Cunningham and John Cage's residencies at North Carolina's Black Mountain College and the Memphis studio where Sam Phillips and Elvis Presley created a new music for the American teenager. He examines the post-war vogue for French existentialism, structuralism and post-structuralism, the rise of abstract expressionism and pop art, Allen Ginsberg's friendship with Lionel Trilling, James Baldwin's transformation into a Civil Rights spokesman, Susan Sontag's challenges to the New York Intellectuals, the defeat of obscenity laws and the rise of the New Hollywood. Stressing the rich flow of ideas across the Atlantic, he also shows how Europeans played a vital role in promoting and influencing American art and entertainment. By the end of the Vietnam era, the American government had lost the moral prestige it enjoyed at the end of the Second World War, but America's once despised culture had become respected and adored. With unprecedented verve and range, this book explains how that happened.

Reference Laure Gardelle, Laurence Vincent-Durroux, Hélène Vinckel-Roisin, 2023-02-02. This volume provides an innovative approach to the referential process thanks to its focus on the relationship between conventions and discourse pragmatics. It brings together a cross-section of current research on referential conventions and pragmatic strategies in a number of different fields: formal and theoretical linguistics, semantics, discourse analysis, psycholinguistics, interactional linguistics, natural language processing in a variety of verbal and non-verbal languages, English, German, different varieties of French, Indonesian, French, Belgian Sign Language, and in a diversity of contexts: the coining of names, language acquisition, second language learning, and various genres such as news articles, narratives, satire, or game playing. The volume is meant as a series of thought-provoking studies which place speakers and addressees at the core of the referential act, thus providing evidence on how they negotiate and adjust depending on the context.

Ralph Waldo Emerson Marie Dugard, 1907. French Today Carol Sanders, 1993-04-08. French Today is a profile of the French language in its social context. British and French linguists examine trends in French throughout the French-speaking world and address issues around prescriptivism, gender and language, and regional languages and dialects. The collection includes overviews of work done in particular areas and deeper analyses of sociolinguistic questions. One theme is how to represent and interpret data relating to language varieties that have been marginalised. Another concerns the ways in which French is adapting to the future, whether as a language of new technology or as a vehicular language on the continent. All chapters of this book are in English, with examples and quotations in French, and a mixture of references given in both languages. At the end of each chapter, there are also texts in French serving as illustration and as pointers to further reading.
