process which involves the development and utilization of subject knowledge and teaching skills. Containing reflective and practical skills, this book supports such development focusing specifically on teaching skills, considering what they are, how they develop, and how they differ between age and subject. The book contains three sections: Planning, Doing, and Reviewing, which demonstrate effective classroom practice. It uses examples of practitioners at different stages of their professional development to link theory and practice and includes discussions on contemporary issues in primary education such as Constructivist teaching and learning, Thinking skills, Creativity, Teaching and learning styles, Child-centred learning. The authors provide a critical analysis of the issues, practice, and problems faced by primary school teachers, which is supported by reflective tasks throughout the book. Emphasizing the child as a partner in the learning process and highlighting the importance of teaching for child-centred learning, the book ultimately develops and strengthens the teacher's skills. Developing Teaching Skills in the Primary School provides essential guidance and support to trainee, beginner, and developing primary school teachers.

Questioning the Music Education Paradigm Lee Bartel, 2004-09-15. Twenty-three contributors turn a critical lens on the dominant music education paradigm to examine how we teach, what we teach, for what we teach, what is expected of teachers, and how we teach them, whom we should be teaching, and the very assumptions and structures of which we base our practice.

Teaching Students Thinking Skills and Strategies Dorothy Howie, 2011. This book sets out the theory and outlines a model for implementing the teaching of thinking at whole school, group, and individual levels in inclusive settings. The model uses a three-tier approach to ensure that all learners are included, teaching thinking for all, working with small groups, and addressing individualised learning needs.

Teaching Virtues Donald Trent Jacobs, Jessica Jacobs-Spencer, 2001. This book about teaching virtues is based on a fundamental American Indian view that sees the universe as intimate relationships of living things that are vitally affected by attributes called universal virtues. These virtues cross all boundaries and cannot be taught in isolation. They are woven into all subjects that are worth learning. Part 1 provides psychological perspectives that underpin the book's approach. Part 2 shows how various pedagogical strategies can turn subject matter into significant relationships. Since teaching virtues is ultimately about relationships, a natural way to embed awareness of virtues unfolds when there is a consistent commitment to teaching virtues daily. Chapters introduce the lesson plan format and the conceptual model, explore the meanings of vital terminology, and discuss assessment strategies Part 3 realizes the actual interconnections between virtues and content knowledge with chapters that address social studies language arts science physical education mathematics and the arts These chapters show how the process works to truly integrate content and character education Part 4 offers an opportunity for profound reflection on the issues and challenges surrounding effective character education Contains 75 references TD Teaching Foreign Languages to Arab Learners Salah A.
