Harvard Design School Guide To Shopping:

Harvard Design School Guide to Shopping Chuihua Judy Chung, 2002 The Harvard Guide to Shopping, 1998

Designing Pornotopia Rick Poynor, 2006 Following the discussion of Poynor's previous anthology Obeys the Giant Designing Pornotopia covers a wide area of subjects from magazines billboard advertising branding illustration photography tattoos and music graphics to architecture and includes interviews with architect Rem Koolhaas and maverick American graphic designer and performance artist Elliott Earls Along the way Poynor reassesses the early work of Peter Saville and tracks the seemingly unstoppable rise of Stefan Sagmeister among other graphic designers Poynor's concise riveting prose constantly challenges the reader with strong and through provoking arguments One Nation Under Goods James J. Farrell, 2014-07-15 Loved and hated visited and avoided seemingly everywhere yet endlessly the same malls occupy a special place in American life What then is this invention that evokes such strong and contradictory emotions in Americans In many ways malls represent the apotheosis of American consumerism and this synthetic and wide ranging investigation is an eye popping tour of American culture's values and beliefs Like your favorite mall One Nation under Goods is a browser's paradise and in order to understand America's culture of consumption you need to make a trip to the mall with Farrell This lively fast paced history of the hidden secrets of the shopping mall explains how retail designers make shopping and goods irresistible Architects chain stores and mall owners relax and beguile us into shopping through water fountains ficus trees mirrors and covert security cameras From food courts and fountains to Santa and security Farrell explains how malls control their patrons and convince us that shopping is always an enjoyable activity And most importantly One Nation Under Goods shows why the mall's ultimate promise of happiness through consumption is largely an illusion It's all here for one low price of course Dream Cities Wade Graham, 2016-05-15 The ideas that became the blueprints for the world we live in

Without and Within Mark Pimlott, 2007 Retailising Space Mattias Karrholm, 2016-04-08 Over the past few years there has been a proliferation of new kinds of retail space Retail space has cropped up just about everywhere in the urban landscape in libraries workplaces churches and museums In short retail is becoming a more and more manifest part of the public domain The traditional spaces of retail such as city centres and outlying shopping malls are either increasing in size or disappearing producing new urban types and whole environments totally dedicated to retail The creation of these new retail spaces has brought about a re and de territorialisation of urban public space and has also led to transformations in urban design and type of materials used and even in the logic and ways through which these design amenities meet the needs of retailers and or consumers This book describes how the retailisation of public domains affects our everyday life and our use of the built environment Taking an architectural and territorial perspective on this issue it looks specifically at how retail and consumption spaces have changed and territorialised urban life in different ways It then develops a methodology and a set of concepts to describe and understand the role of architecture in these territorial transformations Spaces for Consumption

Steven Miles, 2010-08-01 In Spaces for Consumption Steven Miles develops a penetrating critique of a key shift characterising the contemporary city. Theoretically informed, the other strength of the volume lies in the wealth of examples that are drawn upon to show how cities are becoming spaces for consumption which has itself rapidly become a global phenomenon. Ronan Paddison, University of Glasgow. This is a great book. Powerfully written and lucid, it provides a thorough introduction to concepts of consumption as they relate to the spaces of cities. The spaces themselves – the airports, the shopping malls, the museums and cultural quarters – are analysed in marvellous detail and with a keen sense of historical precedent. And refreshingly, Miles doesn't simply dismiss cultures of consumption out of hand but shows how, as consumers, we are complicit in and help define those cultures. His book makes a major contribution to our understanding of contemporary cities but is accessible enough to appeal to any reader with an interest in this important area. Richard Williams, Edinburgh University. Spaces for Consumption offers an in-depth and sophisticated analysis of the processes that underpin the commodification of the city and explains the physical manifestation of consumerism as a way of life. Engaging directly with the social, economic and cultural processes that have resulted in our cities being defined through consumption, this vibrant book clearly demonstrates the ways in which consumption has come to play a key role in the re-invention of the post-industrial city. The book provides a critical understanding of how consumption redefines the consumer's relationship to place, using empirical examples and case studies to bring the issues to life. It discusses many of the key spaces and arenas in which this redefinition occurs, including shopping-themed space, mega-events, architecture. Developing the notion of contrived communality, Steven Miles outlines the ways in which consumption, alongside the emergence of an increasingly individualized society, constructs a new kind of relationship with the public realm. Clear, sophisticated and dynamic, this book will be essential reading for students and researchers alike in sociology, human geography, architecture, planning, marketing, leisure and tourism, cultural studies and urban studies.

Geographies of Modernism Peter Brooker, Andrew Thacker, 2007-05-07 This volume explores the interface between modernism and geography in a range of writers' texts and artists' across the twentieth century.

Shopping Malls and Public Space in Modern China Nicholas Jewell, 2016-03-03 China's rise as an economic superpower has been inescapable. Statistical hyperbole has been accompanied by a plethora of highly publicized architectural forms that brand the regeneration of its increasingly globalized urban centres. Despite the sizeable body of literature that has accompanied China's modernization, the essence and trajectory of its contemporary cityscape remains difficult to grasp. This volume addresses a less explored aspect of China's urban rejuvenation: the prominence of the shopping mall as a keystone of its public spaces. Here, the presence of the built form most representative of Western capitalism's excess is one that makes explicit the tensions between China's Communist state and its ascent within the free market. This book examines how these interrelationships are manifested in the culturally hybrid built form of the shopping mall and its role in contesting the public space of the modern Chinese city. By viewing these interrelationships as collisions of global and local narratives a more nuanced understanding of the shopping mall typology is explored Much architectural criticism has failed to address the levels of meaning implicit within the shopping mall yet it is a building type whose public popularity has guaranteed its endurance Consequently if architecture is to remain a relevant social art a more holistic understanding of this phenomenon will be indispensable to the process of adapting to globalizing forces This examination of Chinese shopping malls offers a timely and relevant case study of what is happening in all our cities today

Shopping as an Entertainment Experience Mark H. Moss, 2007-03-15 Shopping as an Entertainment Experience explores the ways in which shopping has become a significant entertainment feature in our daily lives Dr Mark H Moss examines the department store the mall and the e store to demonstrate how shopping is often the most common leisure experience that people indulge in to occupy themselves This unique book focuses on the historical evolution of shopping environments into contemporary entertainment or cultural zones Through a phenomenological framework Moss analyzes the way stores outlets and restaurants in malls mingle and merge aspects of consumption and merchandising Shopping as an Entertainment Experience appeals to sociologists cultural theorists and those interested in popular culture

Boutiques and Other Retail Spaces David Vernet, Leontine de Wit, 2007-08-17 Presenting a critical and theoretical dimension to retail design Boutiques and Other Retail Spaces links the ideas behind it to real practice in this innovative and important contribution to architectural interior theory literature Retail structure has been subject to a dramatic and ongoing transformation over the past thirty years materializing in the emergence of large scale out of town shopping centres and new specialized shops in city centres These specialized boutiques are highly designed involving well known architectural firms such as OMA Rem Koolhaas David Chipperfield Herzog de Meuron amongst others With case studies and over 100 black and white images Vernet and de Wit set forth original and well grounded theory to accompany this popular and lucrative area of work

Tasting Tourism: Travelling for Food and Drink Priscilla Boniface, 2017-03-02 Along with basic practical reasons our practices concerning food and drink are driven by context and environment belief and convention aspiration and desire to display in short by culture Similarly culture guides how tourism is used and operates This book examines food and drink tourism as it is now and is likely to develop through a cultural lens It asks what is food and drink tourism and why have food and drink provisions and information points become tourist destinations in their own right rather than remaining among a number of tourism features and components While it offers a range of international examples the main focus is on food and drink tourism in the UK What with the current diversification of tourism in rural areas the increased popularity of this type of tourism in the UK the series of BSE vCJD and foot and mouth crises in British food production and the cultural and ethnic fusion in British towns and cities it makes a particularly rich place in which to explore this subject The author concludes that the future of food and drink tourism lies in diversity and distinctiveness In an era of globalisation there is a particular desire to enjoy varied rather than mono cultural ambiance and experience She also notes that there is an immediacy of gratification in food and drink consumption which has become a general requirement of contemporary society

Suburban Retail Spaces Vincenzo Buongiorno, 2020-10-19 This book derives from observations of the contemporary built environment and its contradictions The suburban retail spaces specifically the suburban shopping mall and the changes caused by them within urban organisms are the object of the investigation synthesized in the volume The topic is very crucial for the development of the contemporary city It constitutes at the same time a problem large commercial structures spread is destroying traditional commercial urban fabrics and an opportunity shopping malls are the most vital parts of the new suburbs and can play the role of community nucleus in urban and suburban areas Furthermore the spread of e commerce forces these structures to functional and spatial transformations that brings also a new relationship with the city The analytical reading supplemented by generative and design projections is carried out by using the conceptual and methodological tools of urban morphology specifically those of the typological processual approach From this specific point of view the suburban shopping mall is read as an organism a complex system characterized by mutual solidarity and interdependence among component elements in itself and as a sub organisms belonging to the largest territorial organism The book is intended to offer to operators scholars researchers professionals and students a reading and design method to interpret an important aspect of the contemporary built environment by analyzing the suburban commercial space case It offers at the same time a model applicable to other specific not commercial cases to defining paths for further research and design developments

Urban Design Futures Malcolm Moor, Jon Rowland, 2006-09-27 The last decade has seen the rise of urban design which has taken a central position in the new agendas for urban regeneration and renaissance Urban design has moved from marginality to mainstream The principles espoused by urban designers over the past thirty years are now accepted as key to a better urban environment and as we move towards greater sustainability different ideas are emerging that are challenging some of the accepted urban design norms urban design is at a watershed Urban Design Futures presents essays from an international cast of authors to review progress and explore emerging ideas should urban design reflect the future rather than recreate the past What are the new driving forces that will shape urban living and hence urban design in the future This book explores new concepts and points the way towards a series of urban design paradigms for the twenty first century

Valences of the Dialectic Fredric Jameson, 2020-05-05 After half a century exploring dialectical thought renowned cultural critic Fredric Jameson presents a comprehensive study of a misunderstood yet vital strain in Western philosophy The dialectic the concept of the evolution of an idea through conflicts arising from its inherent contradictions transformed two centuries of Western philosophy To Hegel who dominated nineteenth century thought it was a metaphysical system In the works of Marx the dialectic became a tool for materialist historical analysis Jameson brings a theoretical scrutiny to bear on the questions that have arisen in the history of this philosophical tradition contextualizing the debate in terms of commodification and globalization and with reference to thinkers such as Rousseau Lukcs Heidegger Sartre Derrida and Althusser Through rigorous erudite examination Valences of the Dialectic charts a movement toward the innovation of a spatial dialectic Jameson presents a new synthesis of thought that revitalizes dialectical thinking for the twenty first century Better By Design? Paul L. Knox,2020-10-09 The design professions architecture city planning landscape architecture and urban design share a great deal in terms of intellectual antecedents professional ideals and praxis In particular they share a commitment to creating better cities whether at the scale of buildings neighborhoods or city regions But who decides what constitutes a good city and how should such an ideal be implemented In Better by Design Paul Knox explores the intellectual roots of the design professions showing how architects planners and other designers have traditionally interpreted their roles and implemented their ideas in cities across North America and the UK Drawing on his long record of research and award winning publications on the social production of the built environment Knox offers a critical appraisal of their ultimate effectiveness in achieving the goal of creating and sustaining good cities Cities and Design Paul L. Knox,2010-07-12 Cities initially a product of the manufacturing era have been thoroughly remade in the image of consumer society Competitive spending among affluent households has intensified the importance of style and design at every scale and design professions have grown in size and importance reflecting distinctive geographies and locating disproportionately in cities most intimately connected with global systems of key business services Meanwhile many observers still believe good design can make positive contributions to people s lives Cities and Design explores the complex relationships between design and urban environments It traces the intellectual roots of urban design presents a critical appraisal of the imprint and effectiveness of design professions in shaping urban environments examines the role of design in the material culture of contemporary cities and explores the complex linkages among designers producers and distributors in contemporary cities for example fashion and graphic design in New York architecture fashion and publishing in London furniture industrial design interior design and fashion in Milan haute couture in Paris and so on This book offers a distinctive social science perspective on the economic and cultural context of design in contemporary cities presenting cities themselves as settings for design design services and the affect associated with design Consuming Scenography Nebojša Tabacki,2020-06-25 Longlisted for the PQ Best Publication Award in Performance Design Scenography 2023 Consuming Scenography offers an insight into contemporary scenographic practice beyond the theatre It explores the ways in which scenography is used to create a global cultural impact and accelerate profits in the site specific context of themed shopping malls It analyses the effect of the architectural aesthetic spatial material and sensory aspects of design through their performative encounters with consumers in order to offer a better understanding of performance design In the first part the author explores the spatial seduction of an enclosed market space and traces the origins of scenographic temporality in permanent architectonic spaces for trade and commerce from ancient Greek and Roman roofed markets and Oriental bazaars to 19th century arcades and department stores to modern day shopping malls The second section addresses the site specific theatricality of the shopping mall considering the use of performative aspects of scenography in the creation of corporate identity It engages with production and consumption of experience in themed shopping malls using historical aesthetical social and political lenses In the final section the author intertwines fluidity of market changes with flexibility of scenographic matter drawing attention to both contradictions and prospects that merging of scenography and architecture can bring along Considering a variety of case studies of themed shopping malls including the Ibn Battuta Mall in Dubai Terminal 21 in Bangkok the Villaggio in Doha and Montecasino in Johannesburg as well as further examples from Europe USA and Asia this book provides a wide ranging critical examination of the ways in which scenographic thinking and practices are exploited in wider cultural contexts for impact branding and higher profits Fashion and Art Adam Geczy, Vicki Karaminas, 2013-08-15 For at least two centuries fashion and art have maintained a competitive love hate relationship Both fashion and art construct imaginary worlds and use a language of style to invigorate beliefs perceptions and ideas Until now the crossovers of fashion and art have received only scattered treatment and suffered from a dearth of theorization As an attempt to theorize the area this collection of new and updated essays is the most well rounded and authoritative to date Some of the world s foremost scholars in the field are assembled here to explore the art fashion nexus in numerous ways from aesthetics and performance to masquerade and media Original and inspiring this book will not only secure art fashion as a discrete area of study but also suggest new critical pathways for exploring their continuing cross pollination Fashion and Art is essential reading for students and scholars of fashion art history and theory cultural studies and related fields
