revises specific critically important topics in Southeast Asian history on which much conventional knowledge of Southeast Asia has long been based. It is of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian Studies as well as Asian History.

Prehistoric Maritime Cultures and Seafaring in East Asia Chunming Wu, Barry Vladimir Rolett, 2019-12-03. This book focuses on prehistoric East Asian maritime cultures that predated the Maritime Silk Road, the Four Seas and Four Oceans navigation system recorded in historical documents of ancient China. Origins of the Maritime Silk Road can be traced to prosperous Neolithic and Metal Age maritime-oriented cultures dispersed along the coastlines of prehistoric China and Southeast Asia. The topics explored here include Neolithisation and the development of prehistoric maritime cultures during the Neolithic and early Metal Age, the expansion and interaction of these cultures along coastlines and across straits, the two-layer hypothesis for explaining genetic and cultural diversity in south China and Southeast Asia, prehistoric seafaring and early sea routes, the paleogeography and vegetation history of coastal regions, Neolithic maritime livelihoods based on hunting, fishing, foraging, adaptations, rice and millet cultivation, and their dispersal along the coast and across the open sea, and interaction between farmers and maritime-oriented hunter-fisher foragers. In addition, a series of case studies enhances understanding of the development of prehistoric navigation and the origin of the Maritime Silk Road in the Asia-Pacific region.

The East Asian Mediterranean Angela Schottenhammer, 2008. The present volume is a collection of papers originally presented for the concluding conference of the research project 'The East Asian Mediterranean' entitled 'The East Asian Mediterranean: Maritime Crossroads of Culture, Commerce and Human Migration' and held at Munich University from November 2-3, 2007. The papers in this volume have been arranged according to thematic sections: that is, Mediterranean Seas from East Asia to East Africa; Merchants and merchant networks; Commodities and transport; and finally, Trade parameters and perceptions, each section covering a different aspect of trade, diplomacy and perceptions across and within the East Asian and Asian waters. In order to show the variety and the different qualities of interaction and exchange relations, we have selected case studies with a main focus lying on Sino-Japanese, Sino-Ryukyuan and Japanese-Korean relations, as well as the involvement of Muslim merchants in the Asian waters. The volume, in particular, tries to draw the readers' attention to the necessity and the advantages of international cooperation and interaction investigating topics of Asian history.

Archaeology of East Asian Shipbuilding Jun Kimura, 2016-04-12. North American Society for Oceanic History John Lyman Book Award in Naval and Maritime Reference Works and Published Primary Sources Honorable Mention. In this innovative study, Jun Kimura integrates historical data with archaeological findings to examine a wide array of eleventh through nineteenth-century ships from China, Korea and Japan. Chinese junks and Japanese sailing ships were known throughout the world, and this work illustrates why their innovative designs have survived the centuries. Kimura presents an extensive dataset of excavated coastal and oceangoing ships that traveled the Yellow Sea, the East China Sea and the South China Sea. Three detailed case studies include the Shinan and Quanzhou wrecks and the Takashima underwater site. Using travel documents, cargo manifests, iconographic paintings and other descriptive resources as well as the archaeological evidence of hull components wooden timbers and iron remains Kimura sheds new light on East Asian shipbuilding traditions

A View from the Highlands Mai Lin Tjoa-Bonatz, 2019-11-07 This book analyses the rise of the settlement system in the heartland of the Minangkabau region in the highlands of West Sumatra Indonesia It explores the regional settlement pattern arising from Adityavarman s highland interregnum c 1347 75 and provides the first attempt to place the archaeological remains and the landscape of Tanah Datar a fertile plain in the highlands of West Sumatra in a cultural historic synthesis The core of this research consisted of excavations at Bukit Gombak and Bukit Kincir Bukit Gombak was a central place in Adityavarman s kingdom and provides evidence of the organization and material development of this political entity Surveys uncovered other settlements that could be examined in relation to each other and to sites from earlier and later periods and used to sketch out the settlement history of Tanah Datar from prehistoric times to the colonial period The book consists of detailed studies of metal ceramics and glass finds by laboratory based specialists as well as careful descriptions of stone clay and other finds

The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology Alexis Catsambis, Ben Ford, Donny L. Hamilton, 2011-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology is a comprehensive survey of the field as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology This volume draws on many of the distinct and universal aspects of maritime archaeology bringing them together under four main themes the research process ships and shipwrecks maritime and nautical culture and issues of preservation and management The first section of the book deals with the best practices for locating documenting excavating and analyzing submerged sites This methodological foundation is followed by a sample of shipwreck studies from around the world as scholars trace the regional development of ships and seafaring Chosen to balance the traditional core regions of maritime archaeology with important but lesser studied areas it aims at offering an international account of the study of submerged sites Reflecting the growing number of scholars who study past maritime cultures but not shipwrecks the third section of the book addresses various aspects of the maritime landscape and ethnography above and below the water The final chapters then approach maritime archaeology in a broader context moving beyond archaeological sites to discuss the archaeological record in general within legal preservation and management frameworks Taken together these individual and original articles provide a valuable resource that summarizes the current state of the field of maritime archaeology and offers insight into the future of this established and growing discipline Transformative Jars Anna Grasskamp, Anne

Gerritsen, 2022-12-01 The term jar refers to any man made shape with the capacity to enclose something Few objects are as universal and multi functional as a jar regardless of whether they contain food or drink matter or a void life giving medicine or the ashes of the deceased As ubiquitous as they may seem such containers storage vessels and urns are as this book demonstrates highly significant cultural and historical artefacts that mediate between content and environment exterior worlds and interior enclosures local and global this worldly and otherworldly realms The contributors to this volume understand jars not only as household utensils or evidence of human civilizations but also as artefacts in their own right Asian jars are culturally and aesthetically defined crafted goods and as objects charged with spiritual meanings and ritual significance Transformative Jars situates Asian jars in a global context and focuses on relationships between the filling emptying and re filling of jars with a variety of contents and meanings through time and throughout space Transformative Jars brings together an interdisciplinary team of scholars with backgrounds in curating art history and anthropology to offer perspectives that go beyond archaeological approaches with detailed analyses of a broad range of objects By looking at jars as things in the hands of makers users and collectors this book presents these objects as agents of change in cultures of craftsmanship and consumption A History of Maritime Trade in Northern Vietnam, 12th to 18th Centuries Yuriko

Kikuchi, 2021-10-21 This book analyzes the role of i Vi t Vietnam in the maritime Asian trading network of the thirteenth through the eighteenth centuries as it systematically integrates the results of archaeological investigations The first half of the book consolidates reports from excavations conducted at V n n and Ph Hi n trading ports of i Vi t incorporating sophisticated archaeological techniques distinctive of Japan in the presentations of the data These are accompanied by precise scale drawings detailed classifications and quantitative analyses of unearthed artifacts The latter half of the book discusses the materials discovered in archaeological investigations specifically ceramics and coins in terms of the relations among sites and networks of production distribution and consumption from a broader Asian geohistorical perspective To this end the diplomatic policies and trading activities of each era in Vietnam are discussed integrating the results of archaeological investigations with studies of historical documents Expanding beyond Vietnam results of the archaeological investigations in other maritime Asian countries such as Japan Indonesia Laos and the Philippines are introduced to inform a comparative study that combines all such data from both archaeology and history in a single volume as materials for broader discussion This book is expected to contribute to international academic discourse on the history of maritime Asia and help open a new phase of scholarly endeavor in this field Bujangga Manik Alexander Joseph West, 2025-05-26 Bujangga Manik is a narrative poem in Old Sundanese which opens a window onto the world of late 15th century maritime Southeast Asia The poem describes the spiritual development of a young man from Paka cilan in what is now West Java as he walks and sails
