Filipino Studies Martin F. Manalansan, Augusto Espiritu, 2016-05-10 After years of occupying a vexed position in the American academy Philippine studies has come into its own emerging as a trenchant and dynamic space of inquiry Filipino Studies is a field defining collection of vibrant voices critical perspectives and provocative ideas about the cultural political and economic state of the Philippines and its diaspora Traversing issues of colonialism neoliberalism globalization and nationalism this volume examines not only the past and present position of the Philippines and its people but also advances new frameworks for re conceptualizing this growing field Written by a prestigious lineup of international scholars grappling with the legacies of colonialism and imperial power the essays examine both the genealogy of the Philippines hyphenated identity as well as the future trajectory of the field Hailing from multiple disciplines in the humanities and social sciences the contributors revisit and contest traditional renditions of Philippine colonial histories from racial formations and the Japanese occupation to the Cold War and independence from the United States Whether addressing the contested memories of World War II the voyage of Filipino men and women into the U S metropole or migrant labor and the notion of home the assembled essays tease out the links between the past and present with a hopeful longing for various futures Filipino Studies makes bold declarations about the productive frameworks that open up new archives and innovative landscapes of knowledge for Filipino and Filipino American Studies

Nunley, 2007 This study offers the first book length exploration of travel narratives by nineteenth century Spanish authors Focusing on texts produced during a crucial period in the development of Spain s modern consciousness at the close of its imperial age Scripted Geographies shows how writers strategies of travel representation reflected and participated in this process of cultural transformation The first two chapters devoted to travel within Europe explore constructions of Spain s sometimes problematic encounter with Western society and traditions The final chapters shift to orientalist travel allowing reflection on how Spanish renderings of the non Western other intersect with patterns found in the better known corpus of orientalist literature produced in then ascendant imperial powers like Britain and France These textual constructions of cultural difference reflect at a profound level their authors preoccupations and hopes for Spain as well as their strong awareness of both the powers and dangers inherent in the process of representing real world experience via language Professor of Spanish at the University of Vermont Catalog University of Texas.
