Logic In Central And Eastern Europe History Science And Discourse:

Logic in Central and Eastern Europe Andrew Schumann, 2013 This book is a collection of rare material regarding logical and analytic philosophical traditions in Central and Eastern European countries covering the period from the late nineteenth century to the early twenty first century An encyclopedic feature covers the history of Reforming Social Sciences, Humanities and Higher Education in Eastern Europe and CIS after 1991 Olga Breskaya, Anatoli

Mikhailov, 2014-06-26 This volume consists of articles prepared after two conferences organized by the European Humanities University in Vilnius Lithuania in 2011 and in 2012 The focus of both conferences was concentrated on the development of reforms and changes in higher education in the social sciences and humanities in Eastern Europe during the last two decades The collapse of the communist system in Eastern Europe was followed by the enormous expansion of institutions of higher learning especially in the Hajnal Andr ka and Istv n N meti on Unity of Science Judit Madar sz, Gergely

S kely, 2021-05-31 This book features more than 20 papers that celebrate the work of Hajnal Andr ka and Istv n N meti It illustrates an interaction between developing and applying mathematical logic The papers offer new results as well as surveys in areas influenced by these two outstanding researchers They also provide details on the after life of some of their initiatives Computer science connects the papers in the first part of the book The second part concentrates on algebraic logic It features a range of papers that hint at the intricate many way connections between logic algebra and geometry The third part explores novel applications of logic in relativity theory philosophy of logic philosophy of physics and spacetime and methodology of science They include such exciting subjects as time travelling in emergent spacetime The short autobiographies of Hajnal Andr ka and Istv n N meti at the end of the book describe an adventurous journey from electric engineering and Maxwell s equations to a complex system of computer programs for designing Hungary s electric power system to exploring and contributing deep results to Tarskian algebraic logic as the deepest core theory of such questions then on to applications of the results in such exciting new areas as relativity theory in order to rejuvenate logic itself

Thinking about Contradictions Venanzio Raspa, 2017-12-04 This volume examines the entire logical and philosophical production of Nicolai A Vasil ev studying his life and activities as a historian and man of letters Readers will gain a comprehensive understanding of this influential Russian logician philosopher psychologist and poet The author frames Vasil ev s work within its historical and cultural context He takes into consideration both the situation of logic in Russia and the state of logic in Western Europe from the end of the 19th century to the beginning of the 20th Following this the book considers the attempts to develop non Aristotelian logics or ideas that present affinities with imaginary logic It then looks at the contribution of traditional logic in elaborating non classical ideas This logic allows the author to deal with incomplete objects just as imaginary logic does with contradictory ones Both logics are objects of interesting analysis by modern researchers This volume will appeal to graduate students and scholars interested not only in Vasil ev s work but also in the history of non classical logics

A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe Balázs

Trencsényi, Michal Kopeček, Luka Lisjak Gabrijelčić, Maria Falina, Mónika Baár, Maciej Janowski, 2018-10-18 A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe is a synthetic work authored by an international team of researchers covering twenty national cultures and 250 years. It goes beyond the conventional nation centered narratives and presents a novel vision especially sensitive to the cross cultural entanglement of political ideas and discourses. Its principal aim is to make these cultures available for the global market of ideas and revisit some of the basic assumptions about the history of modern political thought and modernity as such. The present volume is a sequel to Volume I Negotiating Modernity in the Long Nineteenth Century. It begins with the end of the Great War depicting the colorful intellectual landscape of the interwar period and the increasing political and ideological radicalization culminating in the Second World War. Taking the war experience both as a breaking point but in many ways also a transmitter of previous intellectual traditions it maps the intellectual paradigms and debates of the immediate postwar years marked by a negotiation between the democratic and communist agendas as well as the subsequent processes of political and cultural Stalinization. Subsequently the post Stalinist period is analyzed with a special focus on the various attempts of de Stalinization and the rise of revisionist Marxism and other critical projects culminating in the carnivalesque but also extremely dramatic year of 1968. This volume is followed by Volume II Negotiating Modernity in the Short Twentieth Century and Beyond Part II 1968 2018 European Identities

During Wars and Revolutions Salome Minesashvili, 2022-05-07 This book provides an up to date discussion of the effect of crises on European identities in the post Soviet states. In doing so the book presents an original study on dynamics of European identities during four crises in Georgia and Ukraine. More specifically it considers the comparative impact of two colour revolutions and wars involving Russia on European identity constructions in Georgian and Ukrainian public identity discourses studied through national mass media. It compares outcomes of change and continuity during such big bang events in identity discourses and establishes scope conditions that allow or inhibit change. The major finding of the study is that the selected events can indeed instigate sudden shifts in European identity discourses but only when the elite power structure also changes in such hybrid regimes as Ukraine and Georgia. These changes include shifts in elite groups and in the relative power they hold in the overall power structure Framing History in East-Central Europe and Beyond LIT Verlag, 2022-09-06 During the 1970s today's Austrian Federal Ministry of Education Science and Research Bundesministerium für Bildung Wissenschaft und Forschung BMBWF supported the founding of the Center for Austrian Studies at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis and the Austrian Chair at Stanford University in California. These foundings were the initial incentives for the worldwide spreading of similar institutions; currently nine Centers for Austrian and Central European Studies exist in seven countries on three continents. The funding of the Ministry enables to connect senior scholars with young scholars to help young PhD students to participate in and to benefit from the scientific connection.

of experienced researchers and to get in touch with the national scientific community by sniffing scientific air as the Austrians like to say Furthermore it aims to avoid prejudices and to spread a better understanding and knowledge about Austria and Central Europe by promoting scientific exchange This volume contains the annual reports 2018 2019 2019 2020 of the Center Directors and the papers of their PhD students which discuss various topics on mostly East Central European History from several perspectives and in different centuries Ferdinand K hnel Postdoc researcher at the Institute of East European History University of Vienna Ned ad Ku PhD candidate at the Institute of East European History University of Vienna Marija Wakounig Professor at the Institute of East European History University of Vienna A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe Balázs Trencsenyi, Michal Kopeček, Luka Lisjak Gabrijelčič, Maria Falina, Mónika Baár, 2018-11-10 A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe is a synthetic work authored by an international team of researchers covering twenty national cultures and 250 years It goes beyond the conventional nation centered narratives and presents a novel vision especially sensitive to the cross cultural entanglement of political ideas and discourses Its principal aim is to make these cultures available for the global market of ideas and revisit some of the basic assumptions about the history of modern political thought and modernity as such The present volume is the final part of the project following Volume I Negotiating Modernity in the Long Nineteenth Century and Volume II Part I Negotiating Modernity in the Short Twentieth Century 1918 1968 OUP 2018 Its starting point is the defeat of the vision of socialism with a human face in 1968 and the political discourses produced by the various consolidation or normalization regimes It continues with mapping the exile communities and domestic dissidents critical engagement with the local democratic and anti democratic traditions as well as with global trends Rather than achieving the coveted end of history however the liberal democratic order created in East Central Europe after 1989 became increasingly contested from left and right alike Thus instead of a comfortable conclusion pointing to the European integration of most of these countries the book closes with a reflection on the fragility of democracy in this part of the world and beyond The Logic of Hungarian Political Development (1990-2022) Ervin Csizmadia, 2024-01-22 The Logic of Hungarian Political Development 1990 2022 Historical and Political Perspectives is a departure from most of the works focused on contemporary Hungarian politics Most tend to focus on describing the transition from democracy to autocracy with a focus on Viktor Orb n and the construction of an illiberal regime Ervin Csizmadia s book differs from this literature in its approach How it could have happened in Hungary in the first place To understand the essence of this you must recognize the whole process of Hungarian political development Csizmadia argues that patterns of the old Hungarian development have emerged in our time which cannot be dismissed as archaic are reviving the old patterns today are intriguing and we know very little about them Totalitarian Experience and Knowledge Production Svetla Koleva, 2017-11-20 Totalitarian Experience and Knowledge Production examines in a comparative perspective sociology as practiced in six European Communist countries marked by various forms of totalitarianism in the period 1945-1989. In contrast to normative sociology's view that such coexistence is essentially impossible, the author argues that sociology could function in these undemocratic societies insofar as sociologists succeeded in establishing relatively autonomous institutional and cognitive zones. Based on the self-reflection of scholars who had practiced their profession during that period, the book reveals the tribulations of the scientific identity of sociology under the specific social-political conditions of totalitarian societies. It becomes evident that the basic principle that made sociological knowledge possible was freedom of thought in search for scientific truth despite the truth imposed by political authority.

Euro-Atlantic Discourse in Georgia Frederik Coene, 2016-04-14. How have discourses of Euro-Atlanticism been used in domestic and international affairs by the political elite in Georgia? After the 2003 Rose Revolution, as relations with Russia soured, a Euro-Atlantic orientation portrayed as a single and coherent strategy became the cornerstone of Georgian foreign policy as well as a model for domestic reforms. This promise of a prosperous future offered new hope to the Georgian population. Scepticism or critical thinking towards President Saakashvili and his government were equated to pro-Russian treason, and pro-western orientation and impressive reforms promoted as being modelled along European standards emerged simultaneously with an outspoken rhetoric and active symbolism. References to Europe and the Euro-Atlantic structures became ubiquitous as European flags were brandished throughout the country. Addressing a gap in the existing literature, the author examines a large volume of data extracted from news items from 20 different Georgian and international media channels over a ten-year period. Through this, he identifies patterns in the discourse to explain the intentions of the Georgian elite and examines the effectiveness of the rhetoric.

Discourse, Culture and Organization Tomas Marttila, 2018-09-22. This edited volume brings together leading international researchers from across the social sciences to examine the theoretical premises, methodological options, and critical potentials of the Essex School of discourse analysis, founded on the work of Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe. In doing so, it presents a clear picture of a poststructuralist and post-foundational research program to postdisciplinary discourse research. Divided into three parts, it begins by elaborating the ontological, theoretical, and methodological foundations of the Essex School's approach to discourse analysis. The second part provides empirical case studies showing how the Essex School research program informs and instructs empirical discourse research. In the concluding third part, authors explain how and with what possible consequences this strand of discourse research contributes to social practices of critique. It offers a crucial contribution to the further methodologization and operationalization of the Essex School's approach so as to make it a viable alternative to discourse analytical approaches that take dominant positions in today's field of discourse studies. The book's transdisciplinary focus will attract readers who use discourse analysis in all areas of the social sciences and humanities, particularly applied linguistics, cultural anthropology, sociology, philosophy, and history.

Ideology and System Change in the USSR and East Europe Michael Urban, 2016-07-27. These studies cover a range of topics: market reforms, social justice, ecology, nationalism, new political parties, and more that are at the centre of the revolutionary changes under way in the former Soviet bloc The breadth of this book's subject matter is complemented by the variety of methods and approaches that it features historical interpretation linguistic analysis statistical analysis and political sociology The result is a genuinely interdisciplinary treatment of this important topic

Eastern Europe . . . Central Europe . . . Europe Stephen R Graubard, 2019-04-05 At a time of tremendous flux throughout Europe this book provides solid analyses of the events and trends that are rapidly reshaping the region Originally published as an edition of Dcedalus this updated volume brings together leading scholars to examine such issues as the major paradigmatic shifts occurring in Eastern Europe the long te The Soviet Past in the Post-Socialist Present Melanie Ilic, Dalia Leinarte, 2015-07-03 This collection examines practical and ethical issues inherent in the application of oral history and memory studies to research about the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe since the collapse of the Soviet bloc Case studies highlight the importance of ethical good practice including the reflexive interrogation of the interviewer and researcher and aspects of gender and national identity Researchers use oral history to analyze present day recollections of the Soviet past thereby extending our understanding beyond archival records official rhetoric and popular mythology Oral history explores individual life stories but this has sometimes resulted in rather incomplete incoherent inconsistent or illogical narratives Oral history therefore presents the researcher with a number of methodological and ethical dilemmas including the interpretation of silence in biographical accounts This collection links the discussion of oral history ethics with that of memory studies Memories are shaped by factors that may be simultaneously both consecutive and disrupted In written accounts and responses to interview questions respondents sometimes display nostalgia for the Soviet past or conversely may seek to de-mythologize the realities of Soviet rule Case studies explore what to do when interview subjects and memoirists consciously sub consciously or unconsciously forget aspects of their own past or themselves seek to take control of the research process

Popular Television in Eastern Europe During and Since Socialism Anikó Imre, Timothy Havens, Kati Lustyik, 2013 This collection of essays responds to the recent surge of interest in popular television in Eastern Europe This is a region where television's transformation has been especially spectacular shifting from a state controlled broadcast system delivering national regional and heavily filtered Western programming to a deregulated multi platform transnational system delivering predominantly American and Western European entertainment programming Consequently the nations of Eastern Europe provide opportunities to examine the complex interactions among economic and funding systems regulatory policies globalization imperialism popular culture and cultural identity This collection will be the first volume to gather the best writing by scholars across and outside the region on socialist and postsocialist entertainment television as a medium technology and institution East Central Europe in the Modern World Andrew C. Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies

Conceptual History in the European Space Willibald Steinmetz, Michael Freeden, Javier Fernández-Sebastián, 2017-06-01 The result of extensive collaboration among leading scholars from across Europe Conceptual History in the European Space represents a landmark intervention in the historiography of concepts It brings together ambitious thematic studies that combine the pioneering methods of historian Reinhart Koselleck with contemporary insights and debates each one illuminating a key feature of the European conceptual landscape With clarifying overviews of such contested theoretical terrain as translatability spatiality and center periphery dynamics it also provides indispensable contextualization for an era of widespread disenchantment with and misunderstanding of the European project

Modern Hungarian Political Thought Zoltán Balázs, Csaba Molnár, 2024-10-31 This book introduces the reader into the discursive political pluralism of modern Hungary roughly from the mid 19th century with a particular emphasis on the spectrum of contemporary political thought The book relies on Michael Freeden's method of ideology analysis focusing on concepts principles values as well as interrelations but it puts a greater emphasis on nonverbal traditions as bearers of political thought to explain how political pluralism can subsist in periods of dictatorship Through this analysis the authors demonstrate how and why contemporary Hungarian political pluralism is a reflection both on the current trends in Western political thought and on its own past
