Thornington Hall Thornham Hall Ufford Place The British Country House Revival Ben Cowell, 2024 British country houses have experienced a renaissance since the early 1970s A new accord is needed today recognising the increasingly contested contribution of country houses to British cultural life Fifty years ago the future for country houses in Britain looked bleak The Victoria Albert Museum's exhibition The Destruction of the Country House which opened in October 1974 charted the loss of over a thousand country houses in the preceding century The makers of the exhibition warned that history could be about to repeat itself because of the threats besetting mansion properties principally from higher taxation Houses faced the prospect of having to be stripped of their collections and sold for use as offices hotels or hospitals with their parks and gardens turned into golf clubs Government might afford to save just a handful of the most significant of these places working in tandem with charities such as the National Trust The rest would be consigned to history This book traces the history of country houses in Britain from the Destruction exhibition to the present day The wave of country house losses anticipated in 1974 never actually happened Instead over the next five decades Britain's country houses experienced a renaissance Fiscal rules changed in the mid 1970s to make it easier for owners to hold on to their assets Economic improvements in the 1980s and 1990s allowed many houses and estates to develop profitable commercial businesses All of this was achieved only after dedicated campaigning from heritage organisations in support of the country house cause The book argues that a new accord is needed today to recognise and value the ongoing if increasingly contested contribution of country houses to British life and culture in the twenty first century Lost Country Houses of Nottinghamshire Maxwell Craven, 2025-05-15 A fascinating description of the lost country houses of Nottinghamshire will be of interest to all those who live in the county or know it well Country houses and the British Empire, 1700-1930 Stephanie Barczewski, 2017-02-01 Country houses and the British empire 1700 1930 assesses the economic and cultural links between country houses and the Empire between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries Using sources from over fifty British and Irish archives it enables readers to better understand the impact of the empire upon the British metropolis by showing both the geographical variations and its different cultural manifestations Barczewski offers a rare scholarly analysis of the history of country houses that goes beyond an architectural or biographical study and recognises their importance as the physical embodiments of imperial wealth and reflectors of imperial cultural influences In so doing she restores them to their true place of centrality in British culture over the last three centuries and provides fresh insights into the role of the Empire in the British metropolis The Little History of Suffolk Sarah E. Doig, 2018-10-08 If we scratch beneath the surface of the Suffolk we know today there are numerous surprising touching and alarming tales which bring to life the rich history of this county The Little History of Suffolk reveals the devastating effect of the dissolution of the monasteries the decline of the once booming cloth trade drastic erosion of the coastline and the disappearance of large country houses and estates Here you will also find the rise of the chic Victorian seaside resorts the captains of the brewing and iron industries who put Suffolk firmly on the post industrial revolution map and the key wartime role the county played over many centuries No corner of Suffolk is left unturned in this small book with a huge punch

The Painted Closet of Lady Anne Bacon Drury H.L. Meakin, 2017-07-05 Lady Anne Bacon Drury 1572-1624 was the granddaughter and niece of two of England's Lord Keepers of the Great Seal Sir Nicholas Bacon and Sir Francis Bacon Lady Anne was also the friend and patroness of John Donne and Joseph Hall however she deserves to be remembered in her own right Within her massive country house Lady Anne created a tiny painted room that she seems to have used as a kind of three dimensional book The walls consisted of panels of pictures and mottoes grouped under Latin sentences These panels can still be viewed in a Suffolk museum Christchurch Mansion in Ipswich Some panels point to classical and Biblical sources and to popular emblem books The sources of other panels are more recondite while still others are original compositions by Lady Anne The panels exhibit a contemptus mundi theme and reflect a struggle with ambition pride and even despair Some panels also appear to register carefully veiled but pointed critiques of political and religious events and figures Lady Anne's painted closet or architext is thus relevant to a wide range of early modern scholarship in various disciplines but is as yet largely unappreciated For the first time in four hundred years this book fully describes the closet and places it in its personal social intellectual and aesthetic contexts It argues for the painted closet's importance for understanding early modern conceptualizations of private and public spaces and for illuminating fundamental early modern habits of seeing and reading especially combinations of text and image Finally this book explores the closet as an example of the ingenious ways in which female subjectivity found ways to express itself even within the constraints of early modern patriarchal society in England

Huguenot Networks, 1560-1780 Vivienne Larminie, 2017-10-02 These chapters explore how a religious minority not only gained a toehold in countries of exile but also wove itself into their political social and religious fabric The way for the refugees' departure from France was prepared through correspondence and the cultivation of commercial military scholarly and familial ties On arrival at their destinations immigrants exploited contacts made by compatriots and co religionists who had preceded them to find employment London a hub for the Protestant international from the reign of Elizabeth I provided openings for tutors and journalists Huguenot financial skills were at the heart of the early Bank of England Huguenot reporting disseminated unprecedented information on the workings of the Westminster Parliament Huguenot networks became entwined with English political factions Webs of connection were transplanted and reconfigured in Ireland With their education and international contacts refugees were indispensable as diplomats to Protestant rulers in northern Europe They operated monetary transfers across borders and as fund raisers helped alleviate the plight of persecuted co religionists Meanwhile French ministers in London attempted to hold together an exceptionally large community of incomers against heresy and the temptations of assimilation This is a story of refugee networks perpetuated but also interpenetrated and remade

Lost Mansions J. Raven, 2015-04-29 This provocative volume stimulates debate about lost heritage by examining the history of the hundreds of great houses demolished in Britain and Ireland in the twentieth century Seven lively essays debate our understanding of what is meant by loss and how it relates to popular conceptions of the great house Bertuna's Children Sue Spiller, 2017-01-17 The history of a school in Great Barton Suffolk and of education in the region from early times until the present and the story of those associated with that school who were either pupils or members of staff The Walled Garden Sarah Hardy, 2023-03-13 Richly evocative STACEY HALLS Heartbreaking RACHEL HORE Touching absorbing DAILY MAIL Poignant There ll be tears WOMAN HOME An enveloping story to savour KATE SAWYER A luminous debut novel of a love affair set against the terrible aftermath of war for readers of IN MEMORIAM by Alice Winn WAKE by Anna Hope and THE OUTCAST by Sadie Jones No one survives war unscathed But even in the darkest days seeds of hope can grow It is 1946 and in the village of Oakbourne the men are home from the war Their bodies are healing but their psychological wounds run deep Everyone is scarred those who fought and those left behind Alice Rayne is married to Stephen heir to crumbling Oakbourne Hall Once a sweet gentle man he has returned a bitter and angry stranger destroyed by what he has seen and done tormented by secrets Alice can only guess at Lonely and increasingly afraid of the man her husband has become Alice must try to pick up the pieces of her marriage and save Oakbourne Hall from total collapse She begins with the walled garden and as it starts to bear fruit she finds herself drawn into a new forbidden love Set in the Suffolk countryside as it moves from winter to spring The Walled Garden is a captivating love story and a timeless moving exploration of trauma and the miracle of human resilience A heartbreaking tale vividly dramatised Rachel Hore Tender and lyrical This beautiful book had notes of both Elizabeth von Arnim and Elizabeth Jane Howard More please Natasha Solomons Touching absorbing A beautifully written story that will especially appeal to Rachel Hore fans Daily Mail A poignant drama What happens when war ends How do people move on after what they ve seen and possibly done Hardy explores these complex themes in this gentle but powerful novel There ll be tears but this evocative read is worth every one Book of the Month Woman and Home Written with great delicacy and feeling Elizabeth Buchan author of Two Women in Rome Hardy s supremely observed novel blossoms like a rose sharp and pointed and stunningly beautiful Inga Vesper author of The Long Long Afternoon A poignant powerful novel about aftermath trauma and hope Katie Lumsden author of The Secrets of Hartwood Hall ONGLISTED FOR THE HWA GOLD CROWN AWARD FOR BEST HISTORICAL FICTION NOVEL OF THE YEAR 20th September 2023 <https://www.historiamag.com> the 2023 hwa crown awards longlists British Aristocracy and the Modern World Professor Miles Taylor, Christopher Ridgway, 2025-07-02 In the thirty five years since the publication of David Cannadine s Decline and Fall of the British Aristocracy 1990 the power of Britain s landed elite declined but they remain far from extinct One third of Britain s land still belongs to the aristocracy Moreover partly inspired by Cannadine s book we now know much more about the ways in which the aristocracy established their hold on modernity and how they have lasted so long Many key questions remain How much was this a distinctively British story to what extent were things different in Scotland Wales and Ireland Does decline and fall accurately describe what happened to landed elites in other countries particularly in western Europe or amongst assimilated elites such as Jews Was the soft power of the aristocracy their role in the arts philanthropy and higher education as significant as their political and economic sway How dependent on the colonies and also the USA were the British aristocracy for their wealth in the first place and how did their role overseas change their profile at home This volume brings together a wide ranging group of scholars to explore The Decline and Fall developing its themes in new ways and investigating other aspects for the first time

Essex James Bettley, Nikolaus Pevsner, 2007-01-01 Essex one the largest counties of England stretches from the suburban fringes of East London to the fishing and sailing ports of Harwich and Maldon and the famous seaside resorts of Clacton Frinton and Southend Its buildings encompass rich Roman survivals powerful Norman architecture and the remains of major Tudor and Jacobean country houses Essex is first and foremost a county famed for its timber buildings from the eleventh century church at Greensted to the early and mighty barns at Cressing Temple and a wealth of timber framed medieval houses Later periods have also made their contribution from Georgian town houses to Victorian and Edwardian industrial and civic buildings and from important exemplars of early Modern Movement architecture to the major monument of High Tech at Stansted Airport

England's Lost Houses Giles Worsley, 2002 Of all the photographs in Country Life s archives none are more poignant or intriguing than the images of houses that have been lost This text puts the lost country houses of England in historical context and explains why so many were destroyed

Country Life Illustrated , 1901

Northwold Manor Reborn Warwick Rodwell, 2024-08-15 Presents a fascinating superbly illustrated account by one of the UK s leading architectural historians of the history dereliction and restoration of a complex originally Tudor manor house Northwold Manor is a multi period listed building grade II about which almost nothing was known Uninhabited since 1955 it had fallen into a state of extreme dereliction and was beyond economic repair when the author purchased the property in 2014 He and his wife Diane Gibbs embarked on a major restoration that ran for nine years The restoration was carried out as a quasi archaeological operation revealing that the building complex had Tudor origins followed by the construction of a Stuart house with Georgian improvements and a new entertaining suite added in 1814 The Manor with its fine drawing room ballroom and orangery was the grandest house in Northwold and research into the families that occupied it revealed unexpected connections to the French Bourbon Court From the 17th to the 20th century the Carters were the principal owners and a local branch of the family included Howard Carter discoverer of Tutankhamen s tomb This account begins with a topographical study of Northwold and its three medieval manors followed by an exploration of the decline of the Carter family in the late 19th century That triggered the break up of the Northwold Estate in 1919 Passing through several ownerships the Manor was earmarked for demolition in 1961 reprieved it became a furniture store in the 1970s and every room was solidly packed As the roofs failed and water poured in ceilings and floors collapsed carrying with them the stacks of rotting furniture By the late 1990s walls and gables were collapsing too and the local authority attempted to intervene A long struggle to save the Manor ensued finally ending with compulsory purchase in 2013 Although manor houses occur in most English parishes they have received surprisingly little archaeological study Every year hundreds are restored or altered but rarely accompanied by detailed recording or scholarly research and popular television programs reveal the shameful level of destruction that takes place in the name of restoration This is a book like no other the holistic approach to the rehabilitation of Northwold s derelict manor house involving history archaeology architecture and genealogy demonstrates how much can be learned about a building that had never before been studied The project has received several awards

Lost London Edwin Beresford Chancellor,1926 The Twentieth Century Great House Malcolm Airs,2002 The Lost Child Julie Myerson,2012-01-05 The most controversial book in Britain Urgent and vivid A serious writerly self critical account of what it means to feel that despite love and hope and good intentions you have failed as a parent and that the child you bore while still eerily painfully familiar is lost to you Daily Telegraph An aching empty nest memoir a mother mourning for her uncomplicated little children now grown whom she could care for write about without comeback love and control The Times One bleak late winter s day Julie Myerson finds herself in a graveyard looking for traces of a young woman who died nearly two centuries before As a child in Regency England Mary Yelloly painted an exquisite album of watercolours that uniquely reflected the world she lived in But Mary died at the age of twenty one and when Julie comes across this album she is haunted by the potential never realised the barely lived life cut short And most of all she is reminded of her own child Because only days earlier Julie and her husband locked their eldest son out of the family home He was just seventeen How could it have come to this After a happy growing up it had taken only a matter of months for this bright sweet good humoured boy to completely lose his way and propel his family into daily chaos He had discovered cannabis and was now smoking it everyday and nothing they could say or do no help they could offer seemed to reach him And Julie whose emotionally fragile relationship with her own father had left her determined to love her children better had to accept that she was for the moment at least powerless to bring back the boy she had known Honest warm and often profoundly upsetting this is the parallel story of a girl and a boy separated by centuries The circumstances are very different but the questions remain terrifyingly the same What happens when a child disappears from a family What will survive of any of us in memory or in history And how is a mother to cope when love however absolute however unconditional is not enough to save her child

1381 Juliet Barker,2014-11-24 Juliet Barker provides an account of the first great popular uprising in England and a fascinating study of medieval life in English towns and countryside She tells how and why an unlikely group of ordinary men and women from every corner of England united in armed rebellion against church and state to demand a radical political agenda
