Keeping The Wild Against The Domestication Of Earth:

Keeping the Wild George Wuerthner, Eileen Crist, Tom Butler, 2014 After the Anthropocene Anne

Fremaux, 2019-03-25 The environmental crisis is the most prominent challenge humanity has ever had to battle with and humanity is currently failing The Anthropocene or so called age of humans is indeed a period when the survival of humanity has never been so much at risk This book locates itself in the field of critical green political theory Fremaux's analysis of the current environmental crisis calls for us to embrace radical shifts in our modes of being or in other words socially progressive innovations that will be described within the unique framework of Green Republicanism In offering a constructive and emancipatory delineation of what could be considered an ecological civilization that is respectful of its natural environment and social differences this book describes how to shift from an arrogant speciesism and materialistic lifestyle to a post anthropocentric ecological humanism focusing on the good life within ecological limits This new political regime calls for a radical reinvention of our societies a decentering of the humans within our metaphysical worldview and a withdrawal of the capitalist technosphere at the benefit of the biosphere It will require a new economic paradigm that replaces the unsustainable capitalist logic of growth by sustainable degrowth and steady economics Rooted in ethical thinking and political philosophy this book seeks to offer a concrete roadmap of how sustainable societies can be fostered

Wild Romanticism Markus Poetzsch, Cassandra Falke, 2021-03-30 Wild Romanticism consolidates contemporary thinking about conceptions of the wild in British and European Romanticism clarifying the emergence of wilderness as a cultural symbolic and ecological idea This volume brings together the work of twelve scholars who examine representations of wildness in canonical texts such as Frankenstein Northanger Abbey Kubla Khan Expostulation and Reply and Childe Harold's Pilgrimage as well as lesser known works by Radcliffe Clare Hilderlin P B Shelley and Hogg Celebrating the wild provided Romantic period authors with a way of thinking about nature that resists instrumentalization and anthropocentrism but writing about wilderness also engaged them in debates about the sublime and picturesque as aesthetic categories about gender and the cultivation of independence as natural and about the ability of natural forces to resist categorical or literal enclosure This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Romanticism environmental literature environmental history and the environmental humanities more broadly Wildlife Politics Bruce Rocheleau, 2017-03-30 An analysis of forces affecting wildlife politics worldwide covering topics such as overexploitation hunting ecotourism and trafficking

A Field on Fire Mark D. Hersey, Ted Steinberg, 2019-01-29 A frank and engaging exploration of the burgeoning academic field of environmental history Inspired by the pioneering work of preeminent environmental historian Donald Worster the contributors to A Field on Fire The Future of Environmental History reflect on the past and future of this discipline Featuring wide ranging essays by leading environmental historians from the United States Europe and China the collection challenges scholars to rethink some of their orthodoxies inviting them to approach familiar stories from new angles to integrate new methodologies and to think creatively about the questions this field is well positioned to answer Worster's groundbreaking research serves as the organizational framework for the collection Editors Mark D Hersey and Ted Steinberg have arranged the book into three sections corresponding to the primary concerns of Worster's influential scholarship the problem of natural limits the transnational nature of environmental issues and the question of method Under the heading Facing Limits five essays explore the inherent tensions between democracy technology capitalism and the environment The Crossing Borders section underscores the ways in which environmental history moves easily across national and disciplinary boundaries Finally Doing Environmental History invokes Worster's work as an essayist by offering self-conscious reflections about the practice and purpose of environmental history The essays aim to provoke a discussion on the future of the field pointing to untapped and underdeveloped avenues ripe for further exploration A forward thinker like Worster presents bold challenges to a new generation of environmental historians on everything from capitalism and the Anthropocene to war and wilderness This engaging volume includes a very special afterword by one of Worster's oldest friends the eminent intellectual historian Daniel Rodgers who has known Worster for close to fifty years

Mnemonic Ecologies Sonja K. Pieck, 2023-08-29 An exploration of the Green Belt conservation project between the former East and West Germanies and its relationship to emergent ecosystems trauma and memorialization The first book-length scholarly treatment of Germany's largest conservation project the Green Belt Mnemonic Ecologies by Sonja Pieck presents a new interdisciplinary approach that effective restoration and conservation of wounded land must merge ecology with memory Since the Cold War's end in 1989 German conservationists have transformed the once militarized border between East and West Germany into an extensive protected area Yet as forests meadows and wetlands replace fences minefields and guard towers ecological recovery must reckon with the pain of the borderlands' brutal past The lessons gained by conservationists here Pieck argues have profound practical and ethical implications far beyond Germany Can conservation help heal both ecological and societal wounds How might conservation honor difficult socioecological pasts Deeply researched and evocatively written this beautiful interdisciplinary investigation into the legacy of war and nature's resurgence blends environmental history ethics geography and politics with ecology and memory studies Amid our rampant biodiversity crisis Mnemonic Ecologies shows why conservation must include humanized landscapes in its purview thus helping to craft a new conservation ethos that is collaborative empathetic and more sensitive to the connections between humans and the places they inhabit Ecological Restoration Law Afshin

Akhtar-Khavari, Benjamin J. Richardson, 2019-01-25 Ecological restoration is as essential as sustainable development for the health of the biosphere Restoration however has been a low priority of most countries' environmental laws which tend to focus narrowly on rehabilitation of small discrete sites rather than the more ambitious recovery of entire ecosystems and landscapes Through critical theoretical perspectives and topical case studies this book's diverse contributors explore a more ambitious agenda for ecological restoration law Not only do they investigate current laws and other governance mechanisms they also consider the philosophical and methodological bases for the law to take ecological restoration more seriously Through exploration of themes relating to time space geography semiotics social justice and scientific knowledge this book offers innovative and critical insights into ecological restoration law

Environmental Hermeneutics in the Anthropocene David Utsler, Forrest Clingerman, Brian Treanor, 2025-10-15 Environmental Hermeneutics in the Anthropocene is a diverse collection of essays that approach contemporary environmental problems with the tools and perspectives provided by the tradition of philosophical hermeneutics advanced by philosophers such as Martin Heidegger Hans Georg Gadamer and Paul Ricoeur Engaging both established and new voices this book presents a significant contribution to the field by expanding the scope of philosophical hermeneutics to environmental issues It addresses a broad scope of environmental topics such as the Anthropocene climate change degrowth environmental justice the limits of language in understanding nature and environmental aesthetics in environmental practice Together the chapters show the crisis of regional and global environmental problems to be in part a crisis of interpretation The ways that human beings understand their relationship to environments shape and determine how to act and live within places Yet the values and ideals that different people have about their lived environments often come into conflict Thus hermeneutics plays an important role in environmental discourse it helps adjudicate these conflicting understandings This collection of essays demonstrates the unique way that environmental hermeneutics can be employed to understand environments in this age of the Anthropocene It will appeal to researchers and upper level students in environmental humanities environmental studies ethics and philosophy
