exiting a course based upon this textbook will be significantly higher on Bloom s Taxonomy knowledge comprehension application analysis and synthesis evaluation creation relating to material balances In addition this book also provides students with a highly developed ability to analyze problems from the material balances perspective which leaves them with important skills for the future The textbook consists of numerous exercises and their solutions Problems are classified by their level of difficulty Each chapter has references and selected web pages to vividly illustrate each example In addition to engage students and increase their comprehension and rate of retention many examples involve real world situations A Mathematics Boot Camp for Science and Engineering Students Ying Ma, 2025-03-10 Many students have difficulty applying mathematical techniques to solve problems in science and engineering even after completing Calculus I and II Students who are beginning the core coursework in their field of study often need additional guidance on practicing learning and improving their problem solving skills for application The objectives of A Mathematics Boot Camp for Science and Engineering Students are to offer a solution to this issue and are specifically designed to address common errors in mathematical problem solving for undergraduate science and engineering students Teaches readers how to apply math skills as they transition to coursework in their chosen field of study Includes strategies and recommendations for quick improvement in problem solving skills Emphasizes the physical meanings of the problem which helps students develop a deep understanding of their field of study Features a broad range of example problems with detailed and easy to follow solutions for students to learn problem solving techniques and additional exercise problems for further practice and improvement Bridges the gap between the knowledge of mathematical techniques and the ability to apply those techniques to solve real
