Reforming Legal Education David M. Moss, Debra Moss

Curtis, 2012-11-01 In today's volatile law school environment curriculum reform has emerged as a significant focus. It is commonly understood that law schools effectively teach certain analytical skills but are less successful in other areas and often scramble to adapt to evolving aims. This book demonstrates how law schools are successfully reforming their curriculum and lays the framework to show how all schools of law can engage in a continuous reform model that proactively shapes our profession. It is expected that faculty and professional staff engaged in legal education will utilize this book as a primary resource to guide their respective reform efforts. Each contributed chapter presents a case study of a data-driven curriculum reform effort. The initial chapters set the conceptual context for the book while the final chapter offers summative recommendations for considering legal education reform as derived from the earlier case study chapters. This book adds significantly to the literature in legal education as we gain first-hand insight into evidence-based reform for the legal education community.

Curriculum Inquiry in South African Higher Education

Eli Bitzer, Nonnie Botha, 2011-11-01 At once evocative and suggestive, this exemplary book gives me hope that educators and scholars across the world will seize the opportunity to self-reflect and enlarge and enrich both their research and their practice in ways that will markedly contribute to the revitalisation of the higher learning in the twenty-first century. The urgency of the need for revitalisation of both research and practice in this domain of inquiry cannot be overstated. Prof Clifton Conrad, University of Wisconsin, Madison, USA.
