Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion For Crowley theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion invention The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently to discover new possibilities for thought and action and thereby to effect change in the world The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies It will be valuable to scholars teachers and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race gender and disability theories religious rhetorics digital rhetoric and the history of rhetoric Publication supported in part by the Texas Tech University Humanities Center Contributors Jason Barrett Fox Geoffrey Clegg Kirsti Cole Joshua Daniel Wariya Diane Davis Rebecca Disrud Bre Garrett Catherine C Gouge Debra Hawhee Matthew Heard Joshua C Hilst David G Holmes Bruce Horner William B Lalicker Jennifer Lin LeMesurier James C McDonald Timothy Oleksiak Dawn Penich Thacker J Blake Scott Victor J Vitanza Susan Wyche

Keywords in Composition Studies Paul Heilker,Peter Vandenberg,1996 Keywords in Composition Studies is the first systematic inquiry into the vocabulary of writing teachers and theorists In brief yet heavily researched essays contributors explore the development of and interconnections among fifty five of the most consequential words in the field It is with these critical terms that the contemporary field of composition has been composed and in this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is an introduction to the principal ideas and ideals of compositionists Yet this book is neither a dictionary nor an encyclopedia it does not attempt to capture the established knowledge of a unified discipline through its vocabulary but rather explores the multiple layers of meaning inhabiting the words writing teachers and theorists have depended and continue to depend on most Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open overdetermined The purpose of each essay is to foreground a range of meaning signified by its central term rather than to pinpoint a meaning In this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is a practical model for reading the texts of an expanding and unsettled field

Reprogrammable Rhetoric Michael J. Faris,Steve Holmes,2022-09-01 Reprogrammable Rhetoric offers new inroads for rhetoric and composition scholars past and present engagements with critical making Moving beyond arguments of inclusion and justifications for scholarly legitimacy and past historicizations of the material turn in the field this volume explores what these practices look like with both a theoretical and hands on how to approach Chapters function not only as critical illustrations or arguments for the use of reprogrammable circuits but also as pedagogical instructions that enable readers to easily use or modify these compositions for their own ends This collection offers nuanced theoretical perspectives on material and cultural rhetorics alongside practical tutorials for students researchers and teachers to explore critical making across traditional areas such as wearable sensors Arduinos Twitter bots multimodal pedagogy Raspberry Pis and paper circuitry as well as underexplored areas like play gaming text mining bots and electronic monuments Designed to be taught in upper division undergraduate and graduate classrooms these tutorials will benefit non expert and expert critical makers alike All contributed codes and scripts are also available on Utah State University Press s companion website to encourage downloading cloning and repurposing Contributors Aaron Beveridge Kendall Gerdes Kellie Gray Matthew Halm Steven Hammer Cana Uluak Itchuaqiyag John Jones M Bawar Khan Bree McGregor Sean Morey Ryan Omizo Andrew Pilsch David Rieder David Sheridan Wendi Sierra Nicholas Van Horn Networked Process Helen Foster, 2007-08-01 Helen Foster problematizes one of the dominant metaphors in rhetoric and composition the notion of writing process and in turn offers an important and engaging new approach for the future of the discipline one that directly addresses the complexities challenges and opportunities for writing research in a postmodern world Post-process Theory Thomas Kent, 1999 Breaking with the still dominant process tradition in composition studies post process theory or at least the different incarnations of post process theory discussed by the contributors represented in this collection of original essays endorses the fundamental idea that no codifiable or generalizable writing process exists or could exist Post process theorists hold that the practice of writing cannot be captured by a generalized process or a big theory Most post process theorists hold three assumptions about the act of writing writing is public writing is interpretive and writing is situated The first assumption is the commonsensical claim that writing constitutes a public interchange By interpretive act post process theorists generally mean something as broad as making sense of and not exclusively the ability to move from one code to another To interpret means more than merely to paraphrase it means to enter into a relationship of understanding with other language users And finally because writing is a public act that requires interpretive interaction with others writers always write from some position or some place Writers are never nowhere they are situated Leading theorists and widely published scholars in the field contributors are Nancy Blyler John Clifford Barbara Couture Nancy C DeJoy Sidney I Dobrin Elizabeth Ervin Helen Ewald David Foster Debra Journet Thomas Kent Gary A Olson Joseph Petraglia George Pullman David Russell and John Schilb Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works
