The Colossus of Rhodes Nathan Badoud, 2024-08-23 The Colossus of Rhodes is both the most famous and the least well known monument of Ancient Greece Numbered among the Seven Wonders of the World this bronze statue of the god Helios thirty four metres in height was created by the sculptor Chares of Lindos between the years 295 and 283 BC only to be destroyed by an earthquake in 227 BC The legends which have spread after its collapse seem so strange and contradictory that specialists in Greek sculpture have been dissuaded from investigating the topic Nathan Badoud publishes the first comprehensive study devoted to the Colossus His book mobilises a large array of sources ranging from antiquity to the present day It proposes an intellectual excavation through the layers of the literary artistic and scientific tradition It envisages the statue in its religious political and topographical contexts It explores its function its technique its appearance its meaning and its location It reconsiders the beginnings of the Hellenistic world marked by the emergence of Rhodes as an imperial power embodied by the Colossus

Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya Brian McLaren, 2006 To be a tourist in Libya during the period of Italian colonization was to experience a complex negotiation of cultures Against a sturdy backdrop of indigenous culture and architecture modern metropolitan culture brought its systems of transportation and accommodation as well as new hierarchies of political and social control

Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya shows how Italian authorities used the contradictory forces of tradition and modernity to both legitimize their colonial enterprise and construct a vital tourist industry Although most tourists sought to escape the trappings of the metropole in favor of experiencing difference that difference was almost always framed contained and even defined by Western culture McLaren argues that the modern and the traditional were entirely constructed by colonial authorities who balanced their need to project an image of a modern and efficient network of travel and accommodation with the necessity of preserving the characteristic qualities of the indigenous culture What made the tourist experience in Libya distinct from that of other tourist destinations was the constant oscillation between modernizing and preservation tendencies The movement between these forces is reflected in the structure of the book which proceeds from the broadest level of inquiry into the Fascist colonial project in Libya to the tourist organization itself and finally into the architecture of the tourist environment offering a way of viewing state driven modernization projects and notions of modernity from a historical and geographic perspective This is an important book for architectural historians and for those interested in colonial and postcolonial studies as well as Italian studies African history literature and cultural studies more generally
