Secessionism in African Politics Lotje de Vries, Pierre Englebert, Mareike Schomerus, 2018-08-20 Secessionism perseveres as a complex political phenomenon in Africa yet often a more in depth analysis is overshadowed by the aspirational simplicity of pursuing a new state Using historical and contemporary approaches this edited volume offers the most exhaustive collection of empirical studies of African secessionism to date The respected expert contributors put salient and lesser known cases into comparative perspective covering Biafra Katanga Eritrea and South Sudan alongside Barotseland Cabinda and the Comoros among others Suggesting that African secessionism can be understood through the categories of aspiration grievance performance and disenchantment the book s analytical framework promises to be a building block for future studies of the topic Women's Representation in African Politics Zainab Monisola

Olaitan, 2024-12-11 Does the election of more and more women into political offices mean that women s interests will be better protected This question forms the background upon which this book is written as it forms a timely intervention concerning the clamour for increased women s representation in African politics The book examines the relationship between gender quotas and gender focused legislative policy outcomes in the national Parliaments of South Africa and Botswana By investigating the utility of gender quotas to ensure the substantive representation of women in African politics the book engages the assumption that increased women s political participation will automatically improve the qualitative well being of African women The book is intended for both academic and non academic audiences with differing purposes It contributes to scholarly debates on the transcending relevance of quotas beyond numbers For non academics it provides opportunities to engage gender quotas as a policy tool to ensure the qualitative well being of African women The Military in African Politics William Gutteridge, 2023-12-20 Originally published in 1969 this book assesses the origin and nature of the 20th Century trend towards military intervention in the politics of African states It begins by examining the natures of African armies and their inheritance from the colonial period It scrutinizes the Nigerian and Ghana coups of 1966 and aspects of the East African mutinies in 1964 as well as events in certain French territories including Gabon and Dahomey. The effect of foreign military aid on the role of the armed forces in Africa is analysed including the subtle influence of overseas military experience. The problems facing army officers when they seize the reins of government are examined along with the difficulties which they encounter when attempting to reinstitute civilian rule. Throughout the book the qualities which enable armies to intervene in politics are reviewed and related to those of the other institutions of African society. Readings in African Politics Tom Young, 2003 Table of contents

African Politics in Comparative Perspective Goran Hyden, 2013 This revised and expanded second edition of African Politics in Comparative Perspective reviews fifty years of research on politics in Africa and addresses some issues in a new light keeping in mind the changes in Africa since the first edition was written in 2004. The book synthesizes insights from different scholarly approaches and offers an original interpretation of the knowledge accumulated in the field. Goran Hyden discusses how research on African politics relates to the study of politics in other regions and mainstream theories in comparative politics. He focuses on such key issues as why politics trumps economics, rule is personal, state is weak and policies are made with a communal rather than an individual lens. The book also discusses why in the light of these conditions agriculture is problematic, gender contested, ethnicity manipulated and relations with Western powers a matter of defiance. Politics and Government in African States Peter Duignan, Robert H. Jackson, 2022-08-01 Originally published in 1986 Politics and Government in African States 1960-1985 deals with the politics of sub-Saharan African states since independence. Each chapter considers the formal structure of government at the time of independence and traces the subsequent changes. Each chapter also describes the development of the state machinery: the civil service, the parastatals, defence and police forces, party structure, the political opposition and trade unions. The economics of African states are dealt with insofar as they affect politics and government. Politics of Human Network in African Conflicts Hideyuki Okano, 2019-01-10 Sierra Leone experienced 11 years civil war after the incursion of the Revolutionary United Front (RUF) from adjacent Liberia. The war of Sierra Leone is one of the most researched in Africa. However, the foci of studies are mostly on the RUF. Other armed groups are not sufficiently studied. This book focuses on the governmental side of the Kamajor and the Civil Defence Force (CDF). Kamajors were community-based vigilantes mobilised by paramount chiefs in various Mende communities. During the course of the war, the government organised Kamajors into a pro-governmental militia, the CDF. This book examines how human networks worked in the course of the formation of Kamajor and of the CDF. Even though the roles of human networks have been discussed in the realm of African politics, they have been left hypothetical. Few studies demonstrate the whole picture on how neopatrimonialism, patron-client relations or informal networks function within an organisation. This book describes the course of Kamajor CDF along with functions of the human networks. In the networks, the threads of human relations are interwoven by subsuming the local, the international and the global dimensions of the armed conflict. Some connect to governmental figures. Others have transnational networks in adjacent Liberia In the changing situations of the war some of the relations are maintained while some relations are disintegrated Those who emerge as prominent figures in the Kamajor CDF use their own human networks to obtain resources for the Kamajor CDF which in turn afford themselves higher positions in the force
