Growing Up in The 50s Clydene Overbey,2009-01 I grew up poor but never knew it We lived at the end of the road by the railroad tracks in an old house that was cold in the winter Doors were never locked and no one bothered us Across the pasture my Auntie lived and Brenda was my side kick We got in to the most crazy fixes Our Parents were always there to correct our mistakes We ate beans and potatoes and loved them Still do We lived simply and happy This book describes some of our capers I talk just the way I write with a southern drawl Growing up in Adelaide in the 1950's Susan

Blackburn,2013-02-01 Growing up in the fifties was a time of isolation and innocence We didn't know what was going on in the rest of the world We could only compare ourselves with those around us So writes Max Lees in his reminiscence Freedom one of the 13 contributions to this delightful evocation of childhood edited by Susan Blackburn An associate professor at Monash University and a specialist in Southeast Asian politics who grew up in suburban Adelaide Blackburn asked friends and acquaintances to join her in trying to recreate the experience of childhood in that place in that time Most of the memories in this book are of happy sunlit childhoods but there are shadows too Polio was a constant fear and unwanted children were often neglected in orphanages On the whole though the experiences of the contributors were positive and they look back on the fifties with enjoyment inviting us into their childhood and teenage worlds Daily Life in 1950s America

Nancy Hendricks,2019-02-22 Placing the era firmly within the American experience this reference illuminates what daily life was really like in the 1950s including for people from the Other America those outside the prosperous white middle class Daily Life in 1950s America shows that the era was anything but uneventful Apart from revolutionary changes during the decade itself it was in the 1950s that the seeds took root for the social turmoil of the 1960s and the technological world of today The book's interdisciplinary format looks at the domestic economic intellectual material political recreational and religious life of average Americans Readers can look at sections separately according to their interests or classroom assignment or can read them as an ongoing narrative By entering the homes of average Americans far from the corridors of power we can make sense of the 1950s and see how the headlines of the era translated into their daily lives This readable and informative book is ideal for anyone interested in this formative decade in American life Well researched factual material is presented in an engaging way along with lively sidebars to humanize each section It is unique in blending the history popular culture and sociology of American daily life including those of Americans who were not white middle class and prosperous Selling With Noble Purpose Lisa Earle McLeod,2020-09-09 Don't let anyone tell you that you have to and Texas this book examines how drive ins were integrated into local communities and the film industry and reveals the importance and range of drive in programmes that were often close to that of their indoor neighbours Life in the Outback of America Fred and Joyce Evans, 2025-01-02 A compelling new book Life in the Outback of America Things Take Time shares the inspiring life journey of Fred and Joyce Evans as told to Jeremy Fisher This heartfelt memoir takes readers deep into North Dakota's Little Knife River Valley where grit determination and faith form the bedrock of an extraordinary family story rooted in the timeless values of ranch life in America's heartland With chapters recounting their upbringing marriage family and entrepreneurial successes Fred and Joyce Evans story offers not only a glimpse into ranching life but also valuable insights into leadership community building and spirituality Spanning decades from a time of one room schoolhouses and homestead shacks to today Life in the Outback of America weaves together tales of hardship and triumph connecting past generations pioneering spirit with modern achievements Highlights of the book include The Finnish concept of sisu a core value in the Evans lives Stories of community mentorship and faith driven resilience Insights into ranching farming and entrepreneurial successes that include North Dakota's oil industry A foreword by their daughter Danita Bye celebrating her parents enduring legacy This book represents more than my parents life stories It's an entrepreneurial guide a source of leadership wisdom and spiritual encouragement Their legacy is a gift writes Bye in the foreword Life in the Outback of America Things Take Time is a testament to the strength of marital and family bonds the power of faith and the resilience required to overcome life's challenges all with a relatable and lighthearted spirit that adds richness to the Evans inspiring journey True South Jim Auchmuty, Lea Donosky, Doug Monroe, 1994 Since it began four years ago in the Atlanta Journal and Constitution the True South column has offered eye opening observations on the icons traditions and cultural ties that make the South the South This sparkling collection of True South essays articles and remembrances weaves a fascinating tapestry of America's most colorful region Los Angeles Magazine, 2003-10 Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature Our combination of award winning feature writing investigative reporting service journalism and design covers the people lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and architecture and news that define Southern California Started in the spring of 1961 Los Angeles magazine has been addressing the needs and interests of our region for 48 years The magazine continues to be the definitive resource for an affluent population that is intensely interested in a lifestyle that is uniquely Southern Californian Global Neorealism Saverio Giovacchini, Robert Sklar, 2011-10-11 Contributions by Nathaniel Brennan Luca Caminati Silvia Carlorosi Caroline Eades Saverio Giovacchini Paula Halperin Neepa Majumdar Mariano Mestman Hamid Naficy Sada Niang Masha Salazkina Sarah Sarzynski Robert Sklar and Vito Zagarrio Intellectual cultural and film historians have long considered neorealism the founding block of post World War II Italian cinema Neorealism the traditional story goes was an Italian film style born in the second postwar period and aimed at recovering the reality of Italy after the sugarcoated moving images of fascism Lasting from 1945 to the early 1950s

neorealism produced world renowned masterpieces such as Roberto Rossellini's Roma città aperta Rome Open City 1945 and Vittorio De Sica's Ladri di biciclette Bicycle Thieves 1947 These films won some of the most prestigious film awards of the immediate postwar period and influenced world cinema This collection brings together distinguished film scholars and cultural historians to complicate this nation based approach to the history of neorealism The traditional story notwithstanding the meaning and the origins of the term are problematic What does neorealism really mean and how Italian is it Italian filmmakers were wary of using the term and Rossellini preferred realism Many filmmakers confessed to having greatly borrowed from other cinemas including French Soviet and American Divided into three sections Global Neorealism examines the history of this film style from the 1930s to the 1970s using a global and international perspective The first section examines the origins of neorealism in the international debate about realist esthetics in the 1930s The second section discusses how this debate about realism was Italianized and coalesced into Italian neorealism and explores how critics and film distributors participated in coining the term Finally the third section looks at neorealism's success outside of Italy and examines how film cultures in Latin America Africa Asia and the United States adjusted the style to their national and regional situations
