Green Earth The Science In The Capital:

Green Earth Kim Stanley Robinson, 2015-11-03 The landmark trilogy of cutting edge science international politics and the real life ramifications of climate change updated and abridged into a single novel More than a decade ago bestselling author Kim Stanley Robinson began a groundbreaking series of near future eco thrillers Forty Signs of Rain Fifty Degrees Below and Sixty Days and Counting that grew increasingly urgent and vital as global warming continued unchecked Now condensed into one volume and updated with the latest research this sweeping trilogy gains new life as Green Earth a chillingly realistic novel that plunges readers into great floods a modern Ice Age and the political fight for all our lives The Arctic ice pack averaged thirty feet thick in midwinter when it was first measured in the 1950s By the end of the century it was down to fifteen One August the ice broke The next year the breakup started in July The third year it began in May That was last year It s a muggy summer in Washington D C as Senate environmental staffer Charlie Quibler and his scientist wife Anna work to call attention to the growing crisis of global warming But as they fight to align the extraordinary march of modern technology with the awesome forces of nature fate puts an unusual twist on their efforts one that will pit science against politics in the heart of the coming storm Praise for the Science in the Capital trilogy Perhaps it s no coincidence that one of our most visionary hard sci fi writers is also a profoundly good nature writer all the better to tell us what it is we have to lose Los Angeles Times An unforgettable demonstration of what can go wrong when an ecological balance is upset The New York Times Book Review Absorbing and convincing Nature

Green Earth Kim Stanley Robinson, 2015 Green Earth takes the stories first told in Forty Signs of Rain Fifty Degrees Below and Sixty Days and Counting and combines them in a fully updated compressed and compelling single volume Catastrophe is in the air Increasingly strange weather events are pummeling the Earth When the Gulf Stream shuts down and the Antarctic ice sheet starts melting climate extremes multiply and some winters hit like an ice age New US President Phil Chase is on a mission he s determined to solve climate change His science advisor Frank Vanderwal is a bit more messed up When massive floods hit Washington Frank finds himself living in a treehouse and in love with a woman who s definitely not what she seems one who will draw him into the shadowy world of Homeland Security and other blacker agencies Only science can save the day Frank knows he has to find a way to save the world so that science can proceed

Spatial Futures LaToya E. Eaves, Heidi J. Nast, Alex G. Papadopoulos, 2024-05-11 Spatial Futures invites readers to imagine power and freedom through the lens of the Black Outdoors a transdisciplinary spatial concept that operates beyond the planetary stratigraphic confines of the Anthropocene The chapters collectively point to the ontological epistemological contradictions involved in forging liberatory spatial futures Bringing new spatial imaginaries to bear in and outside geography the book refuses the strictures of the cenic entertaining difference as world making

Vegetarianism and Science Fiction Joshua Bulleid, 2023-10-06 Vegetarianism and Science Fiction A History of Utopian Animal Ethics examines how vegetarian ideals promoted within science fiction and utopian literature have had a real world impact on the awareness and spread of vegetarianism and animal advocacy as well as how the genres engagements have been altered to reflect changes in ethical and environmental philosophy Author Joshua Bulleid examines the representation of vegetarianism in the works of major science fiction authors including Mary Shelley H G Wells Arthur C Clarke Philip K Dick Ursula K Le Guin Ernest Callenbach Marge Piercy Octavia E Butler Kim Stanley Robinson and Margaret Atwood within their evolving social contexts tracing the development of vegetarian trends and their science fictional representations from the early nineteenth century to the present day Kim Stanley Robinson Andrew

Rowcroft,2024-05-03 Kim Stanley Robinson remains one of the most progressive writers working today His novels and short stories have mapped cycles of capitalist violence economic expansion and material despoliation in turn proposing radical visions of social and economic justice through cooperatives collective agreements and stewardship of the environment But if Robinson is readily considered a political author less attention has been paid to his craft and composition This book examines Robinson s concern with literary apprenticeship In novels such as the post apocalyptic The Wild Shore the intergenerational star ship narrative Aurora and the tale of Ice Age hunters Shaman Robinson creates characters who struggle with and against storytelling In these fictions apprentices battle against the limits of their interpretative powers as they come to recognise the real pleasures and the intense hardships of art and narrative Future Freedoms Elizabeth K.

Markovits,2017-10-02 What do present generations owe the future In Future Freedoms Elizabeth Markovits asks readers to consider the fact that while democracy holds out the promise of freedom and autonomy citizens are always bound by the decisions made by previous generations Motivated by the contemporary political and theoretical landscape Markovits examines the relationship between democratic citizenship and time by engaging ancient Greek tragedy and comedy She reveals the ways in which democratic thought in the West has often hinged on ignoring intergenerational relationships and the obligations they create in favor of an emphasis on freedom as sovereignty She claims that democratic citizens must develop a set of self directed practices that better acknowledge citizens connections across time cultivating a particular orientation toward themselves as part of much larger transgenerational assemblages As celebrations and critiques of Athenian political identity the ancient plays at the core of Future Freedoms remind readers that intergenerational questions strike at the heart of the democratic sensibility This invaluable book will be of interest to students researchers and scholars of political theory the history of political thought classics and social and political philosophy Science and Moral

Imagination Matthew J. Brown,2020-11-17 The idea that science is or should be value free and that values are or should be formed independently of science has been under fire by philosophers of science for decades Science and Moral Imagination directly challenges the idea that science and values cannot and should not influence each other Matthew J Brown argues that science and values mutually influence and implicate one another that the influence of values on science is pervasive and must be responsibly managed and that science can and should have an influence on our values This interplay he explains must be guided by accounts of scientific inquiry and value judgment that are sensitive to the complexities of their interactions Brown presents scientific inquiry and value judgment as types of problem solving practices and provides a new framework for thinking about how we might ethically evaluate episodes and decisions in science while offering guidance for scientific practitioners and institutions about how they can incorporate value judgments into their work His framework dubbed the ideal of moral imagination emphasizes the role of imagination in value judgment and the positive role that value judgment plays in science

The Novel and the Problem of New Life Aaron Matz,2021-07-15 An expansive study of the novel's moral ambivalence toward procreation from the nineteenth century through modernism to the present

Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal,Jason de Lara Molesky,2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth's ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn

Ethics for the Future Stephanie Bender,2023-06-02 Which of the possible futures might be a good future and how do we know Stephanie Bender looks at contemporary films and novels to address major ethical challenges of the future the ecological catastrophe digitalisation and biotechnology She proposes that fiction and its modes of aesthetic simulation and emotional engagement offer a different way of knowing and judging possible futures From a critical posthumanist angle she discusses works ranging from Don DeLillo's Zero K 2017 and Margaret Atwood's MaddAddam Trilogy 2003 2013 to Kim Stanley Robinson's New York 2140 as well as Avatar 2009 and Blade Runner 2049 2017 among many others

Trauma and the Discourse of Climate Change Lee Zimmerman,2020-03-24 The more the global north has learned about the existential threat of climate change the faster it has emitted greenhouse gases into the atmosphere In Trauma and the Discourse of Climate Change Lee Zimmerman thinks about why this is by examining how climate change has been discursively constructed tracing how the ways we talk and write about climate change have worked to normalize a generalized bipartisan denialism more profound than that of the overt denialists Suggesting that we understand that normalized denial as a form of cultural trauma the book explores how the dominant ways of figuring knowledge about global warming disarticulate that knowledge from the trauma those figurations both represent and reproduce and by which they remain inhabited and haunted Its early chapters consider that process in representations of climate change across a range of disciplines and throughout the public sphere including Al Gore's An Inconvenient Truth

Barack Obama's speeches and climate plans and the 2015 Paris Agreement. Later chapters focus on how literary representations especially for the most part participate in such disarticulations and on how in grappling with the representational difficulties at the climate crisis's heart some works of fiction among them Cormac McCarthy's The Road and Russell Hoban's Riddley Walker work against that normalized rhetorical violence. The book closes with a meditation centered on the dream of the burning child. Freud sketches in The Interpretation of Dreams highlighting the existential stakes of the ways we think and write about the climate. Trauma and the Discourse of Climate Change aims to offer an unfamiliar place from which to engage the astonishing quiescence of our ecocidal present. This book will be essential reading for academics and students of psychoanalysis, environmental humanities, trauma studies, literature and environmental studies as well as activists and others drawn to thinking about the climate crisis. Apocalypse in Crisis Christopher Palmer, 2021-10-15

Apocalypse is traditional and familiar and it is an actual threat; it is feared, desired, and banal. Apocalypse in Crisis discusses fictions from the 1940s to the present, examining shifts in the imagination of apocalypse from the postwar British disaster novels through novels of the countercultural sixties, feminist interventions, and recent revisions and critiques. As empire fades, ideas of sexuality shift and attitudes to nature and to the city change, so apocalyptic fictions change. The individual subject is asserted, immolated, transcended, abandoned; individual deaths are substituted for mass death; death is faked or erased. The subjects and survivors of catastrophe set about re-establishing civilization or they abandon it, finding new ways of being and of dying; they respond to it when it comes from outside as an invasion or they are immersed in it as it shifts from being an event to being a condition. They flee the city for the country or accept that they must draw on the energies of the world city in order to survive. The book includes detailed discussion of novels by H. G. Wells, George M. Stewart, Nevil Shute, John Wyndham, Arthur C. Clarke, J. G. Ballard, Brian Aldiss, Doris Lessing, Angela Carter, Anna Kavan, Arno Schmidt, Anthony Burgess, Ursula K. Le Guin, Tom Perrotta, Douglas Coupland, Don DeLillo, China Miéville, Jeff VanderMeer, and Kim Stanley Robinson. The

Cambridge Companion to Literature and Climate Adeline Johns-Putra, Kelly Sultzbach, 2022-04-07. This volume unfolds the complex relationship between literature and climate by uniquely illuminating historical complexity, diverse viewpoints, and emerging issues. Kim Stanley Robinson Robert Markley, 2019-10-30. Award-winning epics like the Mars Trilogy and groundbreaking alternative histories like The Days of Rice and Salt have brought Kim Stanley Robinson to the forefront of contemporary science fiction. Mixing subject matter from a dizzying number of fields with his own complex ecological and philosophical concerns, Robinson explores how humanity might pursue utopian social action as a strategy for its own survival. Robert Markley examines the works of an author engaged with the fundamental question of how we as individuals, as a civilization, and as a species might go forward. By building stories on huge time scales, Robinson lays out the scientific and human processes that fuel humanity's struggle toward a more just and environmentally stable world or system of worlds. His works invite readers to contemplate how to achieve and live in these numerous possible futures. They also challenge us to see that SF's literary cultural and philosophical significance have made it the preeminent literary genre for examining where we stand today in human and planetary history

The Cambridge Companion to Twenty-First Century American Fiction Joshua Miller, 2021-09-23 Reading lists course syllabi and prizes include the phrase 21st century American literature but no critical consensus exists regarding when the period began which works typify it how to conceptualize its aesthetic priorities and where its geographical boundaries lie Considerable criticism has been published on this extraordinary era but little programmatic analysis has assessed comprehensively the literary and critical theoretical output to help readers navigate the labyrinth of critical pathways In addition to ensuring broad coverage of many essential texts The Cambridge Companion to 21st Century American Fiction offers state of the field analyses of contemporary narrative studies that set the terms of current and future research and teaching Individual chapters illuminate critical engagements with emergent genres and concepts including flash fiction speculative fiction digital fiction alternative temporalities Afro futurism ecocriticism transgender queer studies anti carceral fiction precarity and post 9 11 fiction

Greentopia: Utopian Thought in the Anthropocene Angela Kallhoff, Eva Liedauer, 2024-06-18 Greentopia Utopian Thought in the Anthropocene provides new ways of imagining the future interface between society and non human nature and brings into focus the possibility of a peaceful coexistence Greentopia is a mode of thought that takes us beyond mourning environmental degradation and ecological catastrophe The absence of already paved paths in the area gives space for a variety of experiments in thinking The book interprets its subject Greentopia as a method of re imagination yet also as a very concrete practice It brings together researchers from different areas to investigate environmental utopia from their respective angles The present volume is of highest interest for environmental ethicists but also of interest for anyone involved in current discourses on utopianism life in the Anthropocene environmental crises the future of agriculture and green cities

Speaking Out of Place David Palumbo-Liu, 2021-12-07 Speaking Out of Place helps us find value and inspiration in others who have made change in the world where such things were not supposed to be possible From protests in sports arenas to sonic transgressions of racist boundaries to protest camps and covert collaborations with imprisoned people and environmental activism based on Indigenous notions of justice We learn how to re place education circumvent pundits and recall judges And we learn to defend our home the planet Speaking Out of Place asks us to reconceptualize both what we think politics is and our relationship to it Especially at this historical moment when it is all too possible we will move from Trump's fascistic regime to Biden's anti progressive centrism we need ways to build off the tremendous growth we have seen in democratic socialism and to gather strength and courage for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead

Eco-Literature and Environmental Advocacy Nasser Dasht Peyma,

Literary Animal Studies and the Climate Crisis Sune Borkfelt, Matthias Stephan, 2022-11-22 Literary Animal Studies and the Climate Crisis connects insights from the field of literary animal studies with the urgent issues of climate change and environmental degradation and features considerations of new interventions by literature in relation to these pressing questions and debates This volume informs academic debates in terms of how nonhuman animals figure in our cultural imagination of topics such as climate change extinction animal otherness the posthuman and environmental crises Using a diverse set of methodologies each chapter presents relevant cases which discuss the various aspects of these interstices This volume is an intersection between literary animal studies and climate fiction intended as an interdisciplinary intervention that speaks to the global climate debate and is thus relevant across the environmental humanities

Perspectives on Ecocriticism Ingemar Haag, Karin Molander Danielsson, Marie Öhman, 2019-05-08 This volume gathers together papers presented at the conference Ecocriticism in the Nordic Countries Yesterday Today Tomorrow held in Västerås Sweden in 2017 organized by the research group Ecocritical Forum at Mälardalen University The conference which was an attempt to survey local ecocritical activities transcended Nordic boundaries engaging scholars from Europe and the United States This expansion from the local to the global mirrors the subject of the conference ecocriticism a cross disciplinary field of research in the intersection of environmental issues and cultural expressions The chapters here engage with topical issues such as the Anthropocene sustainability in education and civilizational critique as well as schools of thought such as materialism dark ecology and animal studies The contributions discuss several types of cultural expressions including film and other visual media university course design and Nordic and English language novels and poetry This volume will attract the interest of readers from a number of different backgrounds both in the Nordic countries and internationally
