and eighteenth centuries Reconstructing the careers of its protagonists in the cosmopolitan city of Ottoman Aleppo Simon Mills investigates the links between English commercial and diplomatic expansion and English scholarly and missionary interests the study of Middle Eastern languages the exploration of biblical and Greco Roman antiquities and the early dissemination of Protestant literature in Arabic Early modern Orientalism is usually conceived as an episode in the history of scholarship By shifting the focus to Aleppo A Commerce of Knowledge brings to light the connections between the seemingly separate worlds tracing the emergence of new kinds of philological and archaeological enquiry in England back to a series of real world encounters between the chaplains and the scribes booksellers priests rabbis and sheikhs they encountered in the Ottoman Empire Setting the careers of its protagonists against a background of broader developments across Protestant and Catholic Europe Mills shows how the institutionalization of English scholarship and the later English attempt to influence the Eastern Christian churches were bound up with the international struggle to establish a commercial foothold in the Levant He argues that these connections would endure until the shift of British commercial and imperial interests to the Indian subcontinent in the second half of the eighteenth century fostered new currents of intellectual life at home

The Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature William Thomas Lowndes, 1889 What Went Wrong in Afghanistan?

Metin Gurcan, 2016-08-19 Since 20 December 2001 the date which marked the authorization of the International Security Assistance Force ISAF to assist the Afghan Government hundreds of thousands of coalition soldiers from around 50 different states have physically been and served in Afghanistan Roughly 20 rotation periods have been experienced billions of US dollars have been spent and almost 3 500 coalition soldiers and 7 400 Afghani security personnel have fallen for Afghanistan In this badly managed success story the true determiner of both tactical outcomes on the ground and strategic results was always the tribal and rural parts of Muslim populated Afghanistan Although there has emerged a vast literature on counterinsurgency theories and tactics we still lack reliable information about the motivations and aspirations of the residents of Tribalised Rural Muslim Environments TRMEs that make up most of Afghanistan The aim of this book is to describe some on the ground problems of counterinsurgency COIN efforts in TRMEs specifically in rural Afghanistan and then to propose how these efforts might be improved Along the way it will be necessary to challenge many current assumptions about the conduct of counterinsurgency in Afghanistan Most generally the book will show how counterinsurgency succeeds or fails at the local level at the level of tactical decisions by small unit leaders and that these decisions cannot be successful without understanding the culture and perspective of those who live in TRMEs Although engaging issues of culture the author is not an anthropologist or an academic of any kind He is a Muslim who spent his childhood in a TRME a remote village in Turkey and he offers his observations on the basis of 15 years worth of field experience as a Turkish Special Forces officer serving in rural Iraq Turkey Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan and Afghanistan Cultures in these areas are not the same but there are sufficient similarities to suggest some overall characteristics of TRMEs and some general problems of COIN efforts in these environments In summary this book not only challenges some of the fundamentals of traditional counterinsurgency wisdom and emphasizes the importance of the tactical level a rarely studied field from the COIN perspective but also blends the firsthand field experiences of the author with deep analyses In this sense it is not solely an autobiography but something much more Asiatic Annual Register ,1800 The Institution of the Hasmonean High Priesthood Vasile Babota,2013-11-25 In The Institution of the Hasmonean High Priesthood Vasile Babota offers an interdisciplinary study of the establishment of the Hasmonean priests as high priests in Jerusalem from their revolt in 167 down to 140 The Hasmonean high priests exercised both religious and civil powers until 37 B C E and some acted also as kings Previous studies looked at them mainly from a biblical Jewish perspective Vasile Babota persuasively argues that the first high priests Jonathan and Simon acted as Hellenistic high priestly rulers This conclusion is based on an analysis of the activity of the high priests Jonathan and Simon on internal and external levels a comparison with earlier Jewish high priests and a comparison with Hellenistic Seleucid and Ptolemaic high priests Reorganization and Revitalization of America's Foreign Affairs Institutions United States.
