Political Culture, Change, and Security Policy in Nigeria Kalu Kalu,2018-03-15 Demonstrating how political culture facilitates or distorts political preferences and political outcomes this book explores how the historical development of social conditions and the current social structures shape understandings and constrain individual and collective actions within the Nigerian political system Political Culture Change and Security Policy examines the extent to which specific norms and socialization processes within the political and civic culture abet corruption or the proclivity to engage in corrupt practices and how they help reinforce political attitudes and civic norms that have the potential to undermine the effectiveness of government It also delineates specific doctrinal models and strategic framework essential to the development and implementation of Nigeria s national security policy as well as innovative approaches to national development planning Professor Kalu N Kalu offers an exhaustive study that integrates several quantitative models in addressing a series of theoretical and empirical questions that inform historical and contemporary issues of the Nigerian project The general premise is that it is not enough to simply highlight the problems of the state and address the what question we must also address the why and how questions that drive political change policy preferences and competing political outcomes

Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem Christian Büscher,Jens Schippl,Patrick Sumpf,2018-09-21 Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem offers an innovative approach to equip interdisciplinary research on sociotechnical transitions with coherence and focus The book emphasizes sociotechnical problems in three analytical dimensions In the control dimension contributing authors examine how control can be maintained despite increasing complexity and uncertainty e g in power grid operations or on energy markets In the change dimension the authors explore if and how change is possible despite the need for stable orientation e g regarding discourses real world labs and learning Finally in the action dimension the authors analyze how the ability to act on a permanent basis is sustained despite opacity and ignorance exemplified by the work on trust capabilities or individual motives Drawing on contributions from engineering economics philosophy political science psychology and sociology the book assembles a range of classic and current themes including innovation resilience institutional economics design or education Energy as a Sociotechnical Problem presents the ongoing transformation of the energy complex as a multidimensional process in which the analytical dimensions interact with each other in shaping the energy future As such this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy transitions energy science and environmental social science more generally as well as to practitioners working within the field of energy policy

Nordic Superintendents: Agents in a Broken Chain Lejf Moos,Elisabet Nihlfors,Jan Merok Paulsen,2015-12-11 This book analyses the superintendent position and relations and shows how the well known policy umbrella the New Public Management NPM is being adapted to national contexts School superintendents are civil servants at the heart of the governance of municipal education Educational governance in the Nordic countries Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden is currently undergoing comprehensive restructuring and reconceptualisation at the hands of national governments influenced by transnational agencies Our analyses of the superintendent position and relations show that the well known policy umbrella the New Public Management NPM is moving towards focusing on soft governance and social technologies as the preferred means of influences Thus we rename it New Public Governance NPG      Understanding Social Media and Entrepreneurship Leon Schjoedt, Malin E. Brännback, Alan L. Carsrud, 2020-06-03 Social media offers an opportunity for people to enlarge their exposure to information information about important changes and trends in technology markets government policies or society in general that can facilitate entrepreneurship business development and more Despite the widespread cultural and social effects of social media in the way people communicate and interact little research has addressed the role of social media in entrepreneurship This book fills this gap by exploring the influence and consequences social media has on entrepreneurship at the individual level group level venture firm level and societal level Specific social media platforms e g Facebook Twitter Instagram etc will be explored as well as topics such as gender education and socioemotional wealth      De Gruyter Handbook of Migrant Entrepreneurship Beata Glinka, Jörg Freiling, 2024-05-06 Given the strong migration trends in our society all over the years this handbook addresses the upcoming topic of migrant entrepreneurship in all its colourful facets Migration ethnic minorities and related phenomena are currently the subject of intensive scholarly discussion and a heated public debate Migrant entrepreneurship is a powerful issue within this debate as it creates numerous chances for both migrants and societies despite significant challenges In 19 chapters scholars from different disciplines and countries shed light on the phenomenon of migrant entrepreneurship Long traditions of studies have resulted in the diversity of topics and approaches applied by scholars and the handbook offers a systematization of research efforts It also aims to explore future research avenues by providing inspirations Three types of readers can benefit from this handbook researchers professionals including policymakers and students from around the world      Incubators in Developing Countries and their Benefit from Regional Resources Roman Liedtke, 2019-11-27 Roman Liedtke investigates the causes of the failure of business incubators in developing countries Based on the insights of an incubator program in Namibia he develops a new absorptive capacity model which enables incubators in developing countries to improve their processes in order to better benefit from external resources Since incubators and entrepreneurs suffer from resource constraints the existing absorptive capacity research has been expanded by focusing on external resources and the institutional environment of an incubator in developing countries This book opens up new perspectives and valuable results in incubator research in an effort to enable incubators to improve their programs and to boost growth rate of start ups in neglected regions      Social Justice Pedagogies in Health and Physical Education Göran Gerdin, Wayne Smith, Rod Philpot, Katarina Schenker, Kjersti Mordal Moen, Susanne Linnér, Knut Westlie, Lena Larsson, 2021-07-19 This book makes the case that school Health and Physical Education HPE can make a unique contribution to young people s physical emotional and social health outcomes when teachers of HPE engage in pedagogies for social justice that emphasise inclusion democracy and equity Drawing on observations and teacher interviews across Sweden Norway and New Zealand the book explores successful school teaching practices that promote social justice and equitable health outcomes In particular it draws attention to the importance of building relationships teaching for social cohesion and explicitly teaching about and acting on social inequities as pedagogies for social justice The book also argues that context matters and that pedagogies for social justice need to recognise how both approaches to and focus on social justice vary in different contexts This is essential reading for academics and students interested in social justice and working in the fields of education HPE and teacher education

The Politics of Educational Decentralisation in Indonesia Irsyad Zamjani, 2021-12-10 The Politics of Educational Decentralisation in Indonesia A Quest for Legitimacy is a well written analytically sharp and compelling study of educational decentralisation in Indonesia Irsyad Zamjani provides fresh insights into this important topic The author treats educational reform as a window into much deeper questions about power the government's responsibility to its citizens and social change in Indonesia His findings should interest academics as well as practitioners with an interest in educational reform Professor Christopher Bjork Vassar College New York This is a remarkable book which should appeal not only to Indonesian scholars but also to educationists and political scientists to name just a few By tracing the path of decentralisation in the Indonesian educational reform in the early 2000s Zamjani shows how the central and municipal governments struggled in different ways to retain control over education in their domains through various mechanisms largely related to claims of legitimacy The study is grounded in new institutional theory and the interview and case study data provide a richness and depth in showing the dynamics of reform attempts Professor Lawrence J Saha Australian National University Canberra This book discusses the dynamics of educational decentralisation in post reform Indonesia Taking sociology's new institutionalism approach and drawing upon data from documents and interviews with strategic informants the book investigates how institutional legitimacy of educational decentralisation was garnered manipulated and then contested Besides analysing global institutional pressures which influenced the national adoption of decentralisation reform and the central government's attempts to restore its legitimacy the book also offers comparative case studies of education governance in two local districts to highlight how this reform is responded to at the local level
