Inside The Mind Of A Muslim:

Reaching the Minds of Young Muslim Women Mareike Jule Winkelmann, 2007 Examining Islam in the West Alwi Shihab, 2011 Toward a Positive Psychology of Islam and Muslims Nausheen Pasha-Zaidi, 2021-07-15 This book integrates research in positive psychology Islamic psychology and Muslim wellbeing in one volume providing a view into the international experiential and spiritual lives of a religious group that represents over 24% of the world's population. It incorporates Western psychological paradigms such as the theories of Jung, Freud, Maslow and Seligman with Islamic ways of knowing while highlighting the struggles and successes of minoritized Muslim groups including the LGBTQ community, Muslims with autism, Afghan Shiite refugees and the Uyghur community in China. It fills a unique position at the crossroad of multiple social science disciplines including the psychology of religion, cultural psychology and positive psychology. By focusing on the ways in which spirituality, struggle and social justice can lead to purpose, hope and a meaningful life, the book contributes to scholarship within the second wave of positive psychology (PP 2.0) that aims to illustrate a balance between positive and negative aspects of human experience. While geared towards students, researchers and academic scholars of psychology, culture and religious studies, particularly Muslim studies, this book is also useful for general audiences who are interested in learning about the diversity of Islam and Muslims through a research-based social science approach.

The Muslim Mind Charis Waddy, 1990 In this book Muslims, men and women alike speak from the heart about what they believe and how they live. The central tenets of Islam are put forward by doctors, engineers, politicians, bankers and carpenters as well as by theologians. Islam has a billion followers. The beliefs of Islam, like those of the other great religions, must be taken seriously if we wish to understand the world in which we live. What do followers of the Islamic tradition have to say about family life, money, education, racial equality and the ecology of our planet? Muslim readers of earlier editions of The Muslim Mind welcomed the Christian author who had portrayed their faith with fairness and candor. The sincere answers to her inquiries given by many Muslims afford a vivid insight into the spirit and practice of Islam.

CONTEXTUALISING ISLAM IN PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH (IIUM PRESS) Mariam Adawiyah Dzulkifli, Nor Diana Mohd Mahudin, 2021-03-10 This book is intended to present a compilation of research that has incorporated the Islamic philosophical, theoretical and historical perspective with the concepts, theories and methods in psychology. While the relationship between Islam, research and psychology has been studied previously, the effort to incorporate and use Islamic resources to examine phenomena related to psychology through rigorous scientific methods has been found to be lacking among Muslim researchers. The present book therefore is an attempt to meet this need by incorporating the Islamic perspective in the conduct of research in psychology. It is also an attempt to contextualize Islam in the current efforts in research on psychology so that we can better understand the religion both as an established way of life and as a model of scientific inquiry. Finally, the remaining chapters are dedicated to the discussion of the conceptual and strategic way forward for research in specific areas of psychology. In doing so both the rationale and practicalities of incorporating integrating and utilizing Islamic resources in research on psychology have been provided Islamic Liberation Psychology Sarah Huxtable Mohr, 2024-08-07 Islamic Liberation Psychology is a thoughtful and groundbreaking guide to liberatory and decolonial thought The book has a wide range of uses from individuals seeking self development to community organizers to change makers generally Chapters explore liberation psychology from an Islamic perspective and use autoethnography to frame the theory and make it more relevant and applicable This book makes a substantial contribution to a greater understanding of a variety of topics including anti racism feminism utopianism community development arts and creativity and other topics central to Islamic liberation psychology

Powers,2022-02-13 The first eleven essays in this collection treat the application of Islamic law in qadi courts in the Maghrib in the period between 1100 and 1500 CE Based on preserved legal documents and the expert opinions of Muslim jurists Muftis the essays examine family law cases involving legal minority guardianship divorce inheritance bequests and endowments Cumulatively the cases bear witness to the effectiveness and efficiency of the Islamic judicial system in this period Contrary to popular perceptions the cases demonstrate that Muslim jurists placed a high value on reasoned thought and were sensitive to the manner in which law society and culture interacted with and shaped each other The final essay shows how the treatment of family endowments by colonial regimes in Algeria and India at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th centuries shaped or misshaped the modern western scholarly understanding of Islamic law
