Harry Potter Og De Viser Stein:

Possession in Languages of Europe and North and Central Asia Lars Johanson, Lidia Federica Mazzitelli, Irina Nevskaya, 2019-03-15 This volume is a collection of articles dealing with the linguistic category of possession and its expression in languages spoken in Europe and North and Central Asia Uralic Turkic Indo European and Caucasian with a few excursions into other parts of the world Some papers engage in typological comparisons both within and beyond the borders of individual language families focusing on issues of motivation meaning and forms used in expressing possession typology of belong constructions marking possession in possessor chains non canonical possessives and their relation to the category of familiarity metaphoric shifts of possessive semantics Others focus on possession in individual languages offering new precious pieces of information on the linguistic expression of possession in lesser known languages some of which are endangered and even unwritten The volume will be of interest to both general linguists and typologists as well as to experts students of the individual languages or language families analyzed in the papers

Split Possession Thomas Stolz, Sonja Kettler, Cornelia Stroh, Aina Urdze, 2008-05-21 This book is a functional typological study of possession splits in European languages It shows that genetically and structurally diverse languages such as Icelandic Welsh and Maltese display possessive systems which are sensitive to semantically based distinctions reminiscent of the alienability correlation These distinctions are grammatically relevant in many European languages because they require dedicated constructions What makes these split possessive systems interesting for the linguist is the interaction of semantic criteria with pragmatics and syntax Neutralisation of distinctions occurs under focus The same happens if one of the constituents of a possessive construction is syntactically heavy These effects can be observed in the majority of the 50 sample languages Possessive splits are strong in those languages which are outside the Standard Average European group The bulk of the European languages do not behave much differently from those non European languages for which possession splits are reported The book reveals interesting new facts about European languages and possession to typologists universals researchers and areal linguists

The Architecture of Focus Valéria Molnár, Susanne Winkler, 2011-12-22 This collection investigates the architecture of focus in linguistic theory from different theoretical perspectives Research on focus and information structure in the last four decades has shown that the phenomenon of focus is highly complex the theoretical approaches manifold and the data highly sensitive The main emphasis has been placed on the integration of the notion of focus in generative grammar In recent years however the approaches to focus and information structure underwent a radical change in perspective The theoretical concept of focus its related terms and phenomena became the object of research Along with it the research questions shifted instead of locating focus in the architecture of grammar linguists investigate the architecture of focus itself The central underlying idea of this collection is to document this change in perspective with the aim of isolating essential keystones and research areas in both the theoretical and empirical domain The book is structured accordingly Following the introduction there are four main sections The general section discusses the theoretical foundations of focus within grammar The second section hosts papers which investigate the representation of focus and topic at the syntax pragmatics interface The third section discusses the phonological representation of focus and its relation to meaning The papers of the final section investigate different types of focus constructions in a variety languages The collection of papers on the architecture of focus its interpretation and representation mirror the establishment of the focus research field Languages and Cultures in Contrast and Comparison María de los Ángeles Gómez González,J. Lachlan Mackenzie,Elsa M. González Álvarez,2008-06-26 This volume explores various hitherto under researched relationships between languages and their discourse cultural settings The first two sections analyze the complex interplay between lexico grammatical organization and communicative contexts Part I focuses on structural options in syntax deepening the analysis of information packaging strategies Part II turns to lexical studies covering such matters as human perception and emotion the psychological understanding of home and abroad the development of children s emotional life and the relation between lexical choice and sexual orientation The final chapters consider how new techniques of contrastive linguistics and pragmatics are contributing to the primary field of application for contrastive analysis language teaching and learning The book will be of special interest to scholars and students of linguistics discourse analysis and cultural studies and to those entrusted with teaching European languages and cultures The major languages covered are Akan Dutch English Finnish French German Italian Norwegian Spanish and Swedish Competing Comparative Constructions in Europe Thomas Stolz,2013-10-24 This in depth areal typological study analyzes the grammatical means which are employed in the languages of Europe to express the comparative of inequality superiority The extant theories and hypotheses about the morphosyntactic structure and the cross linguistic distribution of construction types are reviewed The behavior of comparatives under the conditions of language contact is discussed Data from more than 170 standard and nonstandard varieties of European languages are scrutinized systematically The synchronic picture is complemented by a chapter on the diachrony of comparative constructions The European facts are compared to those of the geographically adjacent Asian and African regions It is argued that cross linguistic investigations must take account also of so called secondary options These secondary options suggest strongly that the supposedly dominant role of the particle comparative cannot be upheld for Europe Moreover only the secondary options allow us to draw isoglosses which cross the borders between Europe and Asia and Africa Genier, sjarlataner og 50 bøtter med urin Eivind Torgersen,2018-08-28 I det periodiske systemet er alt du trenger for forst verden rundt deg Her ligger forklaringen p hvordan oksygenet i lufta kommer seg over i blodet n r du puster Hvorfor biffen blir s saftig og deilig n r du steker den riktig Hvorfor st l blir sterkere n r du finner den rette blandingen av metaller Men det periodiske system skjuler ogs 118 historier om menneskene som oppdaget grunnstoffene og om tiden de levde i Det er historien om hvordan kjemien ble en vitenskap fra grekernes f rste famlende fors k via gullt rste alkymister til moderne forskningslaboratorier Det
