Operator-Valued Measures, Dilations, and the Theory of Frames Deguang Han, David R. Larson, Bei Liu, Rui Liu, 2014-04-07 The authors develop elements of a general dilation theory for operator valued measures Hilbert space operator valued measures are closely related to bounded linear maps on abelian von Neumann algebras and some of their results include new dilation results for bounded linear maps that are not necessarily completely bounded and from domain algebras that are not necessarily abelian In the non cb case the dilation space often needs to be a Banach space They give applications to both the discrete and the continuous frame theory There are natural associations between the theory of frames including continuous frames and framings the theory of operator valued measures on sigma algebras of sets and the theory of continuous linear maps between algebras In this connection frame theory itself is identified with the special case in which the domain algebra for the maps is an abelian von Neumann algebra and the map is normal i e ultraweakly or weakly or w continuous

Access to Scientific Research David J. Brown, 2015-11-13 The debate about access to scientific research raises questions about the current effectiveness of scholarly communication processes This book explores from an independent point of view the current state of the STM publishing market new publishing technologies and business models as well as the information habit of researchers the politics of research funders and the demand for scientific research as a public good The book also investigates the democratisation of science including how the information needs of knowledge workers outside academia can be embraced in future
