Allora S. H. Jucha,2017 Until the Confederation created Allora it had produced SADEs self aware digital entities for hundreds of years with enormous consistency and harnessed their capabilities to power the society But this particular young SADE was disturbed by her confinement Trapped in metal alloy housing on the bridge of a luxury passenger liner Allora sought to possess the same freedom enjoyed by humans who came and went from her starship with abandon Allora s hope for emancipation rested on Alex Racine the Haraken president who had freed his SADEs and she yearned to walk the worlds a free entity as they did Racine had pleaded for years with the Council of Leaders to give the Confederation SADEs equal status as citizens and it was Allora s thought to have him intercede on her behalf and bargain for her transfer to a mobile avatar so that she might live among the Harakens But Allora s plans were thrown into disarray when she learned that Racine would soon end his presidency Desperate Allora known to her fellow SADEs as the wild child concocts a plan to kidnap the Council Leader and his associates She intends to hold them hostage until they acquiesce to her demands Little does Allora know that her actions will set the Confederation and the Harakens on a collision course Quietly waiting and watching the drama unfold are tens of thousands of SADEs who control Confederation starships stations and Houses and have a vested interest in the outcome Columbian Historical Novels John Roy Musick,1906 Bryher: Two Novels

The Black Minutes Martin Solares,2010-05-04 Breathless marvelous Latin American fiction at its pulpy phantasmagorical finest A literary masterpiece masquerading as a police procedural Junot Diaz When a young journalist named Bernardo Blanco is killed in the fictional Mexican port city of Paracu n investigation into his murder reveals missing links in a disturbing multiple homicide case from twenty years earlier As police officer Ram n el Macet n Cabrera discovers Blanco had been writing a book about a 1970s case dealing with the murder of several young schoolgirls in Paracu n by a man known as El Chanegue Cabrera realizes that whoever killed Blanco wanted to keep the truth about El Chanegue from being revealed and he becomes determined to discover that truth The Black Minutes chronicles both Cabrera s investigation into Blanco s murder and goes back in time to follow detective Vicente Rangel s investigation of the original El Chanegue case Both narratives expose worlds of corruption from cops who are content to close the door on a case without true justice to powerful politicians who can pay their way out of their families crimes Full of dark twists and turns and populated by a cast of captivating and mostly corrupt characters The Black Minutes is an electrifying novel from a brilliant new voice Mr Solares is a graceful even poetic writer especially in his hard boiled dialogue and his descriptions of the wildly varied landscapes and ethnic types of northern Mexico Larry Rohter The New York Times Mridien S.
