Engendering Violence in Papua New Guinea Margaret Jolly, Christine Stewart, Carolyn Brewer, 2012-07-01 This collection builds on previous works on gender violence in the Pacific but goes beyond some previous approaches to domestic violence or violence against women in analysing the dynamic processes of engendering violence in PNG Engendering refers not just to the sex of individual actors but to gender as a crucial relation in collective life and the massive social transformations ongoing in PNG conversion to Christianity the development of extractive industries the implanting of introduced models of justice and the law and the spread of HIV Hence the collection examines issues of troubled masculinities as much as battered women and tries to move beyond the black and white binaries of blaming either tradition or modernity as the primary cause of gender violence It relates original scholarly research in the villages and towns of PNG to questions of policy and practice and reveals the complexities and contestations in the local translation of concepts of human rights It will interest undergraduate and graduate students in gender studies and Pacific studies and those working on the policy and practice of combating gender violence in PNG and elsewhere

Managing Modernity in the Western

Pacific Martha Macintyre, 2014-06-01 Fast money schemes in Papua New Guinea collectivities in rural Solomon Islands gambling in the Cook Islands and the Vanuatu tax haven all feature in the interface between Pacific and global economies Since the 1970s Melanesian countries and their peoples have been beguiled by the prospect of economic development that would enable them to participate in a world market economic system Access to global markets would provide the means to improve their standard of living allowing them to take their places as independent nations in a modern world Managing Modernity in the Western Pacific takes a broad sweep through contemporary topics in Melanesian anthropology and ethnography With nuanced and rigorous scholarship it views contemporary debate on modernity in Melanesia within the context of the global economy and cultural capitalism In particular contributors assess local ideas about wealth success speculation and development and their connections to participation in institutions and activities generated by them This innovative and accessible collection offers a new intersection between Western Pacific anthropology and global studies

Informal Nationalism After Communism Abel Polese, Oleksandra Seliverstova, Emilia Pawlusz, Jeremy Morris, 2018-03-20 Since the collapse of the Soviet Union nation building and identity construction in the post socialist region have been the subject of extensive academic research The majority of these studies have taken a top down approach focusing on the variety of ways in which governments have sought to define the nascent nation states and in the process have often oversimplified the complex and overlapping processes at play across the region Drawing on research on the Balkans Central Asia the Caucasus and Eastern Europe this book focuses instead on the role of non traditional non politicised and non elite actors in the construction of identity Across topics as diverse as school textbooks turbofolk and home decoration contributors each an academic with extensive on the ground experience identify and analyse the ways that individuals living across the post socialist region redefine identity on a daily basis often by manipulating and adapting state policy In the process Nation Building in the Post Socialist Region demonstrates the necessity of holistic trans national and inter disciplinary approaches to national identity construction rather than studies limited to a single state territory This is important reading for all scholars and policymakers working on the post socialist region

Hybridity on the Ground in Peacebuilding and Development Joanne Wallis, Lia Kent, Miranda Forsyth, Sinclair Dinnen, Srinjoy Bose, 2018-03-01 Hybridity on the Ground in Peacebuilding and Development engages with the possibilities and pitfalls of the increasingly popular notion of hybridity The hybridity concept has been embraced by scholars and practitioners in response to the social and institutional complexities of peacebuilding and development practice In particular the concept appears well suited to making sense of the mutually constitutive outcomes of processes of interaction between diverse norms institutions actors and discourses in the context of contemporary peacebuilding and development engagements At the same time it has been criticised from a variety of perspectives for overlooking critical questions of history power and scale The authors in this interdisciplinary collection draw on their in depth knowledge of peacebuilding and development contexts in different parts of Asia the Pacific and Africa to examine the messy and dynamic realities of hybridity on the ground By critically exploring the power dynamics and the diverse actors ideas practices and sites that shape hybrid peacebuilding and development across time and space this book offers fresh insights to hybridity debates that will be of interest to both scholars and practitioners Hybridity has become an influential idea in peacebuilding and this volume will undoubtedly become the most influential collection on the idea Nuance and sophistication characterises this engagement with hybridity Professor John Braithwaite

million people every year and that number is expected to double by the year 2020 Despite its enormous toll on human health tobacco has been largely neglected by anthropologists Drinking Smoke combines an exhaustive search of historical materials on the introduction and spread of tobacco in the Pacific with extensive anthropological accounts of the ways Islanders have incorporated this substance into their lives The author uses a relatively new concept called a syndemic the synergistic interaction of two or more afflictions contributing to a greater burden of disease in a population to focus at once on the health of a community political and economic structures and the wider physical and social environment and ultimately provide an in depth analysis of smoking s negative health impact in Oceania In Drinking Smoke the idea of a syndemic is applied to the current health crisis in the Pacific where the number of deaths from coronary heart disease cancer diabetes and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease continues to rise and the case is made that smoking tobacco in the form of industrially manufactured cigarettes is the keystone of the contemporary syndemic in Oceania The author shows how tobacco consumption particularly cigarette smoking after World War II has become the central interstitial element of a syndemic that produces most of the morbidity and mortality Pacific Islanders suffer This syndemic is made up of a bundle of diseases and conditions a set of historical circumstances and events and social and health inequities most easily summed up as poverty He calls this the tobacco syndemic and argues that smoking is the crucial behavior the glue holding all of these diseases and conditions together Drinking Smoke is the first book length examination of the damaging tobacco syndemic in a specific world region It is a must read for scholars and students of anthropology Pacific studies history and economic globalization as well as for public health practitioners and those working in allied health fields More broadly the book will appeal to anyone concerned with disease interaction the social context of disease production and the full health consequences of the global promotional efforts of Big Tobacco

Consumer Culture Douglas Goodman,Mirelle Cohen,2003-11-17 An engrossing review of the development of global consumerism and its impact on sociological issues The phrase shop till you drop has become as American as apple pie and the trend does not appear to be slowing Consumer Culture begins with the history of the consumer culture which reveals that our fascination with consuming shows not only the hidden significance of everyday items such as sugar and fashionable clothing but also reveals the uniqueness of our way of life Consumer Culture also presents the views of economists and sociologists who see consumption as an expression of freedom The book covers the social impact of consumption examining such dubious milestones as physical attacks upon McDonald s and Starbucks and best sellers that are critical of consumption There is coverage of important research such as whether consumers are making rational or impulsive choices and the effect of advertising on children

Nationalist Entrepreneurs and Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia Jiun Bang,2025-09-24 This book explores how nationalism surrounding territorial sovereignty requires a domestic nationalist ecosystem aka the Nationalist Industrial Complex to sustain public interest It focuses on nationalist entrepreneurs representing local merchants who commodify nationalism by building businesses that explicitly incorporate elements of territorial sovereignty protection e g food and apparel with the insignia of a disputed territory The author argues that this mundane everyday activity of commodification co constitutes public interest surrounding territorial sovereignty and explains why nationalism might be more contingent than permanent Despite its prevalence the commodification of nationalism is one of the most under explored areas This fresh insight on how everyday nationalism can influence ordinary people s understanding of or attention to nationalistic issues will be of interest to scholars and students of East Asian international relations nationalism security studies area studies and comparative politics
