Marginalized Students New Directions For Community Colleges Number 155:

Marginalized Students Elizabeth M. Cox, Jesse S. Watson, 2011-09-28 Gone are the days when the term diversity may have been used to solely signify the color of one's skin or gender. This volume examines how diverse and marginalized populations are situated within American community colleges and pushes the boundaries of our understanding of these terms. The editors and contributing authors examine various student groups as well as give voice to the marginalization felt by a group of faculty. Topics include: Examining the concept of student marginalization through a framework based on Dewey's 1916 work Democracy and Education; Experiences of Adult English as Second Language learners; Seeing the community college environment through the eyes of student athletes; Current research on lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer LGBTQ community college students and the need for more research; Student veterans; Underprepared college students; and community college faculty in correctional institutions. The volume concludes with key resources for anyone who works with or researches marginalized populations. The resources include sources for further reading, existing organizations serving various marginalized groups, and some possible funding opportunities. This is the 155th volume of the Jossey-Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Community Colleges, Essential to the professional libraries of presidents, vice presidents, deans, and other leaders in today's open-door institutions. New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission.

Engaging African American Males in Community Colleges Ted N. Ingram, James Coaxum, 2018-05-01 This volume dedicated to the engagement of African American males in community colleges furthers the research agenda focused on improving the educational outcomes of African American males. The theme engagement also supports the anti-deficit approach to research on African American males developed by renowned research scholars. The true success of African American males in community colleges rests on how well these institutions engage young men into their institutions This will require community colleges to examine policies pedagogical strategies and institutional practices that alienate African American males and fosters a culture of underachievement The authors who have contributed to this volume all speak from the same script which proves that when African American males are properly engaged in an education that is culturally relevant they will succeed Therefore this book will benefit ALL who support the education of African American males It is our intent that this book will contribute to the growing body of knowledge that exists in this area as well as foster more inquiry into the achievement of African American males The book offers three approaches to understanding the engagement of African American males in community college which includes empirical research policy perspectives and programmatic initiatives

Fostering the Liberal Arts in the 21st-Century Community College Keith Kroll, 2013-01-11 Liberal arts education is one of the founding missions of community colleges However it has drifted toward vocational training to such an extent that the dominant narrative of the 21st century community college portrays a job re training center more than an educational institution This volume offers a timely much needed and persuasive argument for the importance of a liberal arts education particularly in the humanities for all students attending a public comprehensive community college The Landscape of the Liberal Arts What Happened to the Liberal Arts Two Year Humanities A President's View on the Importance of the Liberal Arts in Community Colleges Why Community College Students Need Great Books Discovering History at the Community College Why Community Colleges Need the Academic Study of Religion How Interdisciplinary Liberal Arts Programs Prepare Students for Workforce and Life A 21st Century Humanities for the Community College Sources on Liberal Arts in the Community College This is the 163rd volume of this Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series an essential guide for presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today's open door institutions this quarterly provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission Supporting Success for LGBTQ+ Students Cindy Ann Kilgo, 2020-10-22 The newest edition to the National Resource Center's series on Special Student Populations focuses on supporting LGBTQ students on campus. Despite increasing visibility and acceptance in some spheres, many LGBTQ students continue to experience a negative climate on college campuses, presenting barriers to their academic and personal success. This volume explores the last decade of research on LGBTQ college students with an eye toward understanding their needs and the unique conditions related to their college success. The opening chapter offers useful definitions to help ground practitioners in the current conversation. Readers will also find examples of inclusive excellence and questions for guiding practice to promote a more inclusive learning environment not only for LGBTQ students but for all students on the campus.

Why Kids Love (and Hate) School Steven P. Jones, Eric C. Sheffield, 2018-06-13 This collection consists of theoretical discussions, personal reflections, research reports, and policy suggestions sourced in the experiences of our most vulnerable students with an eye to making schools places all students might love rather than hate. The essays take up these issues from the perspectives of poverty, gender, race, ethnicity, ability, language, and religion among others. These essays also provide practical advice for teachers and administrators, both practicing and pre-service, for making classrooms and schools spaces that would encourage our students to say I love school. Perfect for courses in Introduction to Education, General Methods, Social Foundations of Education, Diversity Management, Assessment, Philosophy of Education, Sociology of Education, Educational Research, Educational Administration, Leadership, Teacher Leadership, Curriculum Theory, and Curriculum Development. Uncovering the Cultural Dynamics in Mentoring Programs and Relationships Frances K. Kochan, Andrea M. Kent, André M. Green, 2014-12-01 Although cultural issues have a powerful influence on the failure and success of mentoring programs and relationships, there is scant research on this area and little in the way of guidelines that practitioners can use to help assure mentoring success. This book seeks to expand our knowledge and understanding of this topic and to foster the use of this information to enhance practice and research. The book is unique in a number of ways and will be an important resource for all those engaged in mentoring endeavors and for those conducting research in this area. First, it presents research findings on the cultural impact of mentoring at the individual, relational, level, at the organizational level, and within the structures of the society. Secondly, the chapters describe mentoring from an international perspective, including programs from Africa, Australia, Canada, Finland, India, Ireland, Korea, Scotland, Sweden, and the United States. Third, the book is research-based and yet can be easily applied to practice. Chapters provide information on lessons learned and also include reflective questions to enable the reader to delve more deeply into the constructs and findings in order to apply them to their own practice and research. This makes the book an ideal resource for training mentors and mentees for designing mentoring programs for teaching about mentoring and for establishing and maintaining mentoring relationships. It also will be of value to those who are engaged in conducting research on how to create and maintain successful mentoring relationships and programs Endorsements All mentoring relationships are diverse Indeed it is the difference between mentor and mentee that creates the potential for co learning Mentoring that bridges cultural gaps opens the way to an exchange of understanding about both internal and external assumptions and perspectives how each of us thinks and how the world functions for each of us In this book the editors and contributors demonstrate the diversity of diversity with particular focus on education in different societies I recommend it as essential background reading for anyone designing mentoring programmes in which cultural diversity will be a significant dynamic Dr David Clutterbuck Special Ambassador European Mentoring and Coaching Council In this boundary spanning volume the authors pull back the curtain on the latest evolution of mentoring theory and practice revealing that all mentoring relationships are intrinsically cultural Not only that the researchers present creative empirically sound ideas for mentoring at different scales personal encounters networked communities and loose collectives This book is robustly inclusive of structural layers of mentoring differentiated by context whether higher education schools or collegial communities making meaning of cultural diversity as part of one s inner core of relational and systematic mentoring Practitioners of mentoring and researchers of mentoring alike should find this work important for understanding the breadth and depth of mentoring in different cultural contexts while allowing its essence to remain unfolding rather than simply told All mentoring professionals can gain insight and value from the diversity of theoretical orientations that capture as well as map the impact of global and cultural influences of mentoring in everyday worlds A must read for all who care about the quality of educational relationships and about making a difference in learning settings Dr Carol A Mullen Professor of Educational Leadership Virginia Tech University Council for Educational Administration UCEA Plenary Session Representative PSR
