Home Girls Make Some Noise Gwendolyn D. Pough, 2007 Includes critical essays cultural critiques interviews personal narratives fiction poetry and artwork P 4 of cover The Crunk Feminist Collection Brittney C. Cooper, Susana M. Morris, Robin M. Boylorn, 2016-12-19 Essays on hip hop feminism featuring relevant real conversations about how race and gender politics intersect with pop culture and current events For the Crunk Feminist Collective their academic day jobs were lacking in conversations they actually wanted To address this void they started a blog that turned into a widespread movement The Collective's writings foster dialogue about activist methods intersectionality and sisterhood And the writers personal identities as black women as sisters daughters and lovers and as television watchers sports fans and music lovers are never far from the discussion at hand These essays explore Sex and Power in the Black Church discuss how Clair Huxtable is Dead list Five Ways Talib Kweli Can Become a Better Ally to Women in Hip Hop and dwell on Dating with a Doctorate She Got a Big Ego Self described as critical homegirls the authors tackle life stuck between loving hip hop and ratchet culture while hating patriarchy misogyny and sexism Refreshing and timely Bitch Magazine Our favorite sister bloggers Elle By centering a Black Feminist lens The Collection provides readers with a more nuanced perspective on everything from gender to race to sexuality to class to movement building packaged neatly in easy to read pieces that take on weighty and thorny ideas willingly and enthusiastically in pursuit of a more just world Autostraddle Much like a good mix tape the book has an intro outro and different layers of based sound in the activist scholar feminist women of color media representation sisterhood trans queer and questioning landscape Lambda Literary Review Supporting Multiculturalism and Gender Diversity in University Settings Zhou, Molly Y., 2015-03-31 Despite modern technology and the focus on international business striving to make the world a smaller place many organizations still struggle with the need for diversity and multiculturalism This issue is also present in academia as women of color and those previously perceived to be in the ethnic minority continue the journey to become the educators and leaders that universities need Supporting Multiculturalism and Gender Diversity in University Settings examines the experiences of some of these female leaders and what they learned in their rise through education and academia Highlighting stories of feminism race and what it means to use these life lessons in the classroom this book is a valuable resource for higher education administrators policymakers and women professionals everywhere Music in Crime, Resistance, and Identity Eleanor Peters, 2023-02-10 This book considers the intersection of music politics and identity focusing on music genres across the world as a form of political expression and protest positive identity formations and also how the criminalisation censoring policing and prosecution of musicians and fans can occur All encompassing in this book is analyses of the unique contribution of music to various aspects of human activity through an international multi disciplinary approach The book will serve as a starting point for scholars in those areas where there has been an uncertain approach to this subject while those from disciplines with a more established canon of music analysis will be informed about what each perspective can offer The approach is international and multi disciplinary with the contributing authors focusing on a range of countries and the differing social and cultural impact of music for both musicians and fans Academic disciplines can provide some explanations but the importance of the contribution of practitioners is vital for a fully rounded understanding of the impact of music Therefore this book takes the reader on a journey beginning with theoretical and philosophical perspectives on music and society proceeding to an analysis of laws and policies and concluding with the use of music by educational practitioners and the people with whom they work This book will appeal to students and scholars in subjects such as sociology criminology cultural studies and across the wider social sciences It will also be of interest to practitioners in youth justice or those with other involvement in the criminal justice system

Black Women's Portrayals on Reality Television Donnetrice C. Allison, 2016-01-14 This book critically analyzes the portrayals of Black women in current reality television Audiences are presented with a multitude of images of Black women fighting arguing and cursing at one another in this manufactured world of reality television This perpetuation of negative insidious racial and gender stereotypes influences how the U S views Black women This stereotyping disrupts the process in which people are able to appreciate cultural and gender difference Instead of celebrating the diverse symbols and meaning making that accompanies Black women s discourse and identities reality television scripts an artificial or plastic image of Black women that reinforces extant stereotypes This collection s contributors seek to uncover examples in reality television shows where instantiations of Black women s gendered racial and cultural difference is signified and made sinister

Ungrateful Daughters Justyna Wlodarczyk, 2010-08-11 Has the third wave of feminism in the United States spawned a literary movement Is there a third wave equivalent of the consciousness raising novel A lot has been written about the relationship of the third wave of feminism in the United States to the second wave yet no one has examined works by young female writers as belonging to the third wave of feminism This book fills the gap Using tools of literary criticism to analyze the literary output of third wave feminism in the United States Ungrateful Daughters looks at the main anthologies of third wave writings paying attention to their structure production process and narrative forms used in the individual pieces It also attempts to define third wave fiction and analyze the memoirs and novels coming from writers who could be classified as third wave specifically Rebecca Walker Danzy Senna and Michelle Tea tracing how these books exhibit third wave sensibility and reflect generational experiences of third wave writers A lot of attention is devoted to comparisons of second and third wave feminism and the ambivalent relationship of third wave feminism to postfeminism Wendy Kaminer wrote in True Love Waits If it ultimately fails as a liberation movement feminism will at least have achieved considerable literary success Ungrateful Daughters examines whether the literary success helps or hinders the cause of women s liberation

Teaching Women's Studies in Conservative Contexts Cantice Greene, 2016-01-13 Women s Studies is a field that inspires strong reactions both positive and negative inside and outside of the classroom The field partly due to its activist origins is often associated with liberal ideology and is therefore chided by students and others who identify as conservative. The goal of this book is to introduce conservative perspectives into the issues of gender, sexuality, race, and power that are topics of teaching and discussion in women's studies courses. The book also aims to provide examples of pathways by which conservative students and scholars can engage the field of women's studies not as opponents but as contributors. Contributors including administrators, activists, scholar teachers, artists, and ministers come together in this collection to engage in writing and response and to add their approaches to teaching and administering women's studies on their campuses.

Cultural Migrations and Gendered Subjects Silvia Castro-Borrego, Maria Isabel Romero Ruiz, 2011-01-18. The present volume explores through cultural and literary representations the contributions of women to the construction of knowledge in an ever-changing global world as migrant subjects. The essays contained in this book also focus on the female body as a site of physical violence and abuse, fighting prevalent stereotypes about women's representations and identities. This collection intends to enter a forum of discussion in which the colonial past serves as a point of reference for the analysis of contemporary issues. Women's strategies for building possible identities are seen to be based on their own experiences, seeking the ways in which the public marking and marketing of the female body within the western male imaginary contributes to the making of women's social and personal identities. The different articles contained in this volume examine issues of gender and boundaries, the realities of women as colonial and postcolonial subjects, and darker realities such as alienation and discrimination as a result of migration, racism, and colonization, analysed through a variety of critical perspectives. The gendered, raced, classed dimensions and mixed heritages not only of white women but also of women of the African Diaspora, these are important issues for the construction of knowledge and identity in our present multicultural societies and can potentially change the ways we conceptualize, situate, and engage the humanities in our scholarly work and in our social and cultural policies. These women, their presumed sexuality, and their capacity to produce hybrid subjects, as well as their supposed irrationality, make them a singularly disruptive figure in our contemporary world. This interpretation has its roots in the treatment of women in colonial times, especially when they were out of the margins of respectable society. The volume is addressed to a wide readership, both scholarly and those interested in investigating the dynamics of the social and cultural conceptualizations of our multicultural and multiethnic contemporary societies, marked by the intercultural exchanges of migratory subjects from a gender perspective.

Teaching Humanities With Cultural Responsiveness at HBCUs and HSIs Frazier, DuEwa M., 2023-11-08. In the realm of higher education, a persistent challenge exists in empowering Black and brown students within Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) and Hispanic Serving Institutions (HSIs) to transcend societal limitations. Often labeled as at risk or lagging within the achievement gap, these students possess untapped potential hindered by traditional teaching methods. The impact of COVID-19 and racial injustice has exacerbated disparities, underscoring the need for innovative teaching approaches that connect academic subjects with the real experiences of these learners Educators navigating evolving technology and diverse classrooms strive to bridge this gap while fostering cultural inclusivity Addressing this challenge is the book Teaching Humanities With Cultural Responsiveness at HBCUs and HSIs curated by DuEwa M Frazier Representing a groundbreaking collective effort the book offers transformative educational practices that bridge the gap between conventional teaching and the diverse realities of HBCU and HSI classrooms Covering topics like teaching ESL and EFL students accommodating disabilities integrating hip hop pedagogies and promoting social justice education the anthology provides research driven solutions that empower educators to revolutionize their teaching methods To foster academic excellence and equity the book resonates with scholars administrators and educators guiding them on a journey of innovation that harmonizes cultural responsiveness and academic achievement ushering in a new era of education

Places of Invention Arthur P. Molella, Anna Karvellas, 2015-09-15 The companion book to an upcoming museum exhibition of the same name Places of Invention seeks to answer timely questions about the nature of invention and innovation What is it about some places that sparks invention and innovation Is it simply being at the right place at the right time or is it more than that How does place whether physical social or cultural support constrain and shape innovation Why does invention flourish in one spot but struggle in another even very similar location In short Why there Why then Places of Invention frames current and historic conversation on the relationship between place and creativity citing extensive scholarship in the area and two decades of investigation and study from the National Museum of American History's Lemelson Center for the Study of Invention and Innovation The book is built around six place case studies Hartford CT late 1800s Hollywood CA 1930s Medical Alley MN 1950s Bronx NY 1970s Silicon Valley CA 1970s 1980s and Fort Collins CO 2010s Interspersed with these case studies are dispatches from three learning labs detailing Smithsonian Affiliate museums work using Places of Invention as a model for documenting local invention and innovation Written by exhibition curators each part of the book focuses on the central thesis that invention is everywhere and fueled by unique combinations of creative people ready resources and inspiring surroundings Like the locations it explores Places of Invention shows how the history of invention can be a transformative lens for understanding local history and cultivating creativity on scales of place ranging from the personal to the national and beyond

No Tea, No Shade E. Patrick Johnson, 2016-10-13 The follow up to the groundbreaking Black Queer Studies the edited collection No Tea No Shade brings together nineteen essays from the next generation of scholars activists and community leaders doing work on black gender and sexuality Building on the foundations laid by the earlier volume this collection's contributors speak new truths about the black queer experience while exemplifying the codification of black queer studies as a rigorous and important field of study Topics include raw sex pornography the carceral state gentrification gender nonconformity social media the relationship between black feminist studies and black trans studies the black queer experience throughout the black diaspora and queer music film dance and theater The contributors both disprove naysayers who believed black queer studies to be a passing trend and respond to critiques of the field's early U.S. bias. Deferring to the past while pointing to the future, No Tea No Shade pushes Black queer studies in new and exciting directions. Contemporary Feminist Pragmatism Maurice Hamington, Celia Bardwell-Jones, 2012-08-21. The notion of feminist pragmatism or pragmatist feminism has been around since Charlene Haddock Seigfried introduced it two decades ago. However, the bulk of the work in this field has been directed toward recovering the feminist strain of classical American philosophy largely through renewed interest in the work of Jane Addams. This exploration of the origins of feminism and pragmatism has been fruitful in building a foundation for theoretical considerations. The editors of this volume believe the next logical step is the contemporary application to both theory and experience. Contemporary Feminist Pragmatism is the first book to address the modern significance of the nexus of feminism and pragmatism. The issues explored here include the relationship between community and identity, particularly around the impact of gender and race, reframing political practice regarding feminist pragmatist commitments including education, sustainability movements, and local efforts like community gardens and the association between ethics and inquiry including explorations of Buddhism, hospitality, and animal-human relationships.

Black Men from behind the Veil George Yancy, 2022-01-14. The Black male scholars within this important book are painfully aware that the brutal murder of George Floyd was not due to a few bad apples. They understand that they are perceived as threats and criminals within a distorted white imaginary that is embedded with processes of mythopoetic construction, racial capitalism, and a deep anti-Black male social ontology. Edited by prominent philosopher George Yancy, Black Men from behind the Veil: Ontological Interrogations emphasizes the importance of Black male epistemic agency and the courage to speak the truth regarding an America that values Black male life on the cheap and that attempts to control the movement of Black men, their capacity to breathe, and their being through anti-Black technologies of surveillance, confinement, policing, and white nation building. There is no single monolithic Black male voice that dominates this crucial and necessary text. Each voice speaks of pain behind the Veil, revealing narrative specificity and an important recursive truth: Black men within the white American psyche are both necessary and yet disposable. The existential and sociohistorical weight of this truth is made painfully clear through the voices of these Black men.

Language and Masculinities Tommaso M. Milani, 2014-12-05. This volume showcases cutting-edge research in the linguistic and discursive study of masculinities, comprising the first significant edited collection on language and masculinities since Johnson and Meinhof's 1997 volume. Overall, the chapters are linked together by a critical analytical perspective that seeks to understand the relationships between discourse, masculinities, and power. Whereas some of the chapters offer detailed linguistically informed critiques of the ways in which old and new expressions of masculinities are complicit in the reproduction of men's hegemonic positions of power others provide a more complex picture one in which collusion and subversion go hand in hand Contributions argue for the need for research on language and masculinities to expand its remit so as to engage with gay masculinities and unsettle gendered categories in order to consider the ways in which women transgender and intersex individuals also perform a variety of masculinities Finally unlike Johnson and Meinhof's 1997 collection this volume not only offers a wider and perhaps queerer perspective on the study of language and masculinities but also covers a broader geographical and socio cultural spectrum including work on Brazil Israel New Zealand Singapore and South Africa

Speaking in Tongues and Dancing Diaspora Mae Henderson, 2014 Tropes ranging from Houston Baker's bluesman to Henry Louis Gates signifying to Geneva Smitherman's talkin and testifyin to bell hooks talking back to Cheryl Wall's worrying the line all affirm the power of sonance and sound in the African American literary tradition The collection of essays in Speaking in Tongues and Dancing Diaspora contributes to this tradition by theorizing the preeminence of voice and narration and the consequences of their absence in the literary and cultural performances of black women Looking to work by such prominent black female authors as Alice Walker Sherley Anne Williams Toni Morrison Zora Neal Hurston among many others Mae G Henderson provides a deeply felt reflection on race and gender and their effects within the discourse of speaker and listener

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Popular Music and Social Class Ian Peddie, 2020-02-06 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Popular Music and Social Class is the first extensive analysis of the most important themes and concepts in this field Encompassing contemporary research in ethnomusicology sociology cultural studies history and race studies the volume explores the intersections between music and class and how the meanings of class are asserted and denied confused and clarified through music With chapters on key genres traditions and subcultures as well as fresh and engaging directions for future scholarship the volume considers how music has thought about and articulated social class It consists entirely of original contributions written by internationally renowned scholars and provides an essential reference point for scholars interested in the relationship between popular music and social class

Intersectionality and Criminology Hillary Potter, 2015-05-15 The use of intersectionality theory in the social sciences has proliferated in the past several years putting forward the argument that the interconnected identities of individuals and the way these identities are perceived and responded to by others must be a necessary part of any analysis Fundamentally intersectionality claims that not only are people's lived experiences affected by their racial identity and by their gender identity but that these identities and others continually operate together and affect each other With official statistical data that indicate people of Color have higher offending and victimization rates than White people and with the overrepresentation of men and people of Color in the criminal legal system new theories are required that address these phenomena and that are devoid of stereotypical or debasing underpinnings Intersectionality and Criminology provides a comprehensive review of the need for and use of intersectionality in the study of crime criminality and the criminal legal system This is essential reading for academics and students researching and studying in the fields of crime criminal justice theoretical criminology and gender race and socioeconomic class

Transatlantic, Transcultural, and Transnational Dialogues on Identity, Culture, and Migration Lori Celaya, Sonja Stephenson Watson, 2021-11-04 Transatlantic Transcultural and Transnational Dialogues on Identity Culture and Migration analyzes the diasporic experiences of migratory and postcolonial subjects through the lenses of cultural studies critical race theory narrative theory and border studies These narratives cover the United States the U S Mexico border the Hispanophone Caribbean and the Iberian Peninsula and illustrate a shared diasporic experience across the Atlantic Through a transatlantic transcultural and transnational lens this volume brings together essays on literature film and music from disparate geographic areas Spain Cuba and Jamaica the U S Mexico border and Colombia Throughout the volume the contributors explore intertextual transatlantic dialogues and migratory experiences of diasporic subjects and queer subjectivities The chapters also examine the use of language to preserve Latinx culture colonial and Spanish cultural exchanges border identities and race gender identity and cultural production In turn these diasporic experiences result from transatlantic transcultural and transnational phenomena that converge in a globalized society and aid in questioning the artificial boundaries of nation states
