Framing a Lost City Amy Cox Hall, 2017-11-22 When Hiram Bingham a historian from Yale University first saw Machu Picchu in 1911 it was a ruin obscured by overgrowth whose terraces were farmed a by few families A century later Machu Picchu is a UNESCO world heritage site visited by more than a million tourists annually This remarkable transformation began with the photographs that accompanied Bingham's article published in National Geographic magazine which depicted Machu Picchu as a lost city discovered Focusing on the practices technologies and materializations of Bingham's three expeditions to Peru 1911 1912 1914 1915 this book makes a convincing case that visualization particularly through the camera played a decisive role in positioning Machu Picchu as both a scientific discovery and a Peruvian heritage site Amy Cox Hall argues that while Bingham's expeditions relied on the labor knowledge and support of Peruvian elites intellectuals and peasants the practice of scientific witnessing and photography specifically converted Machu Picchu into a cultural artifact fashioned from a distinct way of seeing Drawing on science and technology studies she situates letter writing artifact collecting and photography as important expeditionary practices that helped shape the way we understand Machu Picchu today Cox Hall also demonstrates that the photographic evidence was unstable and as images circulated worldwide the lost city took on different meanings especially in Peru which came to view the site as one of national patrimony in need of protection from expeditions such as Bingham's The Lost Civilization Enigma Philip Coppens, 2012-10-22 An examination of archaeological controversies with arguments showing evidence of prehistoric civilizations not recorded as part of human history Are history books giving us the whole story Or is civilization far more complex and older than we have been taught Our school textbooks barely mention the 6 000 year old Sumerian civilization yet the latest archaeological findings at sites such as Jericho and most recently Gobekli Tepe in Turkey have been dated to 10 000 BC Civilization goes back at least another 10 000 years if we are willing to believe what our ancestors themselves claimed The Lost Civilization Enigma reveals the truth about Lost magnitudes to known cultures such as the Bosnian Pyramids and the civilization of Old Europe The fabled lost golden cities of South America and the Amazon which are slowly being rediscovered Fascinating examples of lost technology such as the Antikythera Device Atlantis and the fact that it was a real civilization Analyzing the historical and archaeological record best selling author Philip Coppens demonstrates that there is substantial evidence that civilization is far older far more advanced and far more special than is currently accepted Clearly our history books have left out a great deal Summary of David Grann's The Lost City of Z Everest
