Networking Women Marina Camboni, 2004 The Rise of the Modernist Bookshop Huw Osborne, 2016-03-09 The trade in books has always been and remains an ambiguous commercial activity associated as it is with literature and the exchange of ideas This collection is concerned with the cultural and economic roles of independent bookstores and it considers how eight shops founded during the modernist era provided distinctive spaces of literary production that exceeded and yet never escaped their commercial functions As the contributors show these booksellers were essential institutional players in literary networks When the eight shops examined first opened their doors their relevance to literary and commercial life was taken for granted In our current context of box stores online shopping and ebooks we no longer encounter the book as we did as recently as twenty years ago By contributing to our understanding of bookshops as unique social spaces on the thresholds of commerce and culture this volume helps to lay the groundwork for comprehending how our relationship to books and literature has been and will be affected by the physical changes to the reading experience taking place in the twenty first century The Book of Poetry Edwin Markham, 1927 Modernism, Space and the City Thacker Andrew Thacker, 2019-01-22 Explores the crucial role played by the city in the construction of modernism This innovative book examines the development of modernist writing in four European cities London Paris Berlin and Vienna Focusing on how literary outsiders represented various spaces in these cities it draws upon contemporary theories of affect and literary geography Particular attention is given to the transnational qualities of modernist writing by examining writers whose view of the cities considered is that of migrants exiles or strangers including Mulk Raj Anand Blaise Cendrars Bryher Joseph Conrad T S Eliot Christopher Isherwood Hope Mirrlees Naomi Mitchison Jean Rhys Sam Selvon and Stephen Spender Key Features The first book in modernist studies to bring detailed discussion of these four cities together Breaks new ground in being the first book to bring affect theory and literary geography together in order to analyse modernism An extensive range of authors is analysed from the canonical to the previously marginal Situates the literary and filmic texts within the context of urban spaces and cultural institutions London and the Modernist Bookshop Matthew Chambers, 2020-05-14 The modernist bookshop best exemplified by Sylvia Beach's Shakespeare Co and Harold Monro's Poetry Bookshop has received scant attention outside these more prominent examples This writing will review how bookshops like David Archer's on Parton Street London in the 1930s were sites of distribution publication and networking Parton Street which also housed Lawrence Wishart publishers and a briefly vibrant literary scene will be approached from several contexts as a way of situating the modernist bookshop within both the book trade and the literary communities which it interacted with and made possible T. P.'s Weekly Thomas Power O'Connor, Holbrook Jackson, 1914 Poetry Harriet Monroe, 1924 Fantasy, 1935 The Selected Letters of Ezra Pound to John Quinn Ezra Pound, Timothy Materer, 1991-05-30 This volume provides a first hand survey of the arts and literature during a crucial period in modern culture 1915 1924 Pound was then associated with such germinal magazines as BLAST The Little Review The Egoist and Poetry he was discovering or publicizing writers such as Robert Frost Hilda Doolittle T S Eliot and James Joyce and he was championing the painters Wyndham Lewis and William Wadsworth as well as the sculptors Jacob Epstein Henri Gaudier Brzeska and Constantin Brancusi Pound wrote to John Quinn a New York lawyer an expert in business law and a collector of unusual taste and discrimination about these artists and many more urging him to support their journals collect their manuscripts and buy and exhibit their paintings and sculptures Quinn at one time owned manuscripts of Ulysses and The Waste Land Brancusi's sculpture Mlle Pogany and Picasso's painting Three Musicians Yet he was often skeptical about the value of new schools of art such as Vorticism and disturbed by the outspokenness of authors such as Joyce Pound's letters are unusually tactful when he counters Quinn's doubts and explains the premises of experimental art Pound's letters to Quinn are touched with his characteristic humor and wordplay and are especially notable for their lucidity of expression engendered by Pound's deep respect for Quinn

The Oxford Critical and Cultural History of Modernist Magazines Peter Brooker, Andrew Thacker, 2009-03-26 The first of three volumes charting the history of the Modernist Magazine in Britain North America and Europe this collection offers the first comprehensive study of the wide and varied range of little magazines which were so instrumental in introducing the new writing and ideas that came to constitute literary and artistic modernism in the UK and Ireland In thirty seven chapters covering over eighty magazines expert contributors investigate the inner dynamics and economic and intellectual conditions that governed the life of these fugitive but vibrant publications We learn of the role of editors and sponsors the relation of the arts to contemporary philosophy and politics the effects of war and economic depression and of the survival in hard times of radical ideas and a belief in innovation The chapters are arranged according to historical themes with accompanying contextual introductions and include studies of the New Age Blast the Egoist and the Criterion New Writing New Verse and Scrutiny as well as of lesser known magazines such as the Evergreen Coterie the Bermondsey Book the Mask Welsh Review the Modern Scot and the Bell To return to the pages of these magazines returns us a world where the material constraints of costs and anxieties over censorship and declining readerships ran alongside the excitement of a new poem or manifesto This collection therefore confirms the value of magazine culture to the field of modernist studies it provides a rich and hitherto under examined resource which both brings to light the debate and dialogue out of which modernism evolved and helps us recover the vitality and potential of that earlier discussion

The Afterlife Penelope Fitzgerald, 2004-09-22 A posthumous collection of literary essays explores the afterlife of the writing community defined as a legacy experienced in the minds and hearts of their readers in a volume that includes introductions to major works of literature reviews of fellow authors and explorations of lesser known writers From the late novelist and biographer Penelope Fitzgerald a collection of essays almost all of them unknown to her countless American admirers on books travel and her own life and work A good book wrote John
