Lessons of the Lost Scott C. Hammond PhD,2016-08-26 The wilderness can be unforgiving and dangerous yet fill our souls with awe and wonder It can overwhelm us with beauty and stun us with fear lift our spirits to the highest highs and send us crashing to the floor of creation The wilderness is a classroom where we learn to survive thrive and sometimes die At some point in our lives we have all been lost in a wilderness of some kindwhether literal or metaphoricalwithout any direction on how to find our way back home Some have faced survival decisions in community disasters or personal trauma Some have been lost in work wandered in careers and professions Some have been lost in relationships crippling addictions health challenges or grief Scott Hammond a volunteer search and rescuer knows that people who have been lostin the wilderness in the workplace or in lifecan teach us how to go beyond survival and thrive regardless of the nature of our personal wildernesses Through his experience rescuing others and real life stories Hammond provides valuable lessons designed to help those who are lost These narratives communicate that small things matter that no one is ever lost alone and that movement creates opportunity Being lost is not a geographic problem but a mental and spiritual problem Lost people may be deprived of the basics of food water and shelter but they are first deprived of meaning Restoring that meaning is the first step toward hope and hope is the beacon that leads you home
