Nischik,2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Short Story Index ,1999 Alice Munro Harold Bloom,2009 Presents a collection of critical essays on the works of Alice Munro The Story of Narrative Preaching Mike Graves,2015-03-02 Forty years ago the one thing that could be said about sermons was they were biblical Unfortunately they were sometimes tedious too Narrative preaching aimed to fix that advocating for a dynamic experience of the text over against a static lecture Preaching could be like the parables of Jesus intriguing and compelling The Story of Narrative

Preaching is the story of seven students who are enrolled in Professor Freeman's preaching course. Once a new trend narrative preaching is now older than most of them. As Professor Freeman notes, two things went wrong with narrative styles over time: the church became biblically and theologically illiterate, and the promised stress on experience didn't always measure up to the weight of the gospel. Readers are invited to sit in on the class to reflect on the expositional nature of preaching and to experience the stories of some modern storytellers: Flannery O'Connor, Alice Walker, and others, to see what they might teach us about narratives of depth. In the end, we discover what may be the most important word in preaching.

Alice Munro's Late Style Robert Thacker, 2023-11-30 Focusing on Alice Munro's last three collections, this book examines the differences between these volumes and the rest of her work to analyse the emergence and the difference of her late style. Alice Munro has effectively reshaped the short story as a form. This book focuses on Munro's art of recursion, an approach that has been evident throughout her career but came to the fore in her last three books: The View from Castle Rock (2006), Too Much Happiness (2009), and especially Dear Life (2012). This recursion and return manifest themselves not only in Munro's return to previously published pieces but also to her discovery and meditations on her Scottish heritage, which can be read as an entrance to her own understanding of herself and her life. Its provenance, displayed through archival evidence, is complex yet reveals a writer intent on a precise late style. Munro's final works serve as a coda to both her late style and to her entire career, as arguably one of the finest short story writers ever to put pen to paper. Alice Munro Miroslawa

Buchholtz, 2016-01-20 The book offers a new approach to the study of Alice Munro's fiction. Its innovative quality consists in juxtaposing a variety of literary analyses of selected stories with two other ways of looking at her fiction: the perspectives of film adaptation and of pedagogy. The book is divided into three parts which mirror the key words in the title: understanding, adapting, and teaching. Part One consists of four articles on various aspects of Munro's short fiction from a literary perspective. Part Two, four essays, addresses editing and film adaptations of Munro's stories, both television and feature films. Part Three consists of an essay on didactic aspects of Munro's fiction and of several interviews with teachers of Canadian literature who have included stories by Munro in their syllabi. Anglophone Canadian short stories of the late twentieth and the early twenty-first century in the context of liminality. It argues that in the course of the epistolary renaissance, the letter, which has often been deemed to be obsolete in literature, has not only enjoyed an upsurge in novels but also migrated to the short story, thus constituting the genre of the epistolary short story. Making Sense of Narrative Text Michael Toolan, 2016-06-03 This book takes the following question as its
