Inside Austronesian Houses James J. Fox, 2006-09-01 Dwellings Social life Customs Southeast Asia Oceania Inside Austronesian Houses James J. Fox, 2006 Inside Austronesian houses Australian National University. Comparative Austronesian Project, 1993 Expressions of Austronesian Thought and Emotions James J. Fox, 2018-04-18 This collection of papers is the seventh volume in the Comparative Austronesian series The papers in this volume focus on societies from Sumatra to Melanesia and examine the expression and patterning of Austronesian thought and emotions Ritual and Domestic Life in Prehistoric Europe Richard Bradley, 2012-10-12 This fascinating study explores how our prehistoric ancestors developed rituals from everyday life and domestic activities Richard Bradley contends that for much of the prehistoric period ritual was not a distinct sphere of activity Rather it was the way in which different features of the domestic world were played out until they took on qualities of theatrical performance With extensive illustrated case studies this book examines farming craft production and the occupation of houses all of which were ritualized in prehistoric Europe Successive chapters discuss the ways in which ritual has been studied drawing on a series of examples that range from Greece to Norway and from Romania to Portugal They consider practices that extend from the Mesolithic period to the Early Middle Ages and discuss the ways in which ritual and domestic life were intertwined The Land of Gold Judith M. Bovensiepen, 2018-08-06 In the village of Funar located in the central highlands of Timor Leste the disturbing events of the twenty four year long Indonesian occupation are rarely articulated in narratives of suffering Instead the highlanders emphasize the significance of their return to the sacred land of the ancestors a place where gold is abundant and life is thought to originate On one hand this collective amnesia is due to villagers exclusion from contemporary nation building processes which bestow recognition only on those who actively participated in the resistance struggle against Indonesia On the other hand the cultural revival and the privileging of the ancestral landscape and traditions over narratives of suffering derive from a particular understanding of how human subjects are constituted Before life and after death humans and the land are composed of the same substance only during life are they separated To recover from the forced dislocation the highlanders experienced under the Indonesian occupation they thus seek to reestablish a mythical primordial unity with the land by reinvigorating ancestral practices Never leaving out of sight the intense political and emotional dilemmas imposed by the past on people's daily lives The Land of Gold seeks to go beyond prevailing theories of postconflict reconstruction that prioritize human relationships Instead it explores the significance of people's affective and ritual engagement with the environment and with their ancestors as survivors come to terms with the disruptive events of the past Habitus: A Sense of Place Emma Rooksby, 2017-09-19 Habitus is a concept developed by the late French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu as a sense of one's place a sense of the other's place It relates to our perceptions of the positions or place of ourselves and other people in the world in which we live and how these perceptions affect our actions and interactions with places and people

Habitus implies that a web of complex processes links the physical the social and the mental Inspired by this concept this compelling book brings together leading scholars from interdisciplinary fields to examine ways in which spaces and places are constructed interpreted and used by different people This second edition contains updated chapter material together with an entirely new introduction and revised conclusions which recognise the importance of Bourdieu s work This publication is a tribute to Pierre Bourdieu s remarkable contribution to the fields of sociology anthropology geography political philosophy and urban planning Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Dr Alan Barnard,2002-09-11 This Encyclopedia provides description and analysis of the terms concepts and issues of social and cultural anthropology International in authorship and coverage this accessible work is fully indexed and cross referenced OIKOS Maria Relaki,Jan Driessen,2020-07-28 This collection of papers explores whether the L vi Straussian notion of the House is a valid concept in aiding the comprehension of the social structure of Bronze Age Aegean societies The volume succeeds in stressing the advances made in the study of social structure of the Aegean on the basis of material remains About the House Janet Carsten,Stephen Hugh-Jones,1995 The house is at once a physical place and a social unit and is often also a unit of production and consumption a cult group and even a political faction Inspired by Levi Strauss s suggestion that the multi functional noble houses of medieval Europe were simply the best known examples of a widespread social institution the contributors to this collection analyse house systems in Southeast Asia and South America exploring the interrelationships between buildings people and ideas They reveal some of the ways in which houses can stand for social groups and serve as images of process and order Media, Culture and Society in Malaysia Yeoh Seng Guan,2010-02-25 This book presents a comprehensive full length analysis of the uses of media and communication technologies by different social actors in Malaysia Drawing upon recent case studies from films to political advertising it provides valuable insights into the ways in which different media forms have negotiated with the dominant cultural representations of Malaysian society Locating the Sacred Claudia Moser,Cecelia Feldman,2014-01-01 Ritual happens in distinct places in temples in caves along pilgrimage routes and religious activities there incorporate a diverse set of objects such as holy water cult statues and sacred texts Understanding religious ritual requires viewing it not as a disembodied event but as emplaced grounded in both built and natural surroundings and integrated with its associated material objects Here authors examine various religious practices in the Greco Roman world and pilgrimage routes in contemporary Israel Other contributions focus on the East on domestic religion in prehistoric Taiwan and the palimpsest of ritual activity in Buddhist China One author considers not just ritual s built and natural setting but also the landscape of the human mind By way of conclusion many of the recurring issues concerning the material and topographic matrix of ritual practice are expanded upon in a final meditation on sacred space The papers in this volume with their disciplinary geographic and chronological diversity will serve as a resource for theoretical approaches to the study of ritual practice that may have broad cross cultural application and provide new insight into the relationship between ritual and place The volume is based on a conference held at Brown University

Archaeology and Language III Roger Blench, Matthew Spriggs, 2012-10-12 Archaeology and Language III interprets results from archaeological data in terms of language distribution and change providing the tools for a radical rewriting of the conventional discourse of prehistory Individual chapters present case studies of artefacts and fragmentary textual materials concerned with the reconstruction of houses maritime technology pottery and grave goods The House in Southeast Asia Signe Howell, Stephen Sparkes, 2013-07-04 Explores the concept of house in the context of Levi Strauss idea of the house as a link between kinship based societies and class societies developing this further into an examination of a conjuncture of architecture people and symbolism Gunyah, Goondie + Wurley Paul Memmott, 2007 When Europeans first reached Australian shores a long held and expedient perception developed that Australian Aboriginal people did not have houses or settlements that they occupied temporary camps sheltering in makeshift huts or lean tos of grass and bark This book redresses that notion exploring the range and complexity of Aboriginal designed structures spaces and territorial behaviour from minimalist shelters to permanent houses and villages Gunyah Goondie and Wurley encompasses Australian Aboriginal Architecture from the time of European contact to the work of the first Aboriginal graduates of university based courses in architecture bringing together in one place a wealth of images and research Publisher s website Design and the Vernacular Paul Memmott, John Ting, Tim O'Rourke, Marcel Vellinga, 2023-11-16 Design and the Vernacular explores the intersection between vernacular architecture local cultures and modernity and globalization focussing on the vast and diverse global region of Australasia and Oceania The relevance and role of vernacular architecture in contemporary urban planning and architectural design are examined in the context of rapid political economic technological social and environmental changes including globalization exchanges of people finance material culture and digital technologies Sixteen chapters by architects designers and theorists including Indigenous writers explore key questions about the agency of vernacular architecture in shaping contemporary building and design practice These questions include How have Indigenous building traditions shaped modern building practices What can the study of vernacular architecture contribute to debates about sustainable development And how has vernacular architecture been used to argue for postcolonial modernisation and nation building and what has been the effect on heritage and conservation Such questions provide valuable case studies and lessons for architecture in other global regions and challenge assumptions about vernacular architecture being anachronistic and static instead demonstrating how it can shape contemporary architecture nation building and cultural identities An Anthropological lifetime in Japan Joy Hendry, 2016-12-05 Joy Hendry s collection demonstrates the value of an anthropological approach to understanding a particular society by taking the reader through her own discovery of the field explaining her practice of it in Oxford and Japan and then offering a selection of the results and findings she obtained Her work starts with a study of marriage made in a small rural community continues with education and the rearing of children and later turns to consider polite language especially amongst women This lead into a study of wrapping and cultural display for example of gardens and theme parks which became a comparative venture putting Japan in a global context Finally the book sums up change through the period of Hendry s research Constituting Unity and Difference M.

Vellinga,2021-10-25 The vernacular architecture of the Minangkabau in Sumatra constitutes one of the most popular and well known building traditions in contemporary Indonesia Yet despite its fame Minangkabau architecture has received remarkably little scholarly attention What is known about the building tradition does not go beyond the romanticized popular image of high rising roof spires floor elevations and colourful woodcarvings promoted by the government the tourist industry and the media This image leaves too many questions about the meaning of Minangkabau architecture unanswered

Constituting Unity and difference refines supplements and revises the popular image Focusing on the construction design and spatial use of vernacular houses in one region of West Sumatra and taking into account historical developments and geographical variation the author explores how vernacular Minangkabau houses are instrumental in the constitution perpetuation and manipulation of socio political relationships and identities He concludes that the current popular image of Minangkabau architecture is seriously in need of revision Anthropologists architects and those interested in Indonesian cultural history or vernacular architecture studies will value this in depth analysis of one of the country s most striking and popular building traditions Talepakemalai Brian S Bauer,Javier Fonseca Santa Cruz,2021-11-15 The Lapita Cultural

Complex first uncovered in the mid 20th century as a widespread archaeological complex spanning both Melanesia and Western Polynesia has subsequently become recognized as of fundamental importance to Oceanic prehistory Notable for its highly distinctive elaborate dentate stamped pottery Lapita sites date to between 3500 2700 BP spanning the geographic range from the Bismarck Archipelago to Tonga and Samoa The Lapita culture has been interpreted as the archaeological manifestation of a diaspora of Austronesian speaking people specifically of Proto Oceanic language who rapidly expanded from Near Oceania the New Guinea Bismarcks region into Remote Oceania where no humans had previously ventured Lapita is thus a foundational culture throughout much of the southwestern Pacific ancestral to much of the later ethnographically attested cultural diversity of the region The Routledge Handbook of Linguistic Anthropology Nancy

Bonvillain,2015-08-11 The Routledge Handbook of Linguistic Anthropology is a broad survey of linguistic anthropology featuring contributions from prominent scholars in the field Each chapter presents a brief historical summary of research in the field and discusses topics and issues of current concern to people doing research in linguistic anthropology The handbook is organized into four parts Language and Cultural Productions Language Ideologies and Practices of Learning Language and the Communication of Identities and Language and Local Global Power and covers current topics of interest at the intersection of the two fields while also contextualizing them within discussions of fieldwork practice Featuring 30 contributions from leading scholars in the field The Routledge Handbook of Linguistic Anthropology is an essential overview for students and researchers interested in understanding core concepts and key issues in linguistic anthropology
