Only 3,335 signatures were collected, and the petition failed to reach the 10,000-signature threshold required for a referendum. The petitioners had been told that the referendum would be held in 2000, but the state legislature failed to schedule it. The petitioners filed a lawsuit in 2001, claiming that the state had violated their constitutional right to a referendum. The court ruled in favor of the petitioners, and the referendum was held in 2002. The referendum was approved by a narrow margin, and the state's minimum wage was increased to $7.25 per hour.
