Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel M. Mbah, 2023-08-29 Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Gender Religion and Ethno cultural Identities explores the changing dynamics of identities in Africa with a focus on gender ethno cultural and religious identity Toyin Falola and Emmanuel M Mbah argue that because identity defines who we are as individuals or groups studies on African identities must focus on understanding the changing dynamics in the socio economic and political spheres in the continent These chapters cover subjects such as women s career identity gender roles and knowledge childlessness ethnocentrism and democracy cultural identity through theater Black identity in the diaspora and diasporic consciousness Using existing scholarship the chapters in this edited volume challenge our understanding of what identity entails and provide new discussions on the hitherto politicized historiography of some identities in Africa

Facing Forward Sajitha Bashir, Marlaine Lockheed, Elizabeth Ninan, Jee-Peng Tan, 2018-09-20 Facing Forward lays out a range of policy and implementation actions that are needed for countries in Sub Saharan Africa to meet the challenge of improving learning while expanding access and completion of basic education for all The book underscores the importance of aligning the education system to be relentlessly focused on learning outcomes and to ensuring that all children have access to good schools good learning materials and good teachers It is unique in characterizing countries according to the challenges they faced in the 1990s and the educational progress they have made over the past 25 years allowing countries in the region to learn from each other The authors review the global literature and add to it by their extensive new analyses of multiple datasets from more than three dozen countries in the region they integrate findings about what affects children s learning their access to schooling and progress through basic education The book draws lessons from the region and for the region about what works and what is needed to better implement what is known to have worked The book examines four areas to help countries better align their systems to improve learning 1 completing the unfinished agenda of reaching universal basic education with quality 2 ensuring effective management and support of teachers 3 targeting spending priorities and budget processes on improving quality and 4 closing the institutional capacity gap It concludes with an assessment of how future educational progress may be affected by projected fertility rates and economic growth

Myths and Tradeoffs National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, Steering Committee for the Workshop on Higher Education Admissions, 1999-07-26 More than 8 million students enrolled in 4 year degree granting postsecondary institutions in the United States in 1996 The multifaceted system through which these students applied to and were selected by the approximately 2 240 institutions in which they enrolled is complex to say the least for students parents and advisers it is often stressful and sometimes bewildering This process raises important questions about the social goals that underlie the sorting of students and it has been the subject of considerable controversy The role of standardized tests in this sorting process has been one of the principal flashpoints in discussions of its fairness Tests have been cited as the chief evidence of unfairness in lawsuits over admissions decisions criticized as biased against minorities and women and blamed for the fierce competitiveness of the process Yet tests have also been praised for their value in providing a common yardstick for comparing students from diverse schools with different grading standards Myths and Tradeoffs identifies and corrects some persistent myths about standardized admissions tests and highlight some of the specific tradeoffs that decisions about the uses of tests entail presents conclusions and recommendations about the role of tests in college admissions and lays out several issues about which information would clearly help decision makers but about which the existing data are either insufficient or need synthesis and interpretation This report will benefit a broad audience of college and university officials state and other officials and lawmakers and others who are wrestling with decisions about admissions policies definitions of merit legal actions and other issues      Report of Results of College Admissions Testing in Texas for 1988/89 Public High School Seniors Texas Education Agency,1990
