Insights Into Specialized Translation Linguistic Insights:

Insights Into Specialized Translation Maurizio Gotti, Susan Šarčević, 2006 This volume focuses on specialist translation one of the areas of translation in greatest demand in our age of globalization The 16 chapters deal not only with the classical domains of science and technology law socio politics and medicine but also with lesser researched areas such as archeology geography nutrigenomics and others As a whole the book achieves a blend of theory and practice It addresses a variety of issues such as translation strategy based on text type and purpose intercultural transfer and quality assessment as well as textual and terminological issues in bilingual and multilingual settings including international organizations and the European Union Today translation competence presupposes multidisciplinary skills Whereas some chapters analyze the linguistic features of special purpose texts and their function in specialized communication others show how specialized translation has changed as a result of globalization and how advances in technology have altered terminology research and translation processing

Specialised Translation M. Rogers, 2015-05-26 This book shifts the common perception of specialised or LSP translation as necessarily banal and straightforward towards a more realistic understanding of it as a complex and multilayered phenomenon which belies its standard negative binary definition as non literary

The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies and Linguistics Kirsten Malmkjaer, 2017-12-14 The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies and Linguistics explores the interrelationships between translation studies and linguistics in six sections of state of the art chapters written by leading specialists from around the world The first part begins by addressing the relationships between translation studies and linguistics as major topics of study in themselves before focusing in individual chapters on the relationships between translation on the one hand and semantics semiotics and the sound system of language on the other Part II explores the nature of meaning and the ways in which meaning can be shared in text pairs that are related to each other as first written texts and their translations while Part III focuses on the relationships between translation and interpreting and the written and spoken word Part IV considers the users of language and situations involving more than one language and Part V addresses technological tools that can assist language users Finally Part VI presents chapters on the links between areas of applied linguistics and translation and interpreting With an introduction by the editor and an extensive bibliography this handbook is an indispensable resource for advanced students of translation studies interpreting studies and applied linguistics

Cognitive Dynamics in Linguistic Interactions Alexander Kravchenko, 2012-03-15 In the era of globalization issues of international and intercultural communication in different professional areas become even more acute There is a growing demand to increase the efficiency of higher learning educational programs called upon to enhance second or foreign language communicative competence of would be specialists Yet the existing methods of teaching a foreign or second language are far from being satisfactory in terms of expected efficiency This is symptomatic of a general methodological problem we lack holistic understanding of how natural language shapes the cognitive domain of human interactions Orthodox linguistic science is based on a premise that language is a tool for expressing and conveying thought thus making communication between humans possible This dualistic assumption ignores the fact that just as there may be no language without interacting human subjects there may be no human thought or largely humanness to speak of without languaging as species specific behavior because we as humans happen in language Maturana The study of language therefore must focus on the dynamics of linguistic interactions and dialogue should be pursued between applied linguists and theoreticians about the conceptual theoretic foundations of linguistic education This volume is just such an attempt

Metacognitive Translator Training Paulina Pietrzak, 2022-03-11 This book explores new developments and objectives in translator education with a focus on metacognitive aspects of both translating and learning to become a translator The author reports on an exploratory study on translation graduates with particular attention to the effects of metacognitive awareness on their professional development The data collected show that despite the growing demand on translation services and advancement of translation technology there are still a great number of translation graduates who decide not to become professional translators The findings show a number of reasons why they choose different career paths and discuss the correlations between their self concept and their professional development as reflected in their academic performance career choice career paths job satisfaction and perceived success The book will appeal to teachers trainers and academics in the field of translation studies and more specifically translation as a profession and translator competence

New Insights into the Semantics of Legal Concepts and the Legal Dictionary Martina Bajčić, 2017-04-12 This book focuses on legal concepts from the dual perspective of law and terminology While legal concepts frame legal knowledge and take center stage in law the discipline of terminology has traditionally been about concept description Exploring topics common to both disciplines such as meaning conceptualization and specialized knowledge transfer the book gives a state of the art account of legal interpretation legal translation and legal lexicography with special emphasis on EU law The special give and take of law and terminology is illuminated by real life legal cases which demystify the ways courts do things with concepts This original approach to the semantics of legal concepts is then incorporated into the making of a legal dictionary thus filling a gap in the theory and practice of legal lexicography With its rich repertoire of examples of legal terms in different languages the book provides a blend of theory and practice making it a valuable resource not only for scholars of law language and lexicography but also for legal translators and students

Language in the Digital Era. Challenges and Perspectives Daniel Dejica, Gyde Hansen, Peter Sandrini, Iulia Para, 2016-06-20 This collected volume brings together the contributions of several humanities scholars who focus on the evolution of language in the digital era The first part of the volume explores general aspects of humanities and linguistics in the digital environment The second part focuses on language and translation and includes topics that discuss the digital translation policy new technologies and specialised translation online resources for terminology management translation of online advertising or subtitling The last part of the book focuses on language teaching and learning and addresses the changes challenges and perspectives of didactics in the age of technology Each contribution is divided into several sections that present the state of the art and the methodology used and discuss the results and perspectives of the authors The book is recommended to scholars professionals students and anyone interested in the changes within the humanities in conjunction with technological innovation or in the ways language is adapting to the challenges of today s digitized world

The Specialised Lexicographical Approach

Nuria Edo Marzá,2009 This book puts forward the specialised lexicographical approach SLA as the result of a natural evolution in the field of specialised dictionary making that goes a step further the mere terminographical practice The kind of specialised lexicographical works to be obtained with this approach are specialised active user friendly user focused corpus based dictionaries deeply grounded on the belief that terminology has a practical communicative dimension that terminographical works have not normally reflected All through this book the theoretical and applied aspects of this approach have been illustrated by showing the elaboration process of an active corpus based bilingual English Spanish Spanish English dictionary of the ceramics industry The first part of the book provides a sound theoretical framework in which the different aspects involved in the creation of dictionaries within the SLA for speciality areas of knowledge have been progressively disclosed namely a review on specialised languages corpus linguistics terminology and socio economic aspects all this leading to the final characterisation of specialised lexicography from a theoretical perspective On the basis of this theoretical framework and according to the SLA this book also presents an innovative corpus based method of work for specialised dictionary making closely linked to the use of corpora terminotics and new technologies

Research and Professional Practice in Specialised Translation Federica Scarpa,2020-09-18 Specialised translation has received very little attention from academic researchers but in fact accounts for the bulk of professional translation on a global scale and is taught in a growing number of university level translation programmes This book aims to provide three things Firstly it offers a description of what makes the approach to specialised translation distinctive from wider ranging approaches to Translation Studies adopted by translation scholars and applied linguists Secondly unlike the traditional approach to specialised translation this book explores a perspective on specialised translation that is much less focused on terminology and more on the function and reception of specialised translated texts Finally the author outlines a professionally oriented hands on approach to the teaching of specialised translation resulting from many years of teaching it to MA students The book will be of interest to Translation Studies students and scholars as well as professional translators who are interested in the theory on which their activity is based

Training for the New Millennium Martha Tennent, 2005-01-01 Originating at an international forum held at the University of Vic Spain the twelve essays collected here attest to important changes in translation practice and the

assumptions which underpin them Leading theorists respond to the state of Translation Studies today particularly the epistemological dilemma between theories that are empirically oriented and those that are inspired by developments in Cultural Studies But the volume is also practical Experienced instructors survey existing pedagogies at translator interpreter training programs and explore new techniques that address the technological and global challenges of the new millennium Among the topics considered are how to use translation technology in the classroom how to construct a syllabus for a course in audiovisual translating or in translation theory and how to develop guidelines for a program for community interpreters or conference interpreters The contributors all assume that translation whether written or oral does not occupy a neutral space It is a cross cultural exchange that produces far reaching social effects Their essays significantly advance the theoretical and practical understanding of translation along these lines Scientific and Technical Translation Maeve Olohan, 2015-09-16 Routledge Translation Guides cover the key translation text types and genres and equip translators and students of translation with the skills needed to translate them Concise accessible and written by leading authorities they include examples from existing translations activities further reading suggestions and a glossary of key terms Scientific and Technical Translation focuses on texts that are typically translated in scientific and technical domains such as technical instructions data sheets and brochures patents scientific research articles and abstracts popular science press releases and news reports In seven chapters this practical textbook Introduces readers to the typical contexts in which scientific and technical translators work Shows how corpus resources can be used for terminological and phraseological research Considers how translation technologies are employed in technical and scientific translation Explains a range of technical and scientific genres and their translation Including a wide range of relevant tasks and activities examples from the most commonly taught language pairs and a glossary of key terms this is the essential textbook for modules on scientific and technical translation and specialised translation Email, SMS, MMS Carmen Frehner, 2008 Are email and SMS forms of writing or speech This question cannot be answered easily because their registers are hybrid they make use of both orality and literacy This book offers an accurate placement of emails and text messages along the written spoken continuum Emails and text messages are also compared to letters and phone calls while a closer comparison of SMS and telegrams shows how far text messaging can be regarded as a renaissance of telegrams Attention is further paid to multimedia messaging and questions concerning the proportion of image to text picture categories as well as MMS dialogues are approached The book finally comments on linguistic changes and deals with the German language community's concern with regard to the increasing use of Anglicisms Learner corpus profiles Madalina Chitez, 2014-07-31 Aiming at exemplifying the methodology of learner corpus profiling this book describes salient features of Romanian Learner English As a starting point the volume offers a comprehensive presentation of the Romanian English contrastive studies Another innovative aspect of the book refers to the use of the first Romanian Corpus of Learner English whose compilation is the object of a methodological discussion In one of the main chapters the book introduces the methodology of learner corpus profiling and compares it with existing approaches The profiling approach is emphasised by corpus based quantitative and qualitative investigations of Romanian Learner English Part of the investigation is dedicated to the lexico grammatical profiles of articles prepositions and genitives The frequency based collocation analyses are integrated with error analyses and extended into error pattern samples Furthermore contrasting typical Romanian Learner English constructions with examples from the German and the Italian learner corpora opens the path to new contrastive interlanguage analyses

Translating and Comparing Languages: Corpus-based Insights Sylviane Granger, Marie-Aude Lefer, 2020-09-18 The present volume contains selected proceedings from the fifth edition of the Using Corpora in Contrastive and Translation Studies UCCTS international conference held at the University of Louvain in September 2018 It brings together thirteen chapters that all make use of electronic comparable and or parallel corpora to inform contrastive linguistics translation theory translation pedagogy translation quality assessment and multilingual terminology The volume is structured in five thematic sections devoted to learner focused descriptive translation studies corpus use in translator training studies of translated and edited language contrastive linguistics and terminology Together the contributions in the volume reflect recent developments in corpus based cross linguistic studies such as the compilation and analysis of learner translation corpora to identify the typical features of learner translated language and inform translator training the comparative analysis of translation and other forms of mediated communication such as editing the compilation of new multilingual corpora and the analysis of under researched linguistic phenomena such as punctuation The volume also testifies to the growing cross fertilization between contrastive linguistics and translation studies both in terms of methodology e g the combined use of different types of corpora and the exploration of corpus driven methods and theory e g the role played by source language influence and cross linguistic contrasts in translation

Non-Professional Translating and Interpreting Sebnem Susam-Sarajeva, Luis Pérez-González, 2018-10-24 This special issue of The Translator explores the field with a view to learning from the individuals and networks who take on such non professional translation and interpreting activities It showcases the work of researchers who look into the phenomenon within a wide variety of settings from museums to churches crowdsourcing and media sites to Wikipedia and scientific journals to the Social Forum Drawing on a wide range of disciplines and models the contributions to this volume enhance the visibility of non professionals engaged in translating and interpreting and challenge a range of widely held assumptions within the discipline and the profession
