Homeschooling The Child With Asperger Syndrome:

Choosing Home Martha Kennedy Hartnett, 2004 Martha Kennedy Hartnett is the mother of a child with Asperger's Syndrome who made the courageous choice to homeschool. Emerging from the author's personal experience, this book is a step-by-step account of successful home education. Choosing Home will take you into the homes of Asperger families as they journey from survival of the playground bully to making it work at home. Hartnett embraces those pertinent questions raised by parents: Will I be limiting my child's emotional and social development? How will I know if my teaching is good enough? What if I can't cope? These questions and many more are answered in this touching and insightful narrative. This is a book of hope and encouragement to all parents with an interest in homeschooling.

Homeschooling the Child with Asperger Syndrome Lise Pyles, 2004 Provides step-by-step instructions and advice on creating a curriculum for a child with Asperger's syndrome.

Homeschooling the Child with Autism Patricia Schetter, Kandis Lighthall, 2009-03-30 Homeschooling the Child with Autism This practical, highly accessible guide answers parents and professionals' questions about teaching children with autism spectrum disorders at home. The book helps parents decide whether to homeschool and guides them through the process of beginning and maintaining an effective homeschool program. All the essential questions are addressed, such as: How do you know if homeschooling is right for you and your child? Which homeschool program is best for the child's learning style and needs? How should a family get started? What is the best way to address social, behavioral, and organizational skills when teaching a child with ASD? When should you transition back to a traditional public school setting? The book also contains tips and suggestions from real-life parents who have successfully homeschooled their children with ASD and includes lists of helpful resources for homeschoolers.

Praise for Homeschooling the Child with Autism: Practical advice and a wealth of resources. This book provides a beacon of hope to families struggling with educational options for their child.

SALLY OZONOFF PhD, endowed professor, University of California, Davis. MIND Institute: A must-read for parents and teachers who need guidance and encouragement while teaching children with ASD.

The Asperger's Syndrome Homeschooling Method Sarah Janisse Brown, 2015-06-03 This workbook is a unique homeschooling guide for students with Asperger's Syndrome. Children with Asperger's learn best when they are able to base their learning experience on the topics that they love. This journal has a unique focus on independent study, special interests, and discovery. This 6-week course allows the student to choose up to nine books and several educational movies or documentaries to base their curriculum on. Maybe you have a child who loves dinosaurs, space, robots, and Star Wars; you can now let them go to the library, get a stack of books on these topics, and base their homeschooling experience on these special interests. With this homeschooling guide, any special interest will do. What does your child love? Insects, Kittens, Photography, Farming, Pioneer Life, Italy, Horses, Baking, Money, World War 2, Ancient Egypt, Cosmetics, Victorian Houses, Music, Inventions. This workbook enables your child to do a unit study based on any topic. Now your child will love homeschooling and have the freedom and structure he or she needs to thrive and have a well rounded learning experience This workbook includes immersion into every subject except math the program provides about 4 hours of daily instruction and independent study prompts for 6 weeks No parent teaching is needed for students who are able to read This method is best for grades 2 to 8
