Marguerite Duras Writing On The Body:

Marguerite Duras : writing on the body Sharon Willis,1987 Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico,1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women s studies Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors The Culture of Pain David B. Morris,1991-09-09 This is a book about the meanings we make out of pain The greatest surprise I encountered in discussing this topic over the past ten years was the consistency with which I was asked a single unvarying question Are you writing about physical pain or mental pain The overwhelming consistency of this response convinces me that modern culture rests upon and underlying belief so strong that it grips us with the force of a founding myth Call it the Myth of Two Pains We live in an era when many people believe as a basic unexamined foundation of thought that pain comes divided into separate types physical and mental These two types of pain so the myth goes are as different as land and sea You feel physical pain if your arm breaks and you feel mental pain if your heart breaks Between these two different events we seem to imagine a gulf so wide and deep that it might as well be filled by a sea that is impossible to navigate Arms and the Woman Helen M. Cooper,Adrienne Auslander Munich,Susan Merrill Squier,2000-11-15 Although the themes of women s complicity in and resistance to war have been part of literature from early times they have not been fully integrated into conventional conceptions of the war narrative Combining feminist literary criticism with the emerging field of feminist war theory this collection explores the role of gender as an organizing principle in the war system and reveals how literature perpetuates the ancient myth of arms and the man The volume shows how the gendered conception of war has both shaped literary texts and formed the literary canon It identifies and interrogates the conventional war text with its culturally determined split between warlike men and peaceful women and it confirms that women s role in relation to war is much more complex and complicitous than such essentializing suggests The contributors examine a wide range of familiar texts from fresh perspectives and bring new texts to light Collectively these essays range in time from the Trojan War to the nuclear age The contributors are June Jordan Lorraine Helms Patricia Francis Cholakian Jane E Schultz Margaret R Higonnet James Longenbach Laura Stempel Mumford Sharon O'Brien Jane Marcus Sara Friedrichsmeyer Susan Schweik Carol J Adams Esther Fuchs Barbara Freeman Gillian Brown Helen M Cooper Adrienne Auslander Munich and Susan Merrill Squier

Love and the Politics of Intimacy Stanislava Dikova,Wendy McMahon,Jordan Savage,2023-01-12 Love and the Politics of Intimacy articulates the concept of love within the relationship between the intimate and the social rethinking how intimacy is conceived and experienced in the context of 21st century neoliberalism Reflecting on experiences of intimate romantic and sexual love and the role of individual identity these essays explore historical trajectories that have culminated in particular contemporary experiences of intimate love Politically this work links identity and articulation of the self to liberatory practices in the arenas of friendship romance and sex This interdisciplinary exploration of what love means in the 21st century incorporates academic writing and original creative work from established and emerging scholars around the globe Essays from across the humanities and social sciences including literary studies sociology psychology philosophy and gender studies interrogate the role of relational intimacy on topics of Love and Romance Love and Liberation and Love and Technologies of Intimacy The volume looks at the past present and future in search of inspiration for transforming and re charting the pathways of love seeking a more diverse and emancipatory model of social life and what it would take to restore love to social and institutional spaces

Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature Leslie Barnes, 2014-12-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam s position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature

Druxes,1996 Helga Druxes study of the female protagonists in novels by German writer Monika Maron British writers Margaret Drabble and Jean Rhys and French writer Marguerite Duras brings together the work of four prominent contemporary women authors In discussing the position of women in urban spaces from the point of view of feminist and cultural theory Druxes combines anthropology and recent literary theory within the framework of cultural studies She addresses such concerns as the objectification commodification of women in late capitalist society the possibilities for resistant or subversive female agency under these conditions and the role of specifically urban arrangements of space in both effecting this objectification and creating the sites where it might be resisted or disrupted by women Resisting Bodies is an important contribution to literary criticism and feminist theory Thinking Bodies Juliet Flower MacCannell, Laura Zakarin,1994 The diverse group of philosophers and literary critics who contribute to this volume address the question of how bodies think how thought is embodied from a variety of approaches including deconstruction Lacanian psychoanalysis feminist theory postmodernism cultural and media studies literary criticism and the revisionist study of oppressed peoples

American Cinema of the 1990s Chris Holmlund,2008-10-11 With the U S economy booming under President Bill Clinton and the cold war finally over many Americans experienced peace and prosperity in the nineties Digital technologies gained popularity with nearly one billion people online by the end of the decade The film industry wondered what the effect on cinema would be The essays in American Cinema of the 1990s examine the big budget blockbusters and critically acclaimed independent films that defined the decade The 1990s most popular genre action channeled anxieties about global threats such as AIDS and foreign terrorist attacks into escapist entertainment movies Horror films and thrillers were on the rise but family friendly pictures and feel good romances netted big audiences too Meanwhile independent films captured hearts engaged minds and invaded Hollywood by decade s end every studio boasted its own art film affiliate The Embodiment of Disobedience Andrea Elizabeth Shaw,2006-07-27 Despite the West s privileging of slenderness as an aesthetic ideal the African Diaspora has historically displayed a resistance to the Western European and North American indulgence in fat anxiety The Embodiment of Disobedience explores the ways in which the African Diaspora has rejected the West s efforts to impose imperatives of slenderness and mass market fat anxiety Author Andrea Shaw explores the origins and contradictions of this phenomenon especially the cultural deviations in beauty criteria and the related social and cultural practices Unique in its examination of how both fatness and blackness interact on literary cultural planes this book also offers a diasporic scope that develops previously unexamined connections among female representations throughout the African Diaspora Wild Colonial Girl Lisa Colletta, Maureen O'Connor,2006-08-15 Since the 1960 publication of her first novel The Country Girls award winning Irish writer Edna O'Brien has been both celebrated and maligned Praised for her lyrical prose and vivid female characters and attacked for her frank treatment of sexuality and alleged sensationalism O'Brien and her work seem always to spawn controversy including the past banning in Ireland of several of her works O'Brien s attention to women's concerns such as sex, romance, marriage and childbirth has often relegated her to critical neglect at best and at worst outright contempt. This essay collection promises to be a long overdue critical reevaluation and exciting rediscovery of her oeuvre. Wild Colonial Girl situates O'Brien in Irish contexts that allow for an appraisal of her significant contribution to a specifically Irish women's literary tradition while attesting to the potency of writing against patriarchal conventions. Each chapter's clear and detailed readings of O'Brien's fiction build a convincing case for her literary, political and cultural importance, providing an invaluable critical guide for an enriched appreciation of O'Brien and her work.

Otherness and the Media Hamid Naficy, Teshome H. Gabriel, 2016-10-04. This anthology on otherness and the media, first published in 1993, was prompted by the proliferation of writings centring on issues of difference, diversity, multiculturalism, representation and postcolonial discourses. Such issues and discourses question existing canons of criticism, theory and cultural practice but also because they suggest a new sense of direction in the theorisation of difference and representation.

Apocalyptic Desires Leslie Hill, 1993. Marguerite Duras is France's best known and most controversial contemporary woman writer. Duras' influence extends from her early novels of the 1950s to her radically innovative experimental autobiographical text of the 1980s The Lover. Leslie Hill's book throws new light on Duras' relationship to feminism, psychoanalysis, sexuality, literature, film, politics and the media. Feted by Kristeva and Lacan who claimed her as almost his other self, Duras is revealed to be a profoundly transgressive thinker and artist. It will be a must for all concerned with contemporary writing, writing by women, recent European cinema, film and literature.

Re-Forming the Body MR Philip A. Mellor, Philip A. Mellor, Chris Shilling, Professor Chris Shilling, 1997-02-14. Enriches the conceptual arsenal for interdisciplinary analysis of political, social and cultural change, stimulates more nuanced thinking about the cultural and political legacy of the Reformation era, manages both to clarify tensions surrounding cultural and social integration in the late 20th century while underscoring the real historical complexity of modern bodies. American Journal of Sociology. Through an analysis of successive re-formations of the body, this innovative and penetrating book constructs a fascinating and wide-ranging account of how the creation and evolution of different patterns of human community are intimately related to the somatic experience of the sacred. The book places the relationship between the embodiment and the sacred at the crux of social theory and casts a fresh light on the emergence and transformation of modernity. It critically examines the thesis that the rational projects of modern embodiment have died and gone to cyberspace and suggests that we are witnessing the rise of a virulent effervescent form of the sacred which is changing how people see and keep in touch with the world around them.

Breaking the Fall Robert Detweiler, 1995-01-01. The power of his writing reminds us of the relative neglect of modern and post-modern literature by most studies which are concerned with the relationship between literature and religion.
