Variable	Coefficient	Standard Error	t-statistic	p-value
Age	0.05	0.01	5.00	0.000
Gender	0.10	0.05	2.00	0.050
Marital Status	0.20	0.02	10.00	0.000
Education	-0.05	0.01	-5.00	0.000
Income	0.02	0.01	2.00	0.050

The results indicate that the number of children is positively related to age, gender, and marital status, and negatively related to education. Income is also positively related to the number of children, but the relationship is not statistically significant at the 5% level.

and monopolistic overconsumption of Earth's precious resources by a single invasive species along with the inexorable combustion of deadly fossil fuels to acquire the energy needed to sustain their profligate and lavish lifestyle is threatening to drive H. sapiens itself into extinction within the next 300 years. Committee on Environment and Public Works. Subcommittee on Environmental Pollution, 1985 The Endangered Species Road Trip Cameron MacDonald, 2013-07-22 Bill Bryson meets John Vaillant in this life list quest to see the rarest species in North America. Crammed into a minivan with wife, toddler, infant, and dog, accompanied by mounds of toys, diapers, tent, sleeping bags, and other paraphernalia, Cameron MacDonald embarks on a road trip of a lifetime to observe North America's rarest species. In California, the family camps in the brutally hot Mojave where he observes a desert tortoise the size and shape of a bike helmet and the colour of gravel, sitting motionless in the shade of a scrubby sagebush. In Yellowstone, after driving through unseasonal snow, he manages to spot a rare black wolf and numerous grizzlies which unfortunately call forth a crowd of grizzly gawkers. The journey takes the MacDonald family from British Columbia along the west coast of the U.S. through the Southwest and Florida up the east coast of the U.S. and finally to eastern Canada and then back home to BC. Along the way, MacDonald offers fascinating details about the natural history of the endangered species he seeks as well as threats like overpopulation, commercial fishing, and climate change that are driving them towards extinction.
