Marcus Aurelius In Love:

Marcus Aurelius in Love Marcus Aurelius, Marcus Cornelius Fronto, 2008-09-15 In 1815 a manuscript containing one of the long lost treasures of antiquity was discovered the letters of Marcus Cornelius Fronto reputed to have been one of the greatest Roman orators But this find disappointed many nineteenth century readers who had hoped for the letters to convey all of the political drama of Cicero's That the collection included passionate love letters between Fronto and the future emperor Marcus Aurelius was politely ignored or concealed And for almost two hundred years these letters have lain hidden in plain sight Marcus Aurelius in Love rescues these letters from obscurity and returns them to the public eye The story of Marcus and Fronto began in 139 CE when Fronto was selected to instruct Marcus in rhetoric Marcus was eighteen then and by all appearances the pupil and teacher fell in love Spanning the years in which the relationship flowered and died these are the only love letters to survive from antiquity homoerotic or otherwise With a translation that reproduces the effusive slangy style of the young prince and the rhetorical flourishes of his master the letters between Marcus and Fronto will rightfully be reconsidered as key documents in the study of the history of sexuality and classics Francisca's Love Story Norbert Mercado, Love and Remembrance Frank A. Domínguez, 2021-12-14 Jorge Manrique was the greatest poet of fifteenth century Castile and one of the three or four greatest in Spanish literature Frank A Domínguez offers here an introduction to Manrique's poetry and the first book length study of him in English in fifty years After presenting the biographical and historical context of Manrique's poetry Domínguez examines the poet's love lyrics describing the large fund of commonplaces and forms that Manrique's verses share with those of other poets of his age Manrique's highly stylized language and parallel verse structures express the obsession of the lover with the beloved Moreover his attention to parallel construe the world's greatest In treating the Coplas Domínguez not only offers a sensitive reading of the elegy but also examines questions of text structure and style Like the love lyrics the Coplas present a high incidence of parallel structures that make for clarity and symmetry Domínguez also finds that the complex stylistic relationships of the verses provide the Coplas with a unity that is deeper and more fundamental than has generally been perceived This study eclectic in its critical approaches will be the standard English work on Manrique for years to come Melancholy, Love, and Time Peter G. Toohey, 2010-03-11 Ancient literature features many powerful narratives of madness depression melancholy lovesickness simple boredom and the effects of such psychological states upon individual sufferers Peter Toohey turns his attention to representations of these emotional states in the Classical Hellenistic and especially the Roman imperial periods in a study that illuminates the cultural and aesthetic significance of this emotionally charged literature His probing analysis shows that a shifting representation of these afflicted states and the concomitant sense of isolation from one's social affinities and surroundings manifests a developing sense of the self and self consciousness in the ancient world This book makes important contributions to a variety of disciplines including classical studies comparative literature literary and art history history of medicine history of emotions

Making Love Paul Kelleher, 2015-07-16 In Making Love Sentiment and Sexuality in Eighteenth Century British Literature Paul Kelleher revises the history of sexuality from the vantage point of the literary history of sentimentalism Kelleher demonstrates how eighteenth century British philosophers essayists and novelists fundamentally reconceived the relations among sentiment sexuality and moral virtue It is his contention that sentimental discourse both philosophical and literary posited heterosexual desire as the precondition of moral feeling and conduct The author further suggests that sentimental writers fashioned the ideal of conjugal love as an ideological antidote to the theories of self love and self interest found in the works of Thomas Hobbes and Bernard Mandeville Heterosexual desire and its culmination in conjugal love in other words were represented as the privileged means for an individual to transcend self love and to develop a moral sensibility attuned to the thoughts and feelings of others At the same time Kelleher suggests other pleasures and desires particularly those rooted in same sex eroticism were increasingly depicted as antithetical to conjugal love and thus were morally devalued and socially disenfranchised Kelleher's argument unfolds through close readings of a variety of texts including Shaftesbury's Characteristics of Men Manners Opinions Times Joseph Addison and Richard Steele's The Tatler and The Spectator Eliza Haywood's Love in Excess Samuel Richardson's Pamela and Henry Fielding's Tom Jones Although these texts embody diverse rhetorical strategies and thematic concerns he shows how they collectively reinforce an overarching sentimental ideology on the one hand heterosexual desire and conjugal love become synonymous with sympathy benevolence and moral goodness while on the other hand same sex desire is pathologized as a selfish withdrawal from procreation domesticity sociability and ultimately humanity itself
