Inside Quatro Inside Quatro:

Inside Quatro Paul Trehwela, 2009 Inside Quatro uncovers some of the exile history of the ANC and SWAPO that both organisations would prefer not to remember Here is a first hand account of the ANC s Quatro prison camp and of the mutiny in Umkhonto weSizwe MK in Angola in 1984 articles on the SWAPO spy drama of the 1970s and 1980s an analysis of a death in exile with implications relating to Jacob Zuma and a study of the responses of both the ANC and SWAPO to these episodes of intolerance repression and excess In all his essays Trehwela analyses problems of the liberation struggles with a former insider s knowledge and a journalist s ability to ferret out the facts Publisher s website Trust in the Capacities of the People, Distrust in Elites Kenneth Good, 2014-10-15 Democratization is a sociopolitical process and the society that may grow out of it where people make decisions on matters affecting them It is an unending struggle to win such rights and power to hold and to extend them The contending classes are essentially the poor and weak majority of the people and the elite of wealth status and power This book begins with the study of politics in democratic Athens 508 322 BCE and how it revolved around the divisions between an uneducated poor majority of citizens and a small wealthy elite All citizens were deemed equally capable of holding political office and life in democratic Athens was itself an education through the wide political experience a citizen necessarily acquired The second study is of Britain s centuries long and profoundly incomplete democratization polarizing usually the urban poor unequally against the Grandees the oligarchy and subsequent elites A third exemplifier is South Africa beginning in the 1970s 80s when two big processes were going on simultaneously an external armed struggle led by the African National Congress ANC and a path breaking domestic democratization represented by the United Democratic Front and the trade unions The democratization that emerges here is a matter of aspiration and impulse by determined men and women which fail more often than they succeed yet appear again in other times and places Two main models of democracy are in contention A representative form revolving around free elections in which competing elites get themselves elected utilizing their wealth and celebrity The liberal form achieved preeminence in Britain and the United States over some 150 years but is now under serious threat from its own dysfunctionalities and the alienation of its citizens from its institutions and their elitist self serving values And there is the participatory model now being approached again since the mid 1970s in many places from Portugal Poland and Czechoslovakia to South Africa Tunisia Egypt and Iceland Many such impulses will fail but they offer hope and on the record immense satisfaction to their participants
